Fraser Inches Higher

By The Canadian Press

Dike patrols were placed on a 24-hour on-call basis today in most areas of the lower Fraser Valley as continued warm weather pushed the Fraser River inches higher.

William Meighan of the valley diking commission said, however, there is not yet any cause for alarm.

"The situation is well in hand," he said.

A number of families left their homes when the silt-laden river flowed over unprotected land near Agassiz but in other areas the river had not yet wetted dike walls.

At Mission, about 40 miles east of Vancouver, where the dike commission level gauge is located, the Fraser had risen to 21.4 feet today compared with a level of 20.7 feet Tuesday. The danger level is considered to be 23.5 feet.

The 240 miles of dikes in the valley are holding firm in areas where the eroding water is

IWA, Firms Both Okay Woods Pact

Employers and coast woodworkers today announced their acceptance of a conciliation proposal for a new two-year contract.

Of 26,000 lumberworkers, in eight locals, 21,482 voted in a secret ballot counted Tuesday. Sixty per cent favored acceptance.

The count was:

YES—12,880.

NO—8,607.

Announcing the result, IWA regional president Jack Moore said the negotiating committee will now begin discussions with Forest Industrial Relations to draft contract clauses and sign the two-year agreement.

'COSTLY TERMS'

Shortly after the IWA announcement, Forest Industrial Relations Ltd., representing operators in the coast lumber industry, said it accepted the terms of the proposal.

However, president John Billings said the settlement is a costly one.

"In agreeing to further wage rate advances a year hence," he said, "employers are gambling on uncertain market conditions.

"They must hope the demand for products and a continuation of the existing favorable exchange rates will permit them to absorb the second as well as the immediate round of wage increases."

PROPOSALS OUTLINED

The conciliation proposal by officer E. P. Fisher, provides:

- 15 cents per hour increase June 15.
- 13 cents per hours June 15, 1965.
- An additional 15 cents June 15 for tradesmen in 27 classifications except firemen and improvers.
- Weekly sickness and accident indemnity payments worth $50 per week for 39 weeks.
- Payday every second week.

Present basic rate is $2.08 per hour, with $2.64 for tradesmen.

ENDS STRIKE THREAT

Result of the vote ends the fear of a woodworkers' strike following a heated campaign by IWA factions.

Vancouver's 7,000-man local led by Syd Thompson followed his direction and voted rejection "by several hundred," but others about-faced on their leaders' rejection recommendations.

Jack Moore claimed the proposed settlement was the best yet obtained by the IWA, and one that brought parity with the U.S. Pacific Northwest fir belt.

The IWA originally demanded 40 cents an hour increase, plus 30 cents for tradesmen.

INDIANS DROP PGE PICKETS

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Squamish Indian band have agreed to withdraw their two-day picket line from the Pacific Great Eastern Railway in North Vancouver.

The band was protesting the CNR unloading material along the right-of-way the Indians sold to the PGE in 1912. (See story Page 15.)

Montana Flood Eases But Threat Continues

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP) Montana's floodwaters receded today leaving behind a vast trail of death and destruction.

At least 30 persons were dead, 38 missing and thousands homeless as the massive flood crest moved down the Missouri River over lowland areas past Great Falls, the state's largest city.

As deadly floodwaters inched downward at Great Falls, weather observers expressed concern about conditions on the Missouri 200 miles upstream from Great Falls.

Normally-shallow mountain streams still were running like rivers today on both sides of the Continental Divide, pouring thousands of cubic feet a second into upstream flood control reservoirs.

A big dam at Canyon Ferry near Helena held back the heavy upstream flow to allow downstream crests to recede. Upstream crests are not ex-

Albertans Returning To Flood-Hit Homes

CALGARY (CP)—Nearly 250 Indians today trekked back to their flood-hit homes along the banks of the Belly River in southwestern Alberta.

The Indians, residents of the Blood Reserve at Standoff, were forced to flee Tuesday as the Belly and Waterton Rivers burst their banks under heavy weekend rains and runoff from snow on the eastern slopes of the Rocky Mountains.

Hundreds of other persons at Waterton Lakes National Park and Cardston fled their homes as lakes, rivers and streams spilled water from a six-inch rainfall.

No injuries were reported but damage was expected to exceed $1,000,000 — most of it in the summer resort area of the national park townsite.

A colony of Hutterites a few miles north of Standoff was also threatened Tuesday and all 150 residents fled to higher ground.

About 300 sheep and lambs owned by farmers Dale Wood and Keith Olsen were reported drowned.

SEATTLE (AP)—An arsonist set 12 fires in professors' offices in More Hall, the University of Washington civil engineering building, early today.

TEEN-AGE SEX—A SURVEY

If They 'Had to Marry' Couples Seldom Stay Wed

(Miss Gilroy, a member of the Times staff, is also a registered nurse, and spent six years in this profession before turning to journalism. As a nurse she has practical knowledge of the problem on which she writes.)

By MARGE GILROY

Illegitimate babies—teen-age marriages—divorces—they are all recorded by the Bureau of Statistics.

But it is the increase in the number of "shotgun" weddings, for which there are no official statistics, that have given cause for alarm to many community-minded citizens.

No subject is discussed more by the public than the number of pregnant young girls who "had to get married".

Today the clergy, social workers, laymen and professionals are concerned with trying to prevent teen-age marriages which have little hope of lasting.

Statistics do not show how many girls are pregnant at the altar, but they do show:

- A smaller percentage of teen-agers between the ages of 15 and 19 were married in 1961 than in 1951.

Out of Wedlock

- There were 116 more babies born out of wedlock in British Columbia in the fiscal year 1962-63 than in the previous year, but nine less than the year before.
- Of the total 2,601 illegitimate babies born, 1,254 were born to women between the ages of 20 and 29 and 781 to girls between 15 and 19.
- A home for unmarried mothers in Vancouver reported an increase of 13 per cent in the number of girls cared for last year.
- Provincial health reports point out an increase in the incidence of venereal disease.

On top of this, unofficial reports from the clergy indicate an increase in the number of pregnant girls getting married.

As for divorces, sociologists have shown that the divorce rate decreases in proportion to the ages of the couple at the time of marriage. The marriage of a 19-year-old couple has one and half times more chance of lasting than the marriage of a couple at 17.

Two teen-agers, one who was unmarried and pregnant

U.S. ACHIEVES 'BREAK' IN NUCLEAR POWER

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—President Johnson said today the United States has achieved an economic breakthrough in producing power from large-scale nuclear reactors. He said this knowledge will be shared with the world.

Johnson cited advancements in power reactor technology in addressing commencement exercises at Holy Cross College.

He said the development of the large-scale reactor offers the dramatic prospect of transforming sea water into water suitable for human consumption and industrial use.

FLAG MAY BE CHANGED

Single Leaf Okay by Mike

OTTAWA (CP)—The government was reported today to be ready to accept a single maple leaf in place of the three-leaf cluster for the Canadian flag provided there is majority Commons support.

Well-informed sources said the government does not regard as essential the three-leaf cluster it originally proposed.

The New Democratic Party announced earlier in the day it will propose a single red maple leaf design.

Andrew Brewin, chairman of the NDP caucus and MP for Toronto Greenwood, announced following a meeting of NDP members that the party will take all possible steps to have a single maple leaf, as a symbol of unity, substituted for the three-leaf design presented by Prime Minister Pearson.

A source close to the government said that the three-leaf cluster was included in the proposed Canadian flag design simply because it was part of the official heraldry of Canada.

CHANGE ACCEPTALBE

The source indicated that the government has not taken the position that the matter would involve confidence in the government if a majority of MPs want to alter the design.

Mr. Brewin said the NDP caucus also will urge the government to split the flag resolution so that there may be separate votes on the Canadian flag and on the Union Jack.

U.S. Moves To Prevent Cyprus War

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—The United States moved urgently today to avert the possibility of war between Greece and Turkey over Cyprus.

President Johnson ordered undersecretary of state George W. Ball to cancel plans to return to Washington from Geneva tonight and to go instead to Athens and then Ankara.

The action came as the United Nations reported the eruption of heavy new fighting between feuding Greek and Turkish Cypriots in the Kyrenia Mountains.

Over the weekend Johnson has invited Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu to Washington to discuss the dispute which has brought Turkey and Greece, both members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to the brink of war.

(Inonu did not accept or reject the invitation. He said "if it will be useful for us, then we'll go—but nothing definite has been decided yet." Turkish foreign office sources said it was unlikely Inonu would go unless the United States agreed to discuss a Turkish proposal for a Cyprus federation.)

Goldwater Votes With Southerners

(Times News Services)

WASHINGTON—The U.S. Senate gagged a southern filibuster today in a historic 71-to-29 vote that cleared the way for passage of the strongest civil rights bill in modern U.S. history.

BYRD
. . . spoke all night

The vote to invoke closure, or limitation of debate, came at a tense session, which produced the rare spectacle of a full turnout.

All 100 senators were present and voting. Ailing Sen. Clair Engle (D—Calif.) came by ambulance to cast his vote —an aye for closure.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the likely GOP standard bearer against President Lyndon Johnson in November, voted with the southern segregationist bloc against the motion.

Under senate rules, closure required a two-thirds majority of those present and voting—a minimum of 67 votes with every senator on hand as today. The final margin was four votes more than required, a result that surprised even sponsors of the move.

GALLERIES PACKED

Both sides had forecast a very close vote and the galleries were packed as the drama unfolded.

The Southern filibuster against the bill had been under way for 75 days—an all-time record — when the Senate finally decided to invoke its rarely-applied closure rule which limits further debate to one hour per senator.

The vote followed an all-night session at which Senator Robert C. Byrd, West Virginia Democrat, made a marathon speech attacking the bill and urging his colleagues not to shut off the debate.

On the House side of the capitol, Speaker John W. McCormack voiced confidence the Senate will now proceed to pass the bill in a form acceptable to House members who approved their own version weeks ago.

BANS DISCRIMINATION

The bill would force whites to open restaurants, theatres, retail shops and motels to Negroes. In states which force Negroes to pass complicated educational tests before they can register to vote, the bill provides that any person with a sixth-grade education can vote in a federal election.

Strengthening the power of the U.S. attorney-general, the legislation allows him to bring court charges against states or local governments which persist in banning Negroes from parks, playgrounds, swimming pools and libraries. The attorney-

Rail Non-Ops Accept Board Wage Award

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada's non-operating railway unions today accepted a conciliation board's majority report calling for a 19.1 cent-an-hour increase for 100,000 members over a two-year contract.

The 111-member general conference committee—the policy making body of the unions—unanimously accepted the report proposed by Mr. Justice F. Craig Munroe of Vancouver, conciliation board chairman, and union nominee David Lewis.

"We feel the conciliation board recommendations are sufficiently substantial to accept," Frank Hall, chairman of the union's joint negotiating committee, told reporters following the meeting.

The railways have not yet made known their position on the report.

CANADIAN ATTITUDE TO ERHARD VISIT

By DAVE McINTOSH

OTTAWA (CP)—Let's not be beastly to the Germans any longer about sums up the main attitude of the Canadian government in summit talks today between the two countries, informants said. (See story on page 3.)

One source said the talks between West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and Prime Minister Pearson and the two external affairs minister, Gerhard Schroeder and Paul Martin, present a chance for Canada to develop a new atmosphere in relations with Germany.

The source said that the talks in Canada's view have three main themes:

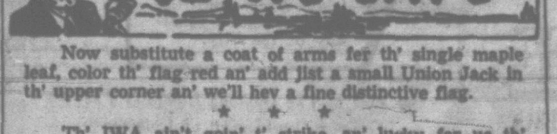
1. The need to create a modern relation between the Canadian and German economies and democratic societies.

2. Development and maintenance of good bilateral relations between the two countries as one means to strengthen the entire Atlantic partnership.

3. Improvement of relations with Russia as a means to achieve German reunification, which Canada supports — as long as it is by peaceful means.

Mr. Pearson expressed understanding and support for West Germany in every peaceful effort to reunite the German people.

He and the chancellor agreed a solution to the German problem would open up a real possibility for improvement in East-West relations.



Now substitute a coat of arms fer th' single maple leaf, color th' flag red an' add jist a small Union Jack in th' upper corner an' we'll hev a fine distinctive flag.

ROUND-A-BOUT

By DOUGLAS HILLSIDE

If your neighbor lets his dandelions grow to seed and drift over your fence to infest your carefully-weeded lawn, you can always retaliate by mowing your lawn at 6:30 Sunday morning.

But what happens when your neighbor is the municipality, for example Oak Bay, and it allows tent caterpillars to live, thrive and emigrate to your yard to spread the cause of tent-caterpillarism?

That's the question of residents of Lansdowne Road next to Uplands Park where the yellow fuzzies have set up more tents than a six-ring circus.

Perhaps if a few tents were clipped off and deposited on the lawns of municipal councillors . . .

We've been criticized for failing to single out a pair of top money winners in the University of Victoria prize list issued Tuesday.

Inadvertently dropped from the top part of the story, but listed lower down, were E. Jane Turner, 3110 Midland, and Sydney Bulman-Fleming, 2630 Dalhousie.

Miss Turner won a $250 Edgar Ferrar Corbet scholarship and $100 Alan Pratt memorial scholarship, and Bulman-Fleming was granted a $150 Island Tug and Barge scholarship and $250 Sidney Roofing scholarship, now awarded by MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd.

Canada's first Indian parliamentarian and a Victoria familiar, Frank Calder, NDP MLA for Atlin, has written us about one solution to future problems of the native population.

"Logger" Calder

Noting the ever-decreasing opportunities for his race in the fishing industry, he tells how the 2,000 people of the Nass villages are branching into new fields.

Mr. Calder is president of the Nishga Tribal Council which has recently set up the Nishga Pacific Logging Company.

The Indian councils of Aiyansh, Canyon City, Greenville and Kincolith formed the company, owned and controlled by their members to develop forestry reserves on their lands.

"Local members of the tribe will be trained to carry on all the logging operations," Mr. Calder writes. A qualified forester will be employed to give guidance in modern methods, conservation, marketing and reforestation. Indians are to have employment priority.

"The time has arrived that the Indian laborer must realize the importance of training and adjustment. He must be confident and determined and accept initiative," Mr. Calder adds.

The company recently advised the B.C. minister of forests that eventually it will enter competition for trees off the Indian lands and wants a fair shake in bidding.

building up but some seepage was reported.

Seven families moved out of their homes—some taking their cattle with them—as water swirled over low pasture land at Agassiz and cut off their homes, which sat on higher ground.

George Douglas, with vivid memories of the 1948 floods, led his wife and four children to a friend's home when water two feet deep flowed up to his home's foundations. Mr. Douglas said he lost a home a few miles away in the 1948 flood.

In northern parts of the province, swollen rivers cut highway links and threatened to halt traffic on the CNR line to coastal Prince Rupert.

Temperatures in the 80s increased the snow melt and the flow of the Skeena and Bulkley Rivers. The Skeena was reported continuing to rise at Terrace, cutting the northern trans-provincial highway and stranding motorists.

Twenty-five automobiles, most of them belonging to American tourists, were towed across two flooded stretches of the highway early today before it was closed to further traffic.

Flood waters from the Skeena River covered the highway 50 miles east and west of Terrace with more than two and a half feet of water.

Four Skeena River ferries, connecting farming communities with the highway, have been tied up because of driftwood in the rampaging river.

Highways department engineer Pat O'Toole said department crews began the auto towing job after the water became too high for ordinary cars to drive through.

Two trucks were used at each location for the towing job.

Civil defence officials said there is no flood danger to Terrace at present but some homes outside the community will have to be evacuated if the river continues to rise.

At Prince George the Fraser River fell slightly again today for the second day in a row. But officials said it could be expected to rise again when the snow-melting effects of recent warm weather is felt.

Philip Wanted In Court

LONDON (AP)—A crusader for highway safety says he will bring court action against Prince Philip and the other driver in the weekend royal collision unless the police prosecute both men.

Retired Navy Lt.-Cmdr. William Boaks, 60, had notice of his intent served on the Queen's husband, the other driver, William Cooper, and the chief constable of Berkshire County, where the collision occurred Saturday.

Boaks said he would file a private prosecution unless the police start proceedings within six months.

"If Cooper only is prosecuted I will go to court and ask them to summon Prince Philip as well," Boaks said. "If they refuse, I will go to the high court."

Drivers involved in accidents should be brought before the court, regardless of their position he added.

The prince was driving and Queen Elizabeth was riding in the back seat of the Rover sedan when it and Cooper's Ford collided.

No one was hurt, Cooper's vehicle — bought recently for less than $300—was a total loss, and the royal car was slightly damaged.

"I am trying to impress on drivers consideration for the other man," Boaks said. "Ten per cent of all road accidents in London occur from someone turning right, which is what happened in this case."

pected before Friday on the Missouri.

"We cannot say at the present time just how dangerous this upstream flooding will be," Richard Dightman, government river district official, said. "However, it is not expected to be too serious."

BRIDGE WASHED OUT

There was no immediate danger to communities downstream from Great Falls although officials evacuated Loma, a community of 200 at the junction of the Teton River and the Missouri.

Pounding waters washed out a major highway bridge at Loma, leaving only one major highway open into Great Falls. Two thousand were homeless in Great Falls.

Most of the dead were north of Valier on the Blackfeet reservation. A civil defence official, Dick Kullberg of Cutbank, said he counted 26 bodies. Other dead included two motorists who were killed when their vehicles plunged into roaring streams soon after the flooding started Monday.

Damage in the floods was in the millions of dollars and Governor Tim Babcock, who said it would be at least $10,000,000, appointed disaster assessment teams to make precise estimates.

SERIOUS POLLUTION

Health Chief Fears Typhoid

Metro health board Tuesday was told a serious pollution problem in Greater Victoria caused by inadequate sewage facilities is growing worse and could set the stage for a typhoid epidemic.

Chief medical health officer Dr. John Whitbread said no improvement in the situation has occurred since his first warning to municipalities more than a year ago. In fact, he added, new sources have been discovered at Brentwood Bay and at the Colwood Shopping Plaza.

He said four typhoid cases in Burnaby in 1959 have been traced to the "open ditch" sewers draining septic tanks there. These also are prevalent in Saanich and other areas here.

SPREAD QUICKLY

Typhoid carriers could be present at any time in this area because of the large number of tourists that come here and the disease could be quickly spread through the polluted ditches and streams criss-crossing this area.

Dr. Whitbread said just such a situation occurred last year in the Swiss tourist town of Zermatt which resulted in an epidemic of 450 typhoid cases including four deaths.

"Tourists fled from the town, which was shut down and quarantined, at a time which should have been the height of the tourist season," he said. "The typhoid epidemic did more than close down Zermatt. The Swiss felt the adverse publicity might affect tourism for years to come."

He urged favorable response by municipal leaders to a suggestion by Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell that they form a metro sewer board.

AWAIT TALKS

Tuesday night Saanich council decided to defer decision on planning sewers for most of the Gordon Head area until after a conference scheduled for June 20 with Mr. Campbell.

That same day ratepayers in a smaller area between Gordon Head Road and Feltham will vote on a $65,000 sewer project which municipal engineer Neville Life said should not be held up. But he suggested a six-months wait on the larger program to see if a Greater Victoria study materializes from the June 20 conference.

Royal Jubilee Lauded For Helping Chinese

Metro health board Tuesday commended Royal Jubilee Hospital for making room for 22 patients from the Chinese Hospital while a two-month renovation program is underway in the lower Herald Street institution.

They are all elderly, chronic care cases rather than acutely ill and the board said it had had difficulty finding temporary accommodation for them as a group until Royal Jubilee came to the rescue.

About $25,000 will be spent on renovating and modernizing the interior of the private hospital operated by the Chinese Benevolent Society.

An analysis of a welter of reports on drainage from the Hartland Road garbage dump will be sent to the Prospect Lake District Community Association which claims a private engineering survey showed it drains effluent into Kilarney Lake and thence into Prospect Lake.

Letters from the provincial public health engineering branch said the drainage from the present dump site runs the opposite way and not towards Prospect Lake.

Chief metro MHO Dr. John Whitbread said the private engineering survey indicated only that a long dormant dump site near the present operation drains towards Prospect Lake.

He added that the community association's own consultants' findings confirmed that septic tanks surrounding Prospect Lake, and bird and animal droppings were the causes of pollution in the lake.

He said this was proven by the fact that the highest bacteria counts invariably occur during the dry July and August period —when the lake is most used by people—and there is no drainage in any direction from the dump.

Bacteria counts also were higher in Prospect Lake than Kilarney Lake by the PLDCA's own figures—the reverse of the situation that would be created if polluted effluent flowed from the dump into Kilarney and finally into Prospect Lake.

He said if sewers do not soon replace the lakeside septic tanks, the water will be unfit for swimming. It already has been declared unfit for drinking unless boiled first.

Board members decided to oppose any application by Langford subdivider J. L. Phelps for permission to dump treated sewage effluent into Mill Stream from his 900-lot area on the Trans-Canada Highway north of Thetis Lake.

---

A privately-operated garbage dump on Happy Valley Road has been ordered shut down because it does not meet sanitation requirements, board was informed.

Arms Talks Full of Hope, No Progress

GENEVA (AP) — The 17-nation disarmament conference opened a new session Tuesday, apparently in the same deadlock as when it adjourned six weeks ago.

The United States and the Soviet Union opened the session with declarations of good will and optimism, but there was little in the formal speeches to foreshadow imminent progress.

Soviet deputy foreign minister, Valerian Zorin, claimed at a press conference he has some new proposals up his sleeve. But none of them came out in his speech to the conference, an almost exact repetition of Soviet arguments repeatedly rejected by the West.

Zorin renewed Soviet attacks on the proposed multilateral nuclear fleet of the North Atlantic Treaty powers. He bluntly told his press conference there was "absolutely no possibility of agreement" to stop the spread of nuclear weapons unless the plan is scrapped.

FIRST WOMAN IN SPACE

Valentina Orbits Into Motherhood

MOSCOW (AP)—The world's only space woman, Valentina Nikolayevna - Tereshkova, gave birth to a daughter Monday, an official announcement said today. Mother and daughter are well.

The child of the blonde, who orbited the earth 48 times last June, and her spaceman husband, Andriyan Nikolayev, weighed three kilos, 100 grams (six pounds, 13½ ounces), said usually reliable sources.

The sources said the baby was delivered by Caesarian resection.

Before her marriage, Valentina orbited the earth with Valery Bykovsky, who was riding a twin space ship, in June, 1963. Nikolayev, also in a flight of twin space ships, orbited the earth in August, 1962, with Lt.-Col. Pavel Popovich.

Valentina, whose married name according to Russian custom is Nikolayevna-Tereshkova, is 27. Nikolayev is 34.

During her pregnancy Valentina studied at the Military Aeronautic Engineering Academy and recently passed examinations in English and mathematics.

Although the baby is the first born to an astronaut couple, Gherman Titov was the first astronaut to become a father after orbiting the earth. His wife gave birth to a daughter, Tanya, last September.

ERHARD MEETING WITH PEARSON

'Don't Pull Out,' Germany Urges

OTTAWA (CP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany has indicated to Prime Minister Pearson that there would be alarm in his country about any withdrawal of Canadian forces from Germany.

Informants said this was one of the points made by the chancellor in his 47-minute talk with Mr. Pearson Tuesday after his arrival here for a quick visit before going to Washington Thursday morning.

A 6,200-man Canadian Infantry Brigade and six of the eight squadrons of the RCAF Air Division in Europe are stationed in West Germany.

Sources said Germany would not regard their withdrawal as militarily significant, apart possibly from the six bomber squadrons, but would be worried about reaction of the United States, which maintains large forces in Germany.

Other subjects discussed in the first meeting were Canadian-German relations, including the possibilities of increased trade, the European Common Market, co-operation by the two countries in NATO and a Canada - sponsored international peacekeeping force.

Dr. Erhard was reported by a Canadian spokesman to have shown much interest in and sympathy for Mr. Pearson's plan for a peacekeeping force which would be held in readiness for United Nations duty anywhere in the world.

Dr. Erhard expressed gratitude for Mr. Martin's May 22 Commons statement that Canada supports West Germany in every peaceful effort to reunite the country.

LONDON (Reuters)—West Germany has agreed to pay the British government £1,000,000 ($3,000,000) to compensate certain British victims of Nazi persecution, Foreign Secretary R. A. Butler told the House of Commons Tuesday.

The Beaver

FOR THOSE WHO LIVED within the periphery of Lord Beaverbrook's influence it must seem, now that he has died, that a whirlpool in which they were carried has suddenly come to rest.

He was a man of restless energy, restless ambition, restless achievement. He was a man of extremes, of hotly held opinions and hotly pursued objectives. He sought high places, yet he did not forget the lowly ones from which he came. He slew dragons — and anyone who disagreed with him could be held a dragon; yet he backed with lifelong loyalty those to whom he gave his friendship, whether an abdicating king or the humble people of his boyhood days.

At 85 The Beaver had done just about everything that a man could do in one lifetime. He must have died unwillingly—his unquenchable spirit would see to that. But he must have felt satisfaction in the going too, from the knowledge that he had shaken up dovecotes and chancelleries, rattled the thoughts of nations, beaten the great at their own games, and in its hour of dire need played a vital role in saving the Commonwealth and Empire whose cause he forever championed.

Max Aitken had many friends who swore by him. Hundreds paid him tribute only a fortnight ago at a great birthday dinner in London. He had equally enthusiastic enemies—it was inevitable in so outspoken a man—and he appeared at times to enjoy them as much as he did his friends. But friends or enemies agreed on one thing—The Beaver had courage, he had tenacity and undying spirit in fighting for his beliefs. Often the question of whether such beliefs were right or wrong seemed to become secondary to the spectacle of his furious presentation of them. Under such circumstances, defeat of a campaign could become merely incidental.

The same total deployment that Beaverbrook devoted to becoming a multimillionaire before he was 30 he later devoted to becoming a Fleet Street baron whose "express" had a circulation of 4½ millions. He applied the same tactics of relentlessness, unorthodoxy, initiative and unstoppable determination in directing a crash program to provide the United Kingdom with aircraft for use in the Battle of Britain. It was a unique contribution of major, probably critical, importance which can never be diminished, nor divorced from the heroic events of that "finest hour".

Though his career lay far afield, Beaverbrook never forgot his Canadian origin. In recent years he carried out generous plans for New Brunswick, including an art gallery and priceless treasures to grace its walls.

He made himself a big man in an era of big men. Now, by the Saint John and the Miramichi, as by the Thames, his voice and his presence will be missed.

To Plug the 'Brain Drain'

MR. JOSEPH MIGNAULT, McGill graduate and executive head of a Canadian electronic concern, and Mr. R. H. Keefler, president of another major Canadian company in the electrical field, have recently made known their concern over Canada's "brain drain."

They have found—as hundreds of others have found—that a very high percentage of graduate students, scientists and professional people are being drawn from this country by higher rewards in the United States.

Each suggests that more funds be spent in this country for the encouragement of advanced study and research, and each emphasizes the loss to Canada when its bright people journey southward.

Mr. Mignault offers three suggestions. "Let us encourage our talented youth," he says. "Let us recognize our talented youth. Finally, let us compensate them properly." These inducements, he believes, will hold the "brains" in Canada.

This may be so. But when Canada embarks on its inducement program—or intensifies it to the point where it becomes much more attractive than it seems to be to many Canadians today—Canada will be entering a highly competitive field. The United States has been offering attractions irresistible to many of our young people who have shown ability in Canadian universities and moved south to cash in on talents they have developed here.

The point seems rudimentary that if Canada hopes to hold those who are drawn to the United States it must strengthen its own magnet. This means, in most cases, two things: higher pay and more appealing working and living conditions.

It seems obvious that no Canadian will wish to move from this country to the United States, except to increase his experience, if Canada holds greater attractions for him. As the game is played nowadays, attractions mean money and the chance to work and live under conditions most agreeable to the individual. It's as simple as that—and just as costly.

But Mr. Mignault and Mr. Keefler might profitably look at the issue from another point of view. While Canadians of outstanding talent, particularly in the sciences, tend to drift to the United States, a compensating number of gifted and talented people are drifting toward Canada from other lands where what they consider to be the elements of good living are less apparent to them. In fact, a survey conducted among academic personnel at the University of British Columbia a few years ago revealed the exchange to be almost in balance — and included among the immigrants were some Americans.

If the two gentlemen who spoke in recent days on the subject can inspire industry and business, along with government, to step up the attractions to the skilled and bright in general, not only will more Canadians be held here; more highly competent foreigners will be attracted.

Convince the young and the bright that this is the land of opportunity—which seems to mean the place where they can make a lot of money under agreeable conditions—and the "brain drain" will be plugged.

No Side Issues

WHETHER THE APPLICATION of the Jehovah's Witnesses sect to build a church on Joan Crescent is settled in city council or in the courts, one thing should be made clear. There must be no attempts by either the applicants or those opposed to twist the case into a "religious rights" issue. The only points in question concern zoning regulations, maintenance of the neighborhood's amenities, conformity to law, consideration for existing residents' rights, and similar matters.

It is too easy to adopt the attitude that if a building permit is refused for a church that this constitutes religious discrimination. The city is not concerned with the right to worship, but it has jurisdiction over where such worship may be carried on. There may be many reasons why a church is or is not a suitable structure for a given location, but let's not have a great hue and cry about religious freedom. It is interpretation of the zoning regulations, not of the Bible, that is in question, so let the matter be settled on that basis.

A Warning on Leisure

AN OLD PROBLEM, BUT ONE which becomes increasingly important with every step toward automation, has been phrased colloquially by a distinguished American industrialist.

"Watch the guy who takes a brief case home at night," he says. "When the job stops, he stops."

In other words, those people busy and happy in their work who find no time to develop pursuits of leisure are headed for immediate trouble when they reach retirement. And more people are going to reach retirement earlier as the modern trend in industry continues.

The point made by the American industrialist has been emphasized by many authorities in the field. They are trying to encourage the busily employed to give thought and planning to the years when they will no longer be engaged in the pursuits which occupy their interest, time and energy during their working life.

The fact should be widely understood—and possibly it is—that when the demands on mind, spirit and energy made by a job are lifted, some other demands have to be substituted to avoid rapid deterioration. But the fact is also widely recognized that too many people consider this problem one for somebody else. They do not relate it to themselves.

"How dull it is," said Ulysses, "to pause, to make an end, to rust unburnished, not to shine in use."

But it happens to those who fail to prepare for retirement or prolonged leisure—"the guy who takes a brief case home at night."

Bierman, Victoria Daily Times.

FROM CALGARY

By JAMES H. GRAY

Mr. Thatcher Wields the Axe

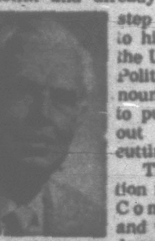
PREMIER Ross Thatcher of Saskatchewan has been in office less than a month and already he has taken a step which may lead to his expulsion from the Union of Canadian Politicians. He has announced he is going to put a public board out of business by cutting off its income.



Gray

The board in question is the Centre For Community Studies and while it is an "independent" organization, it has existed mainly on government grants. By cutting off its income, Mr. Thatcher will starve it to death.

The closing of the Centre is part of the wildest economy wave ever to hit government in Saskatchewan. Mr. Thatcher has started to sell off some of the Crown companies, he has frozen the civil service at its present size, cancelled several CCF appointments and told deputy ministers to start thinking about $20,000,000 a year without reducing services.

Fairly Modest

By Ottawa standards, or even British Columbia standards, the Centre For Community Studies may not seem to be much of a boon-doggle. It employs only between 20 and 30 people, and in six years managed to increase its drain on the public treasury from $25,000 to a peak of only $150,000 a year. Compared to some of the recently established federal boards and commissions, this is bush-league empire building. But it isn't money that is importantly involved here, it is principle; no new government ever abolished an old government's boards or commissions.

Naturally, the political appointees of the previous government get the old heave-ho at the earliest opportunity. But the boards and commissions are kept in good running order, though perhaps "walking order" is more accurately descriptive. The boards and commissions are then reformed as Mackenzie King reformed the Senate, by packing them with enlightened supporters of his own party — the party in power.

Without the lush trappings of the boards and commissions to confer upon the faithful, federal political parties would have to double the size of the Senate. Even so, the Senate has always been deemed second best in prestige and power to some of the commission positions. But with the historic pattern lying in tatters at the feet of Mr. Thatcher, the whole system may be threatened.

Job for Commissioner

The establishment of a centre to study communities was an idea that came to a Saskatchewan Royal Commission almost ten years ago. The first chairman of the Centre For Community Studies was the late chairman of the Royal Commission. This followed the well defined Canadian practice of members of commissions regularly being appointed to man the boards they invent.

The Centre For Community Studies has been studying the communities of Saskatchewan since 1958. In addition to studying the communities, the C.C.S has been a prolific producer of publicity and press releases. These are always couched in modern governmentese which all planners use in preference to English. Here is an example from one CCS release:

"The problem of the adaptive household represented by the farm family on an economic productive unit and by the larger-town family in an expanding or stable service unit: This group can not only aspire to improved housing and amenities, they actively seek the resources for making aspirations effective."

With the death knell of the Centre For Community Studies still echoing, Mr. Thatcher is suddenly faced with the ultimate dilemma of all reforming politicians. If one, why not all? How about all the other boards? The Milk Control Boards, Utility Boards and Civil Defence Boards. Each province has its own particular establishment.

And what about the federal boards of infinite variety and varying ages—The Tariff Board, the International Joint Commission, Board of Grain Commissioners, Board of Broadcast Governors, National Energy Board, naming only a few which come readily to mind.

The National Energy Board has a well defined kinship with the Centre For Community Studies. It too was invented by a royal commission. The chairman of the Borden Commission, Mr. Henry Borden, throughout the hearings of his commission, sought endorsement of his idea of a "Federal Power Commission" for Canada. He could evoke little positive enthusiasm. However, few of the tycoon type witnesses developed much enthusiasm, either, for knocking the chairman's pet notion on the head. So Canada got a National Energy Board which it had got along without very well for 90 years.

Broadcast Governors

Another board the country managed to survive without for 90 years was the Board of Broadcast Governors. It was established ostensibly to improve the quality of broadcasting in Canada and to raise the Canadian content of Canadian programs. Although it has permitted the noise level of private radio stations to be raised to insufferable heights, it seems to have raised little in the way of evidence to justify its existence.

The origins of the other boards are as obscure as their modern justification for existence. Mr. Thatcher, in his boisterous economy drive, and in his assault on government boards, is raising the kind of uproar in Regina that is bound to be heard in Ottawa. Perhaps it has already been heard. Perhaps that is what is behind the stories about Mr. Thatcher being on the outs with the federal Liberals. Perhaps he is already in the process of being read out of the union.

MRS. NOGGINS SEES THE DANGER

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

'Everybody's Thinking Like Crazy'

MY neighbor, Mrs. Alfred Noggins, intimated to me on the bus this morning that she had firm views about the Canadian flag but in matters of such high principle she preferred to maintain a decent silence. As secretary-treasurer of our local Progressive Conservative Association she added that her party's position, in a strictly political sense, had been scandalously misrepresented.

Hutchison

"Mr. Diefenbaker," she explained, "is only workin' to unite the country after Pearson shattered it. I'll unite it, says Dief, without a whisper of prejudice by exposin' every Liberal in the land and 'umiliatin' the whole French Canajian race. I'll keep the flag clean out of politics by forcin' an election. I won't filibuster, you may be sure. I'll jest keep on talkin' till Pearson is driven to the polls.

"Yes, sir, says Dief, I'll avoid all partisanship by destroyin' the gover'mint and takin' its place. I'll put the debate on the 'ighest level by fearlessly denouncin' the character of the prime minister.

Rights of Parlymint

"Moreover, says Dief, I'll defend the 'istoric rights of Parlymint when Pearson 'as the nerve to drag the most vital issues into those sacred precincts as should be above controversy. 'Tis outrageous the way that man violates the constitution every day by askin' the people's elected representatives to face such embarrassin' decisions. That's a crime as my gover'mint never committed.

"Depend upon it, says Dief, I'll resent any reflection on the honor of Parlymint and I regret that it sold itself to Pearson fer a raise in its indemnities. But on second thoughts I withdraw that statement even if it's true because some sensitive members seem to take offence. I can't imagine why.

"Anyways, Pearson is a born waffler and can never make up 'is mind, so day after day 'e brings in definite policies exactly like 'e promised at the last election and scorns all the 'allowed traditions of politics. You never saw me sinkin' to such tyranny.

"Which flag I stand fer, says Dief, is my own private business about which the public 'as no right to inquire but my position is perfectly clear, like always. I stand four square against any flag that Pearson proposes. You can't ask anything fairer than that.

"Now of course," said Mrs. Noggins, "some of us Tories can't quite agree with our beloved chief but we don't care wot 'e does so long as 'e don't succeed. If 'e was to drive us into an election we'd probably lose it but, even worse, we might win it.

Aging Young Men

"Then we'd 'ave Dief on our 'ands indefinitely and wot would 'appen to poor Roblin, Balcer and Fulton as are all waitin', with honorable ambition and steadfast loyalty, fer Dief to quit and give 'em their chance. They won't be young much longer, you know.

"The really wicked thing about Pearson is that 'e's interjuced idears into politics. With no regard for the consequences 'e's started people thinkin' and that's always fatal. Like Uncle 'Erbert uster say when 'e was an alderman in Liverpool, democracy is never in danger except from public thought. Start the people thinkin', says 'Erbert, and you never know where it'll end, most likely in revolution.

"Thought demoralizes politics but Pearson don't care. Why, there was the country all quiet and cosy, nothing wrong with it and only worryin' about its summer 'olidays or some silly American fuss in Vietnam that interests nobody except, perhaps, the 'uman species.

"But no, Pearson 'ad to stir us up jest fer the fun of makin' 'imself unpopular. Why couldn't 'e learn from Dief and let us sleep on in comfort like nachure intended?

"That's the trouble with Pearson, 'e can't find any opinions of 'is own. So every Friday night 'e gives a dinner fer newspaper editors, 'opin' they'll tell 'im wot to do. That man must be desperate. As if the editors knew! Those fellas 'ave no notion about anything or they'd be out doin' some honest work instead of agitatin' the people.

"Well, that chap Douglas Fisher knows better. Bein' a columnist and 'avin' nothing to write about after 'e'd buried the prime minister in a column of print, Fisher organized a group of brilliant political thinkers. They'll supply 'im with some new themes fer free so 'e can do a little 'armless moonlightin' when 'e's finished the day's toil in Parlymint where the pay is ridiculously inadequate fer a social reformer.

"And while the thinkers think Fisher will 'ave time to decide which of the old parties 'ell join after the New Democrats get fed up and invite 'im to leave.

"All those thinkers are ruinin' the country. Everybody's thinking like crazy, even Parlymint, and I tell you we can't stand the strain."

Letters

Flag and Minority

The issue of a new Canadian flag has stirred up a greater controversy than the one which developed over nuclear weapons.

To those who state that a plebiscite on the matter would be an unnecessary expense to the country I ask "Why should it be?" A plebiscite held in conjunction with the next federal election would involve practically no extra expense at all. Surely those who favor a new flag could endure the Red Ensign as Canada's unofficial emblem for another three years.

The argument for a new flag which I have found the most specious, is that Canada should have a flag which will be more acceptable to all ethnic groups. Originally Canada was founded by the French and the British. In comparatively recent years people from other countries have come to Canada, a land of opportunity, seeking to improve their lot. Here they have enjoyed a freedom and a standard of living which they would not have known in their own countries. It seems to me that these people would be happy to salute a flag (the Red Ensign), under which most of them have lived bountiful lives.

It has been evident for the last few years, that in various parts of the world there has been a trend towards ultranationalism. Dozens of small groups are crying for recognition. In his handling of the flag issue, it seems that Prime Minister Pearson is leading Canada down the same path. After all, why should we be too concerned even if some of our American cousins think that Canada is still a British colony.

Bruce Hutchison, in his comments on the flag question, states that Parliament should legislate and Government should govern, not by way of plebiscite. No doubt he is correct in his statement, except that with our present Parliament an abnormal situation exists.

Assuming that a new Canadian flag was a plank in the Liberal platform exclusively, at the last election, more members were elected who did not campaign on this issue. If the present government enjoyed a majority such as the Conservatives did prior to 1962, the situation would be entirely different. But the fact that legislation for a new flag is likely to be railroaded through the House by a minority government is creating a great deal of resentment.

FOR PLEBISCITE.

Bi-and-Bi Hearings

I write to condemn your report on Friday evening's meeting, at which the Royal Commission heard the views of the people of Victoria on the many controversial aspects of bilingualism and biculturalism within the Dominion. The supercilious tone which Mr. Rutter adopted in writing his report did nothing to help the work of this commission, which the majority of those who were present, felt to be of a serious nature.

One of our fundamental difficulties in understanding the problems of Quebec is due to our ignorance of what is happening there. This in turn must be largely blamed on the press, who give much space to the sensational activities of a small Separatist group and very little factual information about conditions in the French-speaking province. It was in such a vein that Mr. Rutter reported the feelings of Victoria, as represented on Friday evening.

The Royal Commission was not here to answer questions, but to listen. Its terms of reference do not require it to solve the problems, which might become big enough to split our nation. It is instead appointed "to inquire into and report upon the existing state of bilingualism and biculturalism in Canada and to recommend what steps would be taken to develop the Canadian Confederation on the basis of an equal partnership between the two founding races."

Your report made it appear to be a frivolous body.

A. C. McNEEL-CAIRD.

Deterrent Effect

I've just read with horror and revulsion the account of how the "cat-o-nine-tails" is "employed in administering sentence." "In the punishment room—sand is spread on the floor. This muffles the sound of feet and the blindfolded prisoner can neither tense for a blow, nor know which of the assembled officials delivers it."

The person who devised this puinshment and the people obliged to administer it are made less by its execution. No Christian could strike a fellow mortal with such an instrument under these conditions and if he did he would never forget it.

B.C. Attorney-General Robert Bonner says "I think the so-called deterrent effect is more in the minds of the legislators than the criminals." I concur.

Creatures of the Shore

WHEN you live for years on the waterfront your senses adjust to the sounds, the smells and the sights of your environment until they assume a comfortable relationship through familiarity.

Stott

No one, coming fresh to the shore, could find music in the notes of the foghorn on Trial Island. Its call comes in a low moan ending in a grunt.

Yet an old-timer with good digestion and an easy conscience can hear it in the softness of night and recognize it as a friendly voice speaking to him as he lies on the verge of sleep. He endows the sound with a sort of shaggy, sheepdog personality, a friendliness inexplicable to a stranger.

* * *

He listens, also, to the throb of diesel engines powering bigger fishboats on their runs to the fishing grounds, or home with the catch, and they carry a prolonged, almost personal story to him. He hears the gas boats, with their sharper, lighter combustion explosions, or the pound of a freighter, moving empty up-Strait for a cargo of lumber, its propeller thrashing, part out of water.

His ear catches the sound of the swell hitting the shore, a sort of rock-a-bye lulling him to slumber. Even the lash of a gale, spindrift hissing and wind yelling, seems to add warmth to his blankets.

He catches the salt smell of the Strait, spiced with the tang of aging kelp and there is a righiness to it. Even the heavy, sulphurous odor of sand at low tide is not unpleasant to him, because it's natural and somehow fitting.

His sensory reactions to the sea, the shore and the air around him are parts of a local phenomenon. The sounds belong to his district. So do the smells. The sights are seen between the points of his bay or on the broader horizon of the water his boat travels. He is part of the environment, giving it meaning through his own perceptions—something local who expects little understanding from plains people, or those who live in mountains.

* * *

Yet he is akin to those who live wherever sea meets shore. Eighteen miles south of him may be a foreign country. On its coast are men whose ears are tuned to the moan of their own foghorn, who are home only when they can smell the kelp, hear the lift and fall of the swell on rocks, catch the hiss of receding waves, know by its timbre and rhythm the pound of a freighter riding high, a diesel fishboat outward bound.

These are folk with a common heritage, a knowledgeable recognition of things associated with the coast, perhaps any coast. They have a feeling for the open boats once rowed and sailed by the men of Ness, and for a sampan, strange as its lines may be, gliding on an Oriental sea.

They are, by sentiment, perhaps too parochial for broad appreciation of nationalism—these people who have absorbed and been absorbed into their environment; or perhaps too international in shared appreciations of maritime experience and influence.

They are, stripped of a superficial veneer, creatures of the shore, responding as do other peoples who are creatures of the shore to the influences that make one fraternity of all who live by the moving sea.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER ALVAREZ

The Kissing Disease

For some time infectious monomucleosis—a curious febrile disease which commonly attacks college students, and causes them to feel miserable for six months or so—has been called the kissing disease because it is supposed often to be transmitted by kissing.

Alvarez

Now, Dr. Willard Dalrymple, of the Princeton University Health Service, says that although two different studies suggested that kissing played a part in spreading the disease, most physicians now believe that kissing is only one possible way in which the disease can be spread.

Dr. Dalrymple suspects that the idea of a kissing disease stems from pure folklore. As he says, until the organism responsible for what looks like an infection is found, no one can say just how the disease is transmitted.

Fortunately, the trouble is usually a fairly mild one; only occasionally is it severe, causing intermittent fever and sore throat, a great deal of fatigue, and rarely—complications that can cause worry. In the days before the disease became well recognized, the big danger was that doctors sometimes, on looking at the blood smears, would think that the trouble was a form of leukemia. Today, we know that nearly always the young patient recovers.

As Dr. Dalrymple says, many physicians have insisted on a long bed rest for these students, but when he made a study of 131 of the patients seen at Harvard and Radcliffe, he found that they got well faster when allowed to get up as soon as they felt like it. Apparently, only in the presence of severe complications should the patient be kept in bed.

* * *

Today most stout persons must be somewhat impressed with the many articles that keep appearing—all warning against the several dangers that we humans run when we get heavy. We know now that getting fat increases our chances of getting a heart attack, a stroke, diabetes, or even a cancer.

We know that the insurance physicians do not like the applicant who is heavy. They point to their statistical tables which show that for each extra 10 pounds of fat that a person carries around, he is likely to shorten his life. The man or woman who is still alive and well and strong at the age of 80 years is seldom overweight.

A point that few people who are trying to reduce seem to have noted is that an alcoholic drink supplies from 75 to 150 calories. The fact that a person has had several drinks during the day may explain why he or she gained a little weight—on a reduction type of diet.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

Train Them Young . . . It's Easier

It should be easier for the gardener to bring up young shrubs in the way we want them to grow than it is to recondition them when they are older.

Hilda

As with our human youngsters it is less painful to train and guide them in their early days than to attempt corrections in their later life. The gardener's days are more leisurely if the early training of his shrubs has been strict.

The wands of foamy pink bloom on the tamarix can be charming when seen at or a little above eye level. But when the plants have been allowed to go up to 15 and 20 feet in height the blossoms can only be viewed as a cloud from the distance.

Pretty enough and effective in a truly large acreage garden.

To be useful in a small garden, and in wind swept locations near salt water, to which the tamarix family is particularly adapted, these shrubs can easily be conditioned when young to fulfill their purpose with distinction.

The spring flowering tamarix (T. parviflora) now beginning to fade in color, should be drastically cut back before this week is finished.

New little side growths are already visible below the flower spikes. These will begin to grow at once, filling in the lower parts of the shrub. Many new shoots will also come from seemingly old wood low on the main stems.

Left unpruned at this time, new growths will come mainly at the ends of the existing flower stems, thus enlongating the plant without filling in the lower portions.

If the pruning is done each year, bushy growth will be developed at the same time as a certain amount of height is attained to give a graceful effect.

August blooming varieties of tamarix needed their pruning to be done early in May, for the flowers on T. pentandra and T. odessana are produced on the growths being made now in early summer.

"Pink Cascade," a variety of odessana, has perhaps the largest flower trusses of any of the tamarix, and they come in early fall as a benediction to the fading summer garden.

BEAVER'S LAST WISH

'I Will Just Raise My Hand and Wave'

Michael Wardell, publisher of the Fredericton Gleaner and Atlantic Advocate, stayed with Lord Beaverbrook at Cherkley in Leatherhead for two weeks from the eve of his 85th birthday, returning to Canada by plane Monday. Here is Mr. Wardell's account of conversations immediately prior to Lord Beaverbrook's death Tuesday.

By MICHAEL WARDELL

FREDERICTON (CP) — How he loved New Brunswick!

He never failed on any day of the last fortnight of his life to talk of New Brunswick, of old faces that are gone and of the places he remembered from long ago and of his friends in the present age.

Every day he talked of his hopes and plans for the province.

He wanted, beyond everything, to fly out to Fredericton next September for the opening of the Playhouse.

"If only I'm well enough," he said, "I will charter an aircraft and Christofer (Lady Beaverbrook) and I will fly out together. We will be together on the stage and she will make a speech. And I will just raise my hand and wave to my friends in the audience.

"I shall not say a word. Just to be there and to see that day will be a fulfilment of so much that Christofer and I have hoped and planned together."

And, to me, when I said goodbye to him on Monday to take my plane to Canada, he said: "How I envy you. How happy I should be if I could fly with you to Fredericton.

"Come back soon. I shall not be here long."

Best Berry on Top of Basket And He Wrote It With Punch!

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON (CP)—Short, stabbing, staccato sentences; lavish use of exclamation marks; an urgent, feverish sense of drama.

These were among the journalistic qualities that made Lord Beaverbrook an unforgettable figure on Fleet Street and won remarkable praise for his books on contemporary history.

He wrote with an irresistible relish.

Disclaiming literary graces but pinpointing all the telling details, Beaverbrook drew on personal memories. In his book Men and Power 1917-18, published in 1956, he wrote:

"It may be asked: 'Were you there?' I was there!"

The source material for his books was hard to beat. They included his own first-hand experiences; the 1,000 boxes of Lloyd George papers; the records of his close friend, Canadian-born Bonar Law; and of two former Canadian prime ministers, Sir Robert Borden and R. B. Bennett, later a viscount.

Beaverbrook won tributes for his graphic histories but it was in his own newspapers that he really turned on the heat.

BLASTS GOVERNMENT

Three weeks before his death, the Daily Express carried a stinging indictment of the British government for allowing fine meat to be exported to France while Englishmen went without.

"Put a levy on beef," exhorted the editorial.

"Tax the foreigner.

"Make him take his hands off our food.

"That is what the government must do!"

Nobody was in doubt about the author of the editorial.

The Beaverbrook success story in journalism started slowly.

One day in 1910, a young millionaire, newly arrived from Canada, the Beaver met on the French Riviera a British editor named Ralph Blumenfeld, whose Daily Express newspaper was in financial difficulties.

Beaverbrook loaned Blumenfeld £25,000. By 1917 the paper was virtually bankrupt. The Beaver made a deal for 1,000 tons of newsprint and took close personal control. He moved into a flat atop No. 8 Shoe Lane, just off Fleet Street, and began the day-and-night task of breathing life into the paper.

WANTED SOMETHING NEW

A Beaverbrook editor, John Gordon, recalled:

"Through endless hours, often till long after midnight, he sat with his staff creating, devising . . . always the urge was to have something new, something different, something exciting."

His grand - daughter, Lady Jean Campbell, was a Beaverbrook correspondent and a Beaverbrook pupil. She said his lessons were:

"Put the best strawberry on top of the basket.

"Write short sentences. Cut, cut, cut.

"Always interview people face to face."

In his last speech May 25 Beaverbrook distilled the lessons of a lifetime:

"The code of a good journalist should be written within himself alone. It should not be written in parchment, but on his heart. First he must be true to himself. The man who is not true to himself is no journalist. . . . He must also, I believe, be a man of optimism. He has no business to be a pedlar of gloom and despondency."

'Stop Deriding Soviet People,' Says Publisher

TORONTO (CP) — The only alternative to ultimate war is the establishment of real international friendship by public figures of all nations, Lord Thomson told Rotarians today.

In an address to the third plenary session of Rotary International's 55th convention here, the Canadian - born publisher said that to be friendly, nations must understand each other's point of view.

Lord Thomson cited recent talks he had with Nikita Khrushchev in which the Russian premier complained that the West does not appreciate the great efforts he is making to improve his peoples' living standards.

"There is much truth in this charge," Lord Thomson said. "The sooner we stop deriding the Soviet people and vilifying their leaders, the sooner they will stop blackguarding us."

He said the Russian government will probably continue to spread world communism and as a result create trouble in many parts of the world, "but what the Russian government wants now above all is to improve the standard of living of its own people.

WANTS MORE TRADE

"From my discussion with Mr. Khrushchev, it became evident that he has a great and urgent desire to increase world trade between Russia and the rest of the world and this is understandable," Lord Thomson said.

"I am completely convinced that if we are to contemplate a peaceful, happy existence for our children, and our children's children, we must develop friendship and agreement with the Soviet Union."

Lord Thomson noted the necessity of establishing a mass media of quality and integrity in the emergent nations if their people are to fulfil their wants and better their condition.

"Remember, these new nations are battlegrounds of the cold war and in the battle of ideologies, time is not on our side," he said. "We must show these new nations that our system of life is best, that in the long run they will benefit most by being democratic and living under a free enterprise system.

MUST PROVE FACTS

"It is our responsibility to prove all these facts to them—and do it quickly.

"If we do not sermonize or condescend, but concentrate instead on dispassionately passing on technical and scientific knowledge and the fruits of our political and social experiences, we will have gone far toward getting them to accept the concepts on which are based the liberties and achievements of Western civilization."

He asked the international Rotary movement to assume part of the responsibility in helping to provide the urgently needed communications facilities to the yet uncommitted nations.

LOVERS LIGHT TORCH

SAIGON (AP) — A pair of teen-age lovers soaked each other in gasoline at Tay Ninh, South Viet Nam, last weekend, embraced and touched a match to themselves because they had been refused permission to marry, the Saigon Post reported Wednesday. Both were badly burned and are not expected to live, the paper said.

Charm Worked the Wrong Way

MONTREAL (CP) — Police are investigating a complaint by a 60-year-old Montreal businessman that he was swindled out of $57,000 by a fortune-teller.

Police said the man, whose name was not released, contacted them Tuesday, saying he had been told by a fortune-teller to bring her all the money he could and she would double the amount for him.

The man brought his savings of $57,000 in cash, wrapped in a certain way. The fortune-teller opened the package, worked a charm over the cash and returned the package to the man.

She told him to put it back in his safety deposit box at the bank and not to touch it for three days.

He told police he took it back. But after three hours returned to the bank and checked the package. The money was missing.

'Elastic Classrooms' Planned at Claremont

Plans to meet the crush of new pupils at Claremont Secondary School include elastic classrooms.

Part of a proposed $90,000 five-room addition to the school will be two rooms with portable walls that can adapt to a variety of situations.

School District 63 chairman Reginald Sinkinson said one partition will be a heavy, acoustic wall on a track, enabling it to be rolled back against the permanent wall. This will be soundproof.

Another partition will be a folding, vinyl type.

He said that, used in combination, they will provide a single lecture room, a standard-size classroom with two smaller rooms, a room the size of 1½ classrooms and a smaller room, or two standard classrooms.

They are included in the four-room addition for class purposes, one of them a new physics laboratory, with the fifth room being a general purpose utility area that may be used for lectures or other activities.

Mr. Sinkinson said providing more facilities at Claremont is the most pressing need in the school district now.

Plans are out to tender by contractors now.

The addition will be built at ground level, below the existing classroom level on the north end of the school.

There are long-range plans in the offing for a new senior secondary school on a 10-acre site near the Dominion Experimental Station to look after needs of the northern part of the school district.

These are part of a $792,000 school expansion project approved for the next three years in a spring referendum.

Biggest problem facing the school district is simply to provide classroom facilities in a rapidly expanding area having 3,500 school children and a growth rate of 7 or 8 per cent annually.

In fact, officials feel the current program will be fulfilled by the end of next year, or a full year ahead of schedule.

Other projects expected to get under way soon for completion during the summer are development of the home economics section and alterations to industrial arts section for new equipment at Mount Newton Junior Secondary; addition of a classroom and administration area at Sidney Elementary.

Extension of administration area at North Saanich Secondary; addition of a district superintendent's office, a secondary supervisor's office and a building supervisor's office to school district headquarters at Sidney, and acquisition of site and start on four classrooms at the Experimental Station school.

Next year it is expected four new elementary schools will make their appearance — four rooms at Sayward, three at Prospect Lake and two each at Saanichton and Bradley Dyne Road.

Each will be expandable to 10 rooms if required.

School board and education department philosophy is to have a lot of small schools to serve each centre of population rather than a few schools spread along the Peninsula. The need for buses will virtually disappear at the elementary level.

Slow Down And Love!

Victoria aldermen were horrified Tuesday by a traffic committee recommendation to close the narrow, twisting Lovers' Lane in Beacon Hill Park to vehicular traffic and turn it into a pedestrian path.

"It's the most delightful road in the park and surely we can put up a slow sign rather than do away with it because there has been one accident," said Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow.

Other parks committee members agreed and asked for a full report from parks administrator W. H. Warren who indicated he was opposed to clos-

PEARSON FILM

'I Would Burn It' Says Newsman

OTTAWA (UPI)—The controversial film "Mr. Pearson" was shown to the press for the first time Tuesday night.

The film, an unusually candid at Prime Minister Pearson, is amazing—and the most amazing thing about it is that it was allowed to be made in the first place.

Reaction of newsmen and others who watched it ranged from "marvellous" to "I can understand why it won't be shown to the public."

"Diefenbaker (Opposition Leader John Diefenbaker) could destroy Pearson with this," said one veteran of the Parliamentary Press Gallery.

"If I were Pearson, I would burn it," said another.

REJECTED BY CBC

The film was rejected by the CBC after commissioning Intervideo Productions to make it at a cost of $35,000 because it wasn't up to technical standards.

Questions have been raised in the Commons on why it was "shelved." Pearson told the House he walked out of one showing because the sound was bad.

"I set out to make a film and not a national issue," said producer Dick Ballantine. He blamed the cancellation on a Liberal party "straw vote."

Ballantine said it was to be a "candid human study of a man in our highest office, to show him as he has never been seen before."

The focussing was bad at times and the sound faded at others.

It covered Mr. Pearson's activities during a day last October when Real Caouette's Ralliement des Creditistes were demanding better seats in the House of Commons, the lake-shipping strike was boiling up to a crisis, and Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia arrived for a state visit.

"Well, I've had a hell of a day," Mr. Pearson summarized the events in a telephone conversation with Donald Gordon, president of the CNR.

It shows him wearily rubbing his eyes, taking Mrs. Pearson by the arm saying "Come on, Missus," and saying succinctly "Oh, God," when Tom Kent, policy co-ordinator, says that a proposed section of a bill to set up a Great Lakes trusteeship will have to exempt the enactment from the Bill of Rights.

Warning Number 293

HONG KONG (Reuters)—Communist China issued its 293rd "serious warning" to the United States Tuesday, alleging that a U.S. military plane intruded into its territorial air space over the Hsisha Islands in Kwangtung Province Monday, Radio Peking reported.

UNDER HAT A BOY FLOATED BY

NORTH KAMLOOPS (CP)—Charlie Davis watched idly as a red cowboy hat floated down the swollen Thompson River Monday. Suddenly he saw a child's face under the hat.

Davis jumped into the river and pulled Barry Madsen, 3, to safety.

Police said the boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Madsen, had fallen into the river while throwing rocks from a retaining wall.

Davis said he didn't see the boy fall. He had just come out of his apartment block to dispose of some garbage.

. . . TEEN-AGE SEX

at 17 and another who was not pregnant but married at 14, agree teen-age marriages have little hope of lasting.

Seventeen-year-old Jane was completing grade 13 and had plans to go on to university when she discovered she was pregnant.

She had always been one of the "good girls" and good girls didn't get pregnant, so she thought. It was only the "wild girls" who got into trouble.

Jane was not allowed to marry at the time. She left town, had the baby and two months later married the father of the child.

Today the child is registered as legitimate and Jane is happily married. But at 18 she said it never would have worked if her husband had not been older and more mature.

"I still find it hard to budget and accept my responsibilities," commented Jane.

Loss of Freedom

A teen-ager, she says, really doesn't know any of the cares of the world, she thinks of nothing more than nylons, hairdos and clothes.

There is also a loss of freedom which a teen-ager is not prepared to give up.

Although Jane considers she made a mistake which she must pay for, she does not think teen-agers should get married because of a baby.

She said, "They must remember that the baby will not be a baby for long, and even now I wonder if I will be mature enough at 30 to cope with my daughter's problems when she is 12."

Jane is prepared to accept her mistake in the eyes of her daughter, but her husband feels differently. He wants to set the marriage date back a year.

What did Jane and her friends think of sexual intercourse before marriage?

At school when the girls knew that other girls were sleeping with their boy friends it was considered nobody's business, the girl was only branded as a "wild one" if she was known to be running around with several different boys.

Sex for Marriage

Now Jane is of the firm conviction that sex should be reserved for marriage.

She said, "Teen-agers who indulge in sex before marriage are just playing with fire."

Drinking, she thinks, is one contributing factor to teen-age behavior, as she remembers, at 16, being at parties in well-to-do homes where the parents knew the boys all had hard liquor with them.

Jane still hopes someday to go to university but at the same time she thinks there is so much emphasis on a career for women that it can't help but make the average housewife discontented with her lot.

Susan is the 14-year-old married. She told her mother she was pregnant so she would allow her to marry. Before a year was up she had left her husband and returned home.

Now at 20 Susan is completing Grade 9 by correspondence and cautiously contemplating marriage again.

Offered Security

At 14, a 20-year-old boy came along and offered her the security she seemed to lack at home. It was somebody to latch on to.

"I knew I didn't love him at the time, but I thought I was young and could grow to love him," she said.

She didn't, and every marital problem that came up was treated in the same fashion as a child's quarrel.

Susan favors sex before marriage in one sense, because she says girls soon get bored with it and it might prevent a marriage—if she doesn't get caught.

But this is not the advice she is going to give her own daughter.

She hopes to see her having so much fun with the gang, not just one boy friend, that she won't have time for sex or marriage in her teens.

Teen-Agers Better

Comparing the teen-agers of today with those of five years ago, Susan sees an improvement.

Five years ago she says the drape pants, dirty shirt collars and long greasy hair of the Elvis Presley era were so revolting that teen-agers were automatically rejected by adults. Today with emphasis on the scrubbed appearance and neater fashions, teen-agers are not rejected, and not looking for security elsewhere.

What do others think of teen-age marriages?

Rev. Howard Turpin sees marriage as more complex today, and he is working towards the establishment of a marriage school in Victoria. It would be the first of its kind in Canada.

When a couple approaches him to get married and refuse to accept counselling, he refuses to perform the ceremony.

If the girl is pregnant and this appears to be the main reason for the couple wanting to get married, he tries to help them work out some other solution.

Marriage School

The marriage school which both Rev. Turpin and Msgr. M. T. O'Connell would like to set up here would incorporate a body of instructors from all professions to give legal, financial, medical and spiritual guidance.

Rev. Bernard Hanley would like to see the day when it would be just as automatic that a couple must have a certificate from the marriage school before they could marry, as it is now in some provinces to have a blood test.

But neither Jane nor Susan see a marriage school as an answer to teen-age marriage problems.

Susan said teen-agers would resent this. They would feel that adults were only interfering and trying to break up a relationship. But, she said there should be a minimum waiting period of three months before a couple is allowed to marry.

After Marriage

Jane sees the marriage school as something which would be of benefit to couples after they are married, not before. Teen-agers, she said, just have no way of knowing the problems they are going to encounter. They wouldn't attend.

At the Family and Children's Service, the supervisor of intake and marriage counsellor, Mrs. Gwen Lundy, is one who sees an increasing number of unhappily married couples, pregnant girls and unmarried mothers.

Each month she interviews between 12 and 15 pregnant unmarried girls and many more unhappy married mothers.

Alcohol and money she lists as the two main problems that make a marriage go on the rocks.

The boy stops off for a beer after work and when he goes home at 6, half-sodden and his money spent, his wife is angry. He then escapes back into the beer parlor as quickly as possible.

Favors Counselling

Another trouble maker is the car, said Mrs. Lundy.

They have to have one, but they don't realize it cannot be operated on less than $60 a month. In many cases that is a week's pay.

After seeing dozens of teen-agers each year who wished they had never married Mrs. Lundy is strongly in favor of family counselling in the school but the agency's offer to give such a course was turned down by the school board.

High school counsellors would like to see a sex education program introduced into the school curriculum but at the same time they sense a trend for the family to take back some of their responsibilities in this regard.

It is the family as a unit which Msgr. O'Connell says the church is working to preserve. He said if parents accept their responsibilities then the children will not seek love and security in sex relations outside marriage.

For as one doctor said, what good reason can you give a teen-ager for not indulging in sex outside marriage, when contraceptives are so readily available, and the fear of children is removed

. . . CLOSURE

general will have greater power to compel segregated schools to open their doors to Negro students.

A federal commission would be set up to investigate charges of racial discrimination in jobs including commission power to seek fair opportunities for workers through the courts.

CAN CUT OFF FUNDS

In addition, federal agencies will have the right to cut off federal funds—a powerful weapon—in those states which discriminate against Negroes in carrying out any programs in which the federal government has provided financial assistance.

In most cases, federal court prosecutions would be based on obtaining voluntary compliance with the law from offenders.

But if the violators continue to practise segregation, they could be brought back to court on a contempt charge.

RUSSELL OPPOSED

Georgia Democrat Richard Russell, taking over for the opposition, told his colleagues: "This bill represents a long step in this drive for conformity, to mold every American into the same mold, with the same thoughts."

"You are nibbling away at the very cornerstone of the American system," he said, invading a man's private property and taking away his total dominion over it.

Russell said the bill has emotional appeal. "It wants to take from those who have and give it to those who have not."

But that is not the American system, he said, for it is not a right for every man to have everything his neighbor possesses.

The closure rule was invoked for the first time in 35 years in 1962 to shut off a filibuster by Senate liberals against a bill to establish a privately owned communications satellite corporation.

Supporters of the civil rights measure won their biggest victories Tuesday in votes on the equal employment opportunity section, regarded as perhaps the most controversial part of the legislation.

By a vote of 64 to 33, the Senate defeated an amendment by Senator Sam J. Ervin Jr. (Dem., N.C.) to strike out this section prohibiting discrimination in employment on account of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin. It would apply to employers, labor unions and employment agencies.

Riot Over Stamps

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese stamp lovers staged a near riot Wednesday trying to purchase U.S. postage stamps honoring President Kennedy. They were dispersed by police and the fire department. Some 1,500 persons were lined up at a big department store but only 1,000 sets were out on sale.

BANK ROBBER TELLS ACCUSED:

'You Say Unload the Guns . . . You Yourself Bury Them'

By DESMOND BILL

A convicted bank robber turned Tuesday on the man he said was his accomplice in the hold-up and told exactly how they did it.

The sensational evidence of Jean Joseph Robitaille, and the conduct of Clarence Kraft, the man he accused, made the scene in Saanich magistrate's court seem at times like a television courtroom drama.

Robitaille, a drug addict, is now serving a 10-year sentence for the armed robbery of the Bank of Montreal at Cook and Quadra April 24.

Kraft, who is conducting his own defence against the charge of armed robbery, drummed on the table in front of him with his fingers or kept tapping it with a pencil while Robitaille talked.

SUICIDE ATTEMPT

Robitaille disclosed that he tried to commit suicide in his room at the Strathcona Hotel several hours before he gave himself up to police on the Monday afternoon following the Friday night bank robbery.

The 26-year-old Montrealer, who speaks English with a strong French-Canadian accent, said he tried suicide because "I felt ashamed of what I do."

Robitaille said he threw about $1,600, his share of the loot, on the floor of his room Monday morning. It was lying there when police arrested him.

Kraft asked him why he threw all that money on the floor? He answered, "Because I'm sick and I need some drugs and I can't go out."

Robitaille said he'd had his last shot of narcotics Friday morning in Vancouver. He said it was then that he met Kraft for the first time.

Robitaille said he was introduced to Kraft by Ron Dagenais, who is also serving a 10-year sentence for participation in the robbery.

'BANK JOB'

He said Dagenais asked him "how you like come on a bank job? I say I don't know." He said Kraft then said there was "about $50,000 we could get from there."

Robitaille said the three of them were joined by a fourth man whose name he does not know. They went to a tavern, had a few drinks and then left Vancouver to catch the 1 o'clock ferry for Victoria.

Here is Robitaille's story of what happened from then on:

When they arrived in Victoria, travelling in Kraft's car, he took them to a garage, left them and came back with three guns.

TO BEER PARLOR

Robitaille loaded the guns with ammunition that Kraft supplied and the four of them went to the Tally-Ho beer parlor. Kraft telephoned from there to order a U-drive car that they could use in the robbery.

Kraft then drove them to the bank they were going to rob and he went inside to cash a cheque. While he was inside, two of them walked past the branch and the fourth man sauntered by it on his own. They were looking it over in preparation for the holdup.

From there they went to a Woolworth's store where Robitaille, using money that Kraft gave him, bought the fancy straw hats they used for disguise in the hold-up.

They went back to the Tally-Ho, to the cocktail lounge this time, had a drink and returned to the vicinity of the bank.

WENT TO BANK

Robitaille, Dagenais and the fourth man left Kraft in his car and they picked up the U-drive car which was waiting for them. They told the driver of the hired car to go to the bank because they wanted to cash a cheque.

Robitaille got out of the car first after the driver parked on the lot beside the bank, and then the three of them went into the bank, taking the driver of the car with them.

Robitaille went into the manager's office and ordered him to open the vault, but before he could do it Dagenais yelled "90," the signal for them to leave.

They ran out and into the U-drive car in which they drove to a spot about half-a-mile away where Kraft was waiting in his car to pick them up.

Kraft took them up "a mountain" that Robitaille could not identify, where Kraft got out and buried the guns and the disguises. They divided the money in four parts while up there and Kraft then drove them back to the city.

Robitaille was eventually let out of the car "at the bus terminal," and he walked the streets for a while before renting a room at "a small hotel."

Under questioning from Kraft, Robitaille said he started to need drugs Saturday night. He had got "very drunk" in his room Saturday and this helped allay his desire for narcotics.

NEEDED DRUGS

Robitaille said that by Sunday night he had a great need for narcotics. He said he gave himself up to police early Monday afternoon but it was 9 o'clock at night before he saw a doctor who gave him drugs.

Kraft asked him "and they (the police) kept you in excruciating pain for nine full hours?" Robitaille replied, "Yes."

Robitaille gave police a statement after his arrest and then went into court late that afternoon and pleaded guilty to the armed robbery.

In later testimony, however, Robitaille said his interest in seeing a doctor was not to get narcotics but to be treated for his general condition.

Kraft and Robitaille got into excited interchange several times. At one point Kraft asked him what had happened to the guns used in the robbery.

Robitaille answered "You say 'unload the guns' when you drove us on the mountain. You yourself bury the guns."

"How do you know?" asked Kraft.

"I'm sitting on your back," Robitaille replied.

At the end of the long afternoon hearing Kraft asked Magistrate William Ostler to ignore all of Robitaille's evidence because he was heavily under the influence of drugs at the time he was speaking about.

REJECTED

But the magistrate rejected Kraft's submission. At the beginning of the afternoon Kraft objected to Robitaille giving evidence at all.

Kraft said that Robitaille had been threatened by police with additional charges, such as abduction and criminal conspiracy, both at the time of his arrest and since.

Magistrate Ostler rejected Kraft's suggestion as "wild allegations."

Said Kraft: "They are not."

The trial is continuing this afternoon.

Parents Hit TV Ads Beamed at Children

OTTAWA (CP)—Most Canadian parents resent television advertising directed at their children and some go to great lengths to counteract its influence.

This was one of a number of conclusions reached in a report submitted to the Canadian Conference on the Family Tuesday by the Christian Communications Service of Canada.

As part of a two-year survey of 1,000 English-speaking Roman Catholic homes, the service asked parents what they did about commercials beamed at their children.

REAL PROBLEM

The service's report says: "It is evident that most parents consider this a real problem and some go to great lengths to counteract the influence of television advertising directed at children.

"They take their children to the store, for instance, and show that the toy or other product in question has been greatly exaggerated by the TV commercial."

One parent wrote: "When reasoning failed, I bought Coke and they found out for themselves that things do not necessarily 'go better with Coke.' Now they are trying to assess each commercial on their own."

When pressured by their children to buy a particular object or product advertised on television, another parent said he took a firm line. "We say no. If spoken loud and clear, it's amazing the effect this simple little word has on them."

Seventy-four per cent of parents questioned said they banned children from watching programs involving violence. Among specific programs most frequently banned by parents were The Untouchables, Outer Limits, Psycho, wrestling, courtroom dramas, Quest, Naked City and Hawaiian Eye.

Some parents said they banned medical shows where the suffering or death of a child might worry their own children.

'I'M DOWN AND YOU'RE OUT'

Although ending up in un-umpirely position, first base umpire Bill Williams still manages "out" sign, which apparently doesn't meet approval of Jim Stewart of Chicago Cubs. Stewart and Williams collided when Stewart was tagged on way to first base in 10th inning of game at New York Tuesday night. Mets won this game 6-5 in 12th inning but lost 5-2 decision in second game of doubleheader.

Black Hawks are Busy In NHL Trade Market

Deal With Wings, Bruins; Give Up Murphy, Balfour

MONTREAL (CP)—The big intra-league draft of the National Hockey League was scheduled today but it may be anti-climatic after the flurry of trades made so far during the league's annual meeting.

However this doesn't take away from the importance of the draft, a procedure designed to give lower-place teams a chance to acquire reserve talent of the stronger clubs.

The six NHL teams have shelled out $1,070,000 for 58 players in the 10 drafts conducted since 1954 when the procedure was first put into force.

Each club can protect 18 players, plus two goalies, against the draft.

Another draft, the one in which NHL teams draw from clubs of the Western Hockey League and the Central Professional Hockey League, took place Tuesday. A record 11 players were drafted—the previous high was 10 in 1958—with Toronto Maple Leafs doing most of the selecting.

In the corridors, meanwhile, Chicago Black Hawks were busy making straight, no-cash player trades with the Boston Bruins and the Detroit Red Wings.

HAWKS IN ALL THREE

Chicago has figured in all three major trades concluded during the first two days of the meetings, which end Thursday.

On opening day, they swapped left-wingers Ab McDonald and Reg Fleming for Bruins' veteran defenceman Doug Mohns.

Tuesday, they dealt off four more players, two each to Detroit and Boston. They gave up left-winger Ron Murphy, 31, and defenceman Autry Erickson, 26, to Detroit in exchange for centre Art Stratton and defencemen John Miszuk and Ian Cushenan.

PICK UP AMATEUR

Then, they gave up seasoned Murray Balfour and Mike Draper for Boston's Jerry Toppazzini and Matt Ravlich. In the minor league draft, they picked up Fred Evans for the $20,000 waiver price. Evans is an amateur on the reserve list of the American Hockey League's Buffalo team.

In Murphy, the Hawks lost an 11-year NHL veteran who scored 11 goals in 70 games last season.

Toronto acquired three players from Denver of the WHL in the record minor league draft. Leaf officials described it as a bookkeeping affair involving Toronto-owned players. The three were Alex Hucul, Gordon Redhal and Lou Jankowski. Leafs also drafted Marc Reaume, who had been owned by the Montreal Canadiens, from Hershey of the AHL.

BRUINS DRAFT MIKOL

The Bruins drafted Toronto-owned Jim Mikol and John Gravel from Cleveland of the AHL. Detroit took George (Duke) Harris from St. Louis of the CPHL and Fred Hilts, owned by Montreal and under suspension last season for not reporting, from Springfield of the AHL.

Montreal drafted Robert Barber from Pittsburgh and New York took Jimmy Johnson from Baltimore.

In other business, an agreement was reached at a meeting of the NHL owners-players council to add $27,000 to the cash awards distributed to players of the top four teams after regular season play, increasing this annual disbursement to $81,000.

PENSIONS INCREASED

The council also announced a two-thirds increase in players' pensions to $300 from $180 a month for a 10-year-man. The pension fund has accumulated a reserve of $3,500,000.

Bob Pulford of Toronto Maple Leafs, the players' spokesman at the session with club owners, said he was completely satisified with the new arrangements.

The method of distributing the increase in league awards will be decided at a meeting of league governors today.

Under the present system, each player on the team winning the league championship receives $1,500. The breakdown for the next three finishers is [illegible], $500 and $250.

It is these awards that will be increased.

HOCKEY CHANCE IS FIFTY-FIFTY

Victoria is definitely the choice of Toronto Maple Leafs if the National Hockey League decides to relocate its Denver franchise. And such a move would have the support of Western League president Al Leader.

The "fly in the ointment" is time.

The return of professional hockey to this city depends on the season ticket campaign being conducted by Denver Invaders. Don Bolger, president of the Invaders, said Tuesday that "about 1,000" season tickets have been sold.

The WHL and the parent Leafs have made it known that Denver must sell 2,000 if the Colorado city wishes to retain its franchise.

Bolger insists Denver has "until June 30" in which to reach the target. However, Leader and Staff Smythe, president of the Leafs, maintain the deadline is June 18—a week from Thursday.

Victoria's hopes were raised Tuesday at the NHL meetings in Montreal. Reports out of Montreal said Victoria had "a 50-50 chance" of getting the Denver franchise.

Rates Increase Cuts Entries In Track Meet

The last entries for the Vancouver Island Open track and field championships were due to fall into the hands of Art Burgess today.

And at first glance it would seem that the Island's biggest track event is the first major competition to be affected by Premier Bennett's decision to abolish the special group rates for weekend sailings on B.C. ferries.

Burgess, athletic director of the sponsoring YMCA, said this morning that the entry total is "over 300" but "well short of last year's 450."

"Mainland track and field clubs," said Burgess, "are sending only their established stars. Quite a few athletes who are just a step away from championship class—and who need this type of competition — are forced to stay home because of the increase in travelling costs."

TWO-STAGE MEET

The Island championships will be a two-stage affair this year. Midget, bantam and juvenile performers will go their paces on the Victoria High School track this Saturday.

The senior and open events will be run off June 27.

Today was the deadline for entries.

The senior and open events were originally scheduled June 20. However, because of a conflict with the NCAA championships at Eugene, Ore., the Island event was set back one week.

BREEDEN ENTERED

Among the more prominent names received by Burgess are those of Barry Cunningham, Sue Hicks, Sue Pickering and sprinter Yvonne Breeden.

Cunningham, campaigning in juvenile ranks this year, holds the Canadian records for the midget half-mile and mile runs. The "Sues" share fifth-ranking in national 100-yard sprint ratings.

Miss Breeden is the biggest "name." Holder of the Canadian record for both the 100 and 220, she represented Canada at the British Empire Games in Australia when she was only 15.

Shuker Shines In Losing Role

VANCOUVER (CP) — League-leading Vancouver dumped defeated last-place Nanaimo 12-4 in Inter-City Lacrosse League action Tuesday night despite the gallant efforts of Alf Shuker.

Shuker, the Nanaimo goalie, stood alone between the mounting score and the hungry Vancouver attackers. He blocked 31 shots in all behind a Nanaimo defence that melted quickly.

A blazing shot by John Surinak in the third period struck Shuker in the eye, temporarily halting the game. Shuker recovered quickly, however.

Victory increased Vancouver's lead atop the standings to three points over second-place New Westminster. It was Nanaimo's 11th straight loss.

Only 452 persons saw the game.

Sid Warick led the Vancouver attack with three goals and two assists. Gord Gimple and Pete Black also scored three apiece while junior Ross McDonald had two and Bob Babcock scored a single.

The game was played at a fast pace, with only 14 minutes in penalties being called, including five-minute majors for fighting to Nanaimo's Gord Lawlor and Vancouver's Surinak.

VETERAN FORWARD Paul Parnell will be on firing line for New Westminster tonight at Memorial Arena in Inter-City Lacrosse League game against Victoria Shamrocks. Parnell currently holds down fourth place in scoring race, four points behind clubmate Jack Bionda, who is setting pace with 42 points. Tonight's action starts at 8.

Bearcat and Pal Tackle Kangaroos

The Fabulous Kangaroos (Al Costello and Bob Heffernan) will take on Bearcat Wright and Enrique Torres in a tag-team match that will feature Saturday night's professional wrestling card at the Memorial Arena.

In preliminary bouts, starting at 8:15, Ted Christy goes against Don Leo Jonathan, Roy McClarty takes on Dale Lewis, and Roy Collins battles Bud Rattal.

Ray, Gus, Joe and Charley Also Battled Butterflies

By Associated Press

Don't feel sorry for J. C. Martin. Let Ray Katt, Gus Triandos, Joe Ginsberg and Charley Lau hand out the sympathy. They know what it's like to try to catch the knuckleball butterflies Hoyt Wilhelm throws.

Martin had one of those nightmarish evenings that Wilhelm's catchers experience now and then as Chicago White Sox whipped the second-place Baltimore Orioles 9-5 Tuesday and extended their American League lead to 1½ games.

Juan Pizarro was breezing to his seventh victory with a 6-1 lead through seven innings and Martin was taking it easy while Camilo Carreon handled the big mitt.

Three Oriole hits in the eighth brought on Wilhelm. When the veteran reliever got the high sign, it meant Martin had to go to work too.

One of Wilhelm's flutterballs got away and Sam Bowens, who was on third, started for the plate. Martin made a quick recovery and Bowens pulled up short. J. C. fired to third but the ball sailed into left field and the runner scored.

Moments later another Wilhelm knuckler fluttered away and moved Norm Siebern to third. He later scored on Al Weis' throwing error.

TWO MORE GET BY

In the ninth J. C. allowed two more pitches to get by, setting up the Orioles' final run. In case you haven't been counting, that's three passed balls and a throwing error in two innings.

If Martin sticks with it, he'll wind up right next to Katt, Triandos, Ginsberg and Lau in thte record book. Katt holds the National League record for passed balls in one inning with four and the others share the modern AL record with three. One guess who the pitcher was.

In other AL games Tuesday, Washington Senators swept two games from Kansas City Athletics 8-4 and 5-1, Los Angeles Angels stopped Cleveland Indians 6-1, Boston Red Sox whipped New York Yankees 5-2 and Detroit Tigers walloped Minnesota Twins 16-1.

Martin once said Wilhelm's knuckler "dances like it was something bewitched," but all he has to do is catch it. Pity the poor guys who have to swing against it.

The venerable knuckler lowered his earned-run average to 1.50 with his 14th save as the streaking Sox won their 11th game in 15.

Pizarro, who ran his record to 7-2, had the key hit for Chicago, a two-run single in the five-run fourth inning.

Over in the National League, the Cardinals blanked the Giants, 1-0, the Colts downed the Braves twice, 6-5 and 4-1, the Phillies edged the Pirates, 4-3, in their opener but dropped the nightcap, 4-0, the Reds clipped the Dodgers, 2-1, and the Mets defeated the Cubs, 6-5, in a 12-inning opener, but Chicago won the second game, 5-2.

BEAT NANAIMO RIVALS AT BOXLA JAMBOREE

Victoria Clubs Sharp

Attendance wasn't as great as in former years, but Victoria's annual minor lacrosse jamboree Tuesday night at Memorial Arena was rated a success today by boxla officials.

Paid attendance for the frolic was about 800 and money raised will aid the Victoria Minor Lacrosse Association in its battle to meet expenses for the current year.

On the floor the "night" was a rousing success for Victoria area teams in three tussles with Nanaimo rivals.

Victoria peewees showed nothing but power and energy as they thumped Nanaimo 17-0 as Jimmy Lynch and Laurie Smith each contributed four goals.

Roughest game of the evening was the juvenile "B" contest, in which Victoria downed Nanaimo 7-1. Victoria picked up 31 minutes in penalties while their Hub City foes were tagged for 25 minutes.

Most interesting tussle was perhaps the juvenile "A" game. In that one, Saanich Employees hustled to a 7-4 triumph over Nanaimo.

In a bantam division bout, Victoria got five goals from Alan Mottishaw and trounced Nanaimo 15-4. Saanich Midgets took a 7-3 decision over Victoria and the city flyweights avenged that loss by blanking Saanich 2-0.

Victoria's peewees and two juvenile clubs will appear in a minor lacrosse "night" program Friday at Nanaimo.

Bush to Handle Memphis Squad

Bush was given a two-year contract.

CULLEN, GLEDDEN STAR

Mainland Side Nips Tourists

VANCOUVER — Outstanding bowling by Bill Cullen and exciting batting by Eric Gledden sparked a Mainland Cricket League side to a victory over a touring New Zealand team here Tuesday.

It was the second loss in four games for the tourists, who also lost to a B.C. side here Saturday and then scored victorits at Victoria and Shawnigan Lake.

Vancouver won by seven runs.

The Mainland eleven opened the batting Tuesday with John Blackmore getting 21 runs and driving New Zealand fast-bowler Bob Cunis at will. He was finally caught in slips, off the fine leg-break bowling of Rodney Wealleans, who tied up B.C. batsmen the entire day.

MAGNIFICENT INNINGS

Gledden then followed, scoring 56 runs in a magnificent innings in which he hit five sixes, before being bowled by Cunis.

However, from then on it was all Wealleans. He ended the day with seven wickets for 41 runs in 17 overs, holding the B.C. side to a total of 101 runs all out.

New Zealand opened its innings with a determined stand by Stewart McKnight and Dermot Payton before Payton was run out for nine runs.

However, after 17-year-old Ken Wadsworth scored a quick 27 runs before being bowled by medium-pace bowler Cullen, New Zealand was well on top of the B.C. side being 71 for 5.

STEAD TIRELESS

But the B.C. bowlers dug in with tireless Peter Stead keeping the runs down and Cullen securing the wickets, the score at tea being 89 for 7 and New Zealand needing only 13 runs for the win.

Cullen then proceeded to get George McConnell caught at mid-on, and bowled Cunis and Basil McBurney in the next over to retire New Zealand for 94.

He finished the day with seven wickets for 31 runs.

The New Zealand club now travels to Calgary and Edmonton on their cross-Canada trip.

Second-Seeded Scot Upset By American

GANTON, England (AP) — Bob Sweeny, 52, veteran American who won the title in 1937, went into the third round of the British Amateur golf championship after playing only one hole. The American lost the first hole against Englishman John Tweedy, 27, in the second round.

Then Tweedy turned to his opponent and said: "I'm feeling very sick. I'm afraid I'll have to go back to the clubhouse."

The match was given to Sweeny. Later the Englishman said:

"I got a touch of the flu last night, but I thought I would be able to carry on and play my match. It was no good though. I felt far too weak. Robert was very sympathetic."

Sweeny thus reached the third round after playing only 14 holes. He defeated Martin Barker, England, 6 and 5, Tuesday.

Another American, 28-year-old Pat Brady, pulled off the first big upset of the 72-hole tournament by defeating Scottish champion Ronnie Shade, one up. Shade, 25, was second seeded to defending champion Michael Lunt of England.

TEE TOPICS

By Ernie Fedoruk

The strands of grey are starting to show, but J. A. Squire doesn't quite appear to be the 40 years he claims to possess.

It could be his young man's personality . . .

JIM SQUIRE

Jim Squire is a golfer no longer, but he's best remembered in this town as such. The first to claim the city junior championship three years in a row (1939-41), Squire also packed away the B.C. amateur trophy once (1950), and on another occasion was the best at the University of Washington.

He even had a brief fling at professionalism.

Somewhat abruptly, golf dropped to the wayside about seven years ago and Jimmy became the sailing Squire of the Caribbean.

Master of the 57-foot, 30-ton auxiliary schooner Te Hongi II, Jim operates a charter service in the clear and enchanting waters around the West Indies. From beautiful Antigua to Grenada, the Spice Island, Squire leads well-to-do customers into adventure.

They explore tropical rivers, sail into out-of-the-way coves, search for treasure and old pirate wrecks, or just simply enjoy the idyllic scenery of the islands.

The Islands lack good golf courses, but Jim doesn't complain. Home for a brief visit, Squire took time out the other day to explain how he came to pack it up.

"Golf was getting to be too much a part of me.

"When I was pro at the Mayfair club in Edmonton back in 1956," he said, "I made up my mind to see just what I could do. I set my sights on the 1957 Canadian Open.

"I took a whole year to prepare for the tournament . . . really worked at it . . .

"I was extremely pleased with the way things went in the tournament. I never ran into any trouble and hit the ball well. As I remember, I finished three or four over par for the 54 holes.

"I finished 38th in a field of about 150.

"After working at it for a full year, I thought to myself, 'If that (38th) is the best you can do, Jim old boy, you better try something else. These other guys are good . . . real good! And there's a lot of them . . .'

"That's when I packed away my clubs."

Squire, a "project man" who can't be happy unless he is doing something different, confesses he hasn't missed his golf. He's happy and healthy. Also, sailing in the Caribbean can be damn near as exciting as golf.

* * *

But for a balky driver, Dick Munn might have improved on his fine showing in the Lilac City Open at the weekend.

The Cedar Hill pro was very much in the running for first after 45 holes. However he played the last nine holes in 41 strokes, five over par, to slip to fourth and pick up $360.

Spokane's Downriver course is tight and compact. It is advantageous to hit either a "big drive" or bang out controlled three-wood shots. Dick feels his mistake came through "trying to steer" his tee shots.

The back nine was Munn's jinx side. He was seven over par for his three trips coming in. By way of contrast, he was nine under par for the three trips over the front nine.

Sunday's final round, by the way, was interrupted by a rainstorm. At one point, Munn and his playing partners had to wait an hour before resuming their match.

* * *

SHORT CHIPS: Roger Emery captured the Colwood handicap championship Sunday with an extra-hole victory over Glen Merriman . . . Cedar Hill's handicap title went to Tony Ritchie after victory over Alan Taylor . . . Other flight winners in the Cedar Hill tournament included Greg Barnes, Bill Hobbis, Roy Clemens, John Scuby and Pete Isaacson . . . Colwood's Don Ross needs some fuel for the office, so his eagle on the ninth has to be recorded for posterity . . . Qualifying round for the Victoria Club championship will be played this Saturday . . . That's also the day for the annual city "Mr. and Mrs." tournament at Colwood . . .

Vancouver's Capilano Club, financially able to support its ambitions, is reported to be interested in playing host to the 1957 Commonwealth matches . . . Capilano could, conceivably, sweep the tournament out of Victoria Club's hands . . . Uplands' Bob Hunt finished five strokes off the pace set by co-leaders Bill Wakeham and Laurie Kerr in the first 36 holes of the City Amateur . . . To hear the boys tell it, Hunt played as well as anyone . . . He hit 30 out of 36 greens in regulation figures but played with a cool putter . . . A bad back forced Gordie Pellow to pack it up after 12 holes . . . Pellow is also expected to be idle today, missing his first team match since the Inter-Club Golf League was formed . . .

NORTH VANCOUVER—Victoria shots continue to pick up their share of available trophies in the annual B.C. Rifle Association shoot.

WO A. C. (Smokey) Green and the father-son pairing of Larry and David Salter, all extended into shootoffs, picked up prize plaques in Tuesday's firing at Blair Ranges.

Green, firing for Victoria's Canadian Scottish, won the Victoria Corporations match (15 shots at 200 yards). Smokey defeated Steve Johnson of Calgary and Gunnar Westling of Coquitlam in the shootoff after they tied at 74x75.

TEAM EVENT

The Salters edged the father-daughter team of Walter and Pat Burch in a special parent-child match.

Ernie Work of Kamloops won the Westminster Trophy, scoring 74x75 in the 500-yard match. Victoria's Sgt. Mary Robinson placed fourth in the event.

THREE-YEAR CONTRACT to continue as coach and general-manager of Toronto Maple Leafs was signed Tuesday by Punch Imlach (above), who has guided National Hockey League club to Stanley Cup title in past two seasons. No details of contract were released.

Curling Mates Chill Greaves

Curling mates Harry Harvey and Keith Dagg teamed up Tuesday evening to skip Transport Workers to within a half-step of top place in the Senior Amateur Baseball League.

They set up the only run at Royal Athletic Park as Workers edged Greaves 1-0 in the best-played game of the season.

Harvey tripled down the right field line with one out in the second inning. He rode in on Dagg's single.

Otherwise, it was a pitchers' show. George Holt allowed Workers only four hits, three of them coming in the run-producing second. Winner Art Worth allowed only three hits for a well-deserved shutout.

Tonight, starting at 7, fourth-place McLarens face league-leading Independents.

In the competition, Dick Miller of Victoria won one jalopy heat and the main event. Ross Surgena of Victoria won the other heat race, and Nanaimo's Len Clarke took the trophy dash.

IN CIVIL SERVICE

Commons Talks With 2 Tongues

By KEN KELLY

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons took a 50-minute look Tuesday at bilingualism in the federal civil service and almost all MPs who spoke found much could be improved. But they disagreed on how to do it.

Louis-Joseph Pigeon (PC—Joliette - l'Assomption - Montcalm) proposed a straight preference in hiring for bilingual persons until the civil service has about one-third of its members able to use both languages.

His proposal met with opposition from Lloyd Francis (L—Carleton) who said it would establish a language requirement which would override all others for government jobs.

Mr. Pigeon read a long list of well - paid government jobs opened for applicants who, he said, were not being asked to qualify as bilingual. This was a long way from the Liberals' promise to promote greater use of both official languages.

He said State Secretary Lamontagne had promised a bonus to bilingual persons but the ads for new jobs gave no sign of the requirement to be bilingual.

He said Justice Minister Favreau in a March 5 speech in Toronto had blamed the Civil Service Commission's attitude for the growth of separatism in Quebec but he saw no sign that the government was trying to change the commission's attitude toward hiring French-Canadians.

Yvon Dupuis, minister without portfolio, said it is strange that ministers in the previous Progressive Conservative administration hadn't the courage to speak out in support of bilingualism as had Mr. Favreau.

Robert Prittie (NDP—Burnaby - Richmond) said Mr. Pigeon confuses bilingual persons with French - Canadians. He had complaints from a number of civil servants of European origin who speak French "but not with a Canadian accent."

"This is a kind of snobbism we can do without."

Senior civil servants should make an effort to be bi-lingual. Mr. Pigeon was wrong in saying only English - Canadians benefited from the government-sponsored school to enable employees to learn a second language.

He didn't agree with a bonus for any government employee with both languages, except where he worked in an area where both languages were essential.

Theo Ricard (PC—St. Hyacinthe-Bagot) denied that the previous government did little to promote bilingualism, mentioning simultaneous translation in parliamentary debates, bilingual government cheques and a French - Canadian governor-general.

'Mixed Home Better Than an Orphanage'

TORONTO (CP)—A board of the Presbyterian Church in Canada suggested last week there is no legal or moral ground in the demands of Roman Catholics to raise children of mixed marriages as Roman Catholics.

The Board of Evangelism and Social Action recommended to the 90th general assembly of the church that it affirm Presbyterian opposition to the Roman Catholic demands.

The recommendation was one of several in a report of the board to be debated next week by about 250 delegates from 49 presbyteries at the assembly.

The report said that from a religious viewpoint, all Christian churches recognize a child baptized in the name of the Trinity as a member of the church.

However, it went on, "the problem arises because the Church of Rome insists that in order to fulfil his baptism validity, the child must proceed to at least the confirmation sacrament, and indeed remains a 'separated Christian' or a 'dissident brother' unless he continues as a communicating member of the Church of Rome."

On the subject of adoption by parents of a different natural religion, the board said "we should take advantage of the new ecumenical spirit evident in the Church of Rome, and insist that it is better for a child to be reared in the home of separated brethren than in an orphanage . . ."

In other recommendations, the board asked that the federal government revise the Criminal Code so that married couples could receive instruction in methods of birth control.

Similar recommendations were passed by the Anglican diocese of Toronto and the United Church's Board of Evangelism and Social Service earlier this year.

Consideration of a proposal that Presbyterian and United Church officials hold consultations on union was deferred so that the 49 presbyteries of the church across Canada could continue a study of their position for another year. Final decision on doctrinal consultations between the two churches was delayed until the faith and order and inter-church relations committees could confer sometime next week.

Federalists to Meet

A discussion on "The Economic Consequences of Peace" will take place at a World Federalists of Canada meeting in the St. John Ambulance Hall, 941 Pandora, at 8 p.m. on June 15.

"WHAT'S FOR LUNCH," asks one of Washington zoo's newborn, a prairie dog, as he takes tiptoe interest in morsel of food that his mother has picked up in their cage. Baby prairie dog was born May 19, along with five brothers and sisters. (AP Wirephoto.)

ALSO SEEK BIRTH-CONTROL LAW CHANGES

Presbyterians to Discuss Unity With United Church of Canada

TORONTO (CP) — The 90th Presbyterian general assembly has authorized discussions with the United Church of Canada on co-operation and the biblical meaning of unity.

The assembly decided Tuesday to have the committee on inter-church relations continue consultations with the United Church on how the two denominations may co-operate. Talks were begun earlier this year.

At the same time, the assembly approved consultations between a sub-committee from the committee on articles of faith and a similar group from the United Church.

It will study the biblical meaning of unity, with specific reference to the concept of separate denominations within the church.

The United Church of Canada was formed in 1925 when some Presbyterians merged with Methodists and Congregationalists.

The assembly passed a resolution asking the federal government to revise the Criminal Code to permit married couples to buy birth control devices and to receive birth control information.

BREAKS THE LAW

"Under the present law, every minister who gives advice on family planning is breaking the law," said Rev. A. J. Gowland of Toronto.

The federal government was also asked by the assembly to accept wilful desertion as grounds for divorce.

The Presbyterians said their church recognizes no legal or moral grounds in the demands of the Roman Catholic Church that children of mixed marriages involving a Catholic must be raised as Catholics.

The assembly defeated a motion to hold a full general assembly at Ottawa during Canada's centennial year — 1967. However, it was agreed that a pre-assembly congress should be held at Ottawa in June, 1967.

A capital fund campaign for $5,500,000 was authorized by the assembly. The money will be used to meet church expansion and missionary work.

Prof. John Wever of Toronto, chairman of the administrative council, asked that the campaign be launched in 1967.

EVERYONE BOWS OUT

Governors Fail To Stop Barry

By JACK BELL

CLEVELAND (AP)—The annual U.S. governors' conference, which has had all the aspects of a miniature Republican convention, ends today with Senator Barry Goldwater galloping almost unchallenged toward the presidential nomination.

The 56th annual convention hasn't produced a moderate Republican opponent for the conservative senator from Arizona.

Former vice - president Richard Nixon tried hard to stir up a nomination fight that some of his critics thought was aimed at opening the way for Nixon himself to run against President Johnson as a compromise choice in the November presidential election.

But none of the Republican governors, who had claimed that Goldwater's views are not in the mainstream of Republican thinking, wanted to take on the senator.

ROMNEY BOWS OUT

Latest to bow out was Governor George Romney of Michigan. He announced Tuesday that he would not become an active candidate. Romney said he would accept a draft, but wouldn't go back on a 1962 commitment to Michigan voters not to seek national office this year.

This announcement came after Nixon said he had urged Romney to run, and Romney said he had been urged by some fellow governors to make the race and would consider it.

Earlier, Governor William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania retired from the field after former president Eisenhower put on a go-and-stop operation in his behalf. Eisenhower urged Scranton to make himself more available, then advised the governor not to join any cabal against Goldwater.

This left Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York as Goldwater's only avowed opponent. And it was evident that none of the other governors, nor Nixon, wanted to support him.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Barry Goldwater—standing on the threshold of the Republican presidential nomination—is eyeing four eastern leaders as he thinks about a running mate.

To his closest associates, Goldwater has mentioned these names as possible vice-presidential choices: Pennsylvania Governor William W. Scranton, Senator Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, Representative William E. Miller of New York, Governor James A. Rhodes of Ohio.

Goldwater hasn't ruled anybody in or out of the running, a source close to the Arizona senator said today.

But Goldwater has said he thinks the Republican national convention will want to balance the ticket—if he heads it—with a moderate Republican from the east.

The four men associates say Goldwater has mentioned all fit that pattern.

Publicly, Goldwater usually bypasses questions about a vice-presidential choice. "I'm looking for delegates, not vice presidents," is his stock reply.

$100 Pension Senior Citizens Aim

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Senior Citizens Association of British Columbia wants an old age pension of $100 for Canadians at the age of 65.

Fifty-seven delegates to the association's annual meeting voted Tuesday night to ask the federal government to boost the pension $25 over the present $75 a month.

Said Wilfred Kelly, the association's provincial president:

"We usually ask for $10 increase. But this year we're asking for $25 to keep up with the rapidly-increasing cost of living."

"Seventy-five dollars a month isn't a pittance to anyone if they aren't getting some other income."

The association also endorsed resolutions asking the same medical care for dependents of persons on war veterans' allowances and war veterans' widows' allowances as that given veterans and adoption of a comprehensive medical plan covering eye, nose, throat and feet and ambulance service for old age pensioners.

QUEEN WILL SHOW TIARA ON NEW COINS

OTTAWA (CP) — Queen Elizabeth has approved a new effigy for use on Canadian coins, an announcement said the new effigy was produced in view of impending changes in the coinage of certain Commonwealth countries using the royal effigy.

The effigy is a head and shoulders portrait. Space is left for an inscription at the sides of the effigy instead of in a complete circle as on present coins.

OVER LAND USE

North Van Indians Picket CNR, PGE

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP)—Ownership of land, long in dispute between Indians and railways but now in the history books, has flared anew here.

The Squamish Indians, however, didn't don war paint and break out their tools of war. Instead they painted up some placards and began picketing the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

The band was protesting the CNR unloading material along the right-of-way the Indians sold to the government-owned PGE in 1912.

"The CNR never negotiated with us, it just moved in," said Cliff Paul, a spokesman for the band. "If they want to work here they should use proper channels."

Gordon Ritchie, PGE right-of-way agent, said the CNR and PGE had entered an agreement to undertake a joint venture and lay two more tracks on the edge of the Indian reserve lands.

Mr. Ritchie said he would talk to the Indian agent about the pickets and speak also with Chief Mathias Joe, who was on hand to lend support to his people.

Bitter Strike Ends

HILLSDALE, Mich. (AP)—Strikers at the strife-torn Essex Wire Corporation Tuesday ratified a new contract, ending a violence-ridden, 102-day strike.

FORMER vice-president of a Chicago bank, Edward Froderman was named president of the Christian Science Church at its annual meeting in Boston Monday. He resigned from the bank 15 years ago to enter the public practice of Christian Science healing. Several thousand Christian scientists attended the Boston meeting.

50 PIECES

Students' Shop-Work Placed on Display

Whether some high school students set out to build a paper punch or an eight-foot cabinet complete with radio, TV, record player, tape recorder and stereo speakers, the results can be amazingly good.

Presently on display in the basement of Eaton's main building are over 50 pieces of work from industrial arts students of Greater Victoria junior and senior secondary schools.

Metalwork exhibits include such diverse projects as trowels, hacksaws, wrenches, fret saws and even a combination lock with two dials.

Furniture includes chairs in the Danish modern style, coffee tables of all shapes, and two old-fashioned fireside benches with embroidered cushioning.

Outstanding by virtue of its size and complexity is an eight-foot "entertainment" cabinet containing TV, radio, record player, tape recorder, and stereo speakers.

The cabinet was built at school during industrial arts periods by Ed Thompson, Grade 12 student at Oak Bay. The electronic equipment was assembled at home.

The display will continue for the duration of the week in the area adjacent to the Eaton's post office.

AT VANCOUVER trading was moderate. Ace Mines climbed to .33½ and Futurity to .58. Granduc was up at $6.30 and Western Mines at $4.85. Massey-Ferguson rose to $28⅞ and Aluminum to $32.50.

FINANCING SET FOR MAINLAND APT. PROJECT

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mayor William Rathie told city council Tuesday that financing has been arranged for the proposed $55,000,000 Webb and Knapp Coal Harbor apartment development.

The mayor's statement followed repeated demands from aldermen that the development company owed the council an "explanation on when they are going to do something."

Ted Loftus, local vice-president of the firm, said in an interview financing was arranged in Montreal, but that he could not give details.

TG Moves To Open Up Mineral Find

NEW YORK (CP)—Texas Gulf Sulphur Company of New York announced Tuesday it is interviewing contractors to select one who will begin preparations prior to removal of the huge deposits of copper, zinc and silver from the earth near Timmins, Ont.

The company also announced that contracts are being let for construction of an access road to the property, mainly in Kidd Township, 15 miles north of Timmins.

Texas Gulf announced the mineral find in April. The discovery of the ore-body—estimated at 25,000,000 tons—brought new life to Timmins and touched off a wild speculative spree in penny mining stocks with land or mineral rights around Timmins.

Tuesday's announcement, made in a statement by Claude O. Stephens, Texas Gulf president, said the chosen contractor will open the pit above the ore body and build an ore and concentrating plant.

No starting dates were mentioned in the statement.

Furniture Makers In Canada Form National Council

MONTREAL (CP)—Canadian furniture manufacturers formed a Canadian Council of Furniturers at the industry's first national convention and machinery and supply show here.

John Sharp, president of Vilas Industries Ltd., Cowansville, Que., was named interim chairman.

The council represents an industry with an estimated $380,000,000 sales in 1963.

The board of directors is formed of appointees from five regional furniture groups. They include Allen Segal, Vancouver and Morley Globerman, Winnipeg.

Petrofina Plans To Extend Retail Operations West

MONTREAL (CP) — A. F. Campo, president of Canadian Petrofina Ltd., said Tuesday the company expects to extend its retail operations into Western Canada "in the near future."

Mr. Campo declined to elaborate other than to say the project wouldn't involve the construction of new refining facilities.

He said he expected Canadian Petrofina's cash flow in 1964, plus a modest increase in long-term debt through a note already privately placed, would be sufficient to provide for the capital outlays including the exploration and development programs in Western Canada.

Working capital will be maintained at approximately the same level as the $10,153,445 at Dec. 31, 1963, Mr. Campo said.

APPROVAL IN PRINCIPLE

B.C. Bank Bill Gets 2nd Senate Reading

OTTAWA (CP) — A private bill to establish the Bank of British Columbia received second reading—approval in principle—in the Senate Tuesday after its sponsor rejected argument that the proposed institution would be unconstitutional.

The bill, sponsored by Senator J. W. de Farris (L—British Columbia) received second reading on division without a recorded vote. Senators—Liberals and Conservatives — who called on division said earlier they would approve second reading only for the purpose of getting a chance to question the sponsors of the bank before a Senate committee.

Main criticism of the bill in the Senate has been that establishment of the bank would put the B.C. Social Credit government in the banking business, an area of federal jurisdiction.

The bank, which is to have a capitalization of $100,000,000, would receive one-quarter of that amount from the B.C. government. Both Liberal and Conservative senators have said this would give Premier Bennett's government effective control of the bank.

WILLING TO APPEAR

Senator Farris said he understands that Premier Bennett is willing to appear before the Senate committee and state his case.

"I think he should come so that some of our senators, with all their ability, will be able to ask him questions and then we will get the acid test," he said.

Referring to statements that it would be unconstitutional for a bank to be controlled in part or in whole by a provincial legislature, he said: "I know of no authority to support that."

The British North America Act gave the provinces exclusive jurisdiction over property and civil rights. The federal Bank Act stated that shares in a bank were personal property.

Senator Farris said this meant that under the BNA Act and the Bank Act a province has exclusive jurisdiction over property, including shares in a bank. A provincial government had as much right as anyone else to buy shares in a bank.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Prices were generally steady to higher on the Winnipeg grain exchange today.

Aggressive buying and active trade appeared in response to the continued lack of moisture in much of the prairie grain belt and the pessimistic tone of crop reports.

Broad demand for flax was based largely on covering orders and some export support.

Feed grain trade was active. There was good demand for barley and trade reports showed shipment of 130,000 bushels of barley from the lakehead to the United States.

The oats trade was mostly domestic with narrow movement of prices.

The rye market was also firm with buying stimulated by unfavorable crop prospects.

Reports of a sale of 500 tons of Canadian rapeseed to Japan also produced an advance in rapeseed prices.

CHICAGO (AP) — Speculators traded cautiously or not at all today in the grain futures market and prices generally were only fractions either way from previous closes most of the time on the board of trade.

Soybeans derived a little speculative support on reports that there hasn't been rain in areas where it is badly needed.

Hedging pressure in wheat slackened sharply and brokers said the moderate revival of export business had encouraged scattered short covering.

Shale Project Gets Go-Ahead

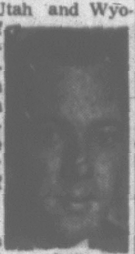
By GORDON BELL
Times Business Editor



Bell

Events slowly taking shape in a 16,500-square-mile section of Colorado, Utah and Wyoming are of great significance to Canada, which is depending on the U.S. market to dispose of ever greater quantities of crude oil and natural gas.

After decades of delay and hesitation, a definite program is being mapped out to tap the huge oil shale resources of the area which contains a staggering reserve of around 3.4 trillion barrels of solid organic matter known as kerogen which can be processed to produce a synthetic crude oil or a fuel gas. Recovery rate is estimated at about 70 per cent.

JOINT VENTURE

The program is a joint venture organized by Standard of Ohio, the Oil Shale Corporation and Cleveland-Cliffs Iron, which plans to go into production on shale extracted by open-pit mining on a 7,500-acre tract owned by Dow Chemical near Rifle, Colo.

It has been forecast that production will be underway within three years and that output will reach 1.5 million barrels daily by 1975.

Also organizing to enter the shale oil field are such indus-shale oil field are such industry giants as Shell, Jersey Standard, Mobil and Continental.

Some idea of the import of these ventures can be gained by comparing them with the development of the Athabasca oil sands which is just now getting under way on a comparatively modest scale. The Athabasca sands, which have often been referred to as containing the equivalent of the world's known reserves of conventional crude, are puny compared with the U.S. shale lands — 300 billion barrels against 3.4 trillion barrels.

The U.S. shale lands also have the advantage of being closer to markets.

HIGH COSTS

Just as with the Athabasca oil sands, production costs have been the main factor in holding up development of the U.S. shale lands. The Oil Shale Corporation (TOSCO) now says, however, the method of processing it has developed would yield a light crude at a cost of between $1.25 and $1.45 a barrel. With the replacement cost of conventional crude in the U.S. at over $3 a barrel today, and the discovery rate at a very low level, the shale product is now in a good economic position.

The light crude which can be produced from the shale suits the pattern of greatest demand since the light product is richest in gasoline. In addition, it can be converted to fuel gas at prices competitive with natural gas and is found only a short distance from the rich southern California market. It is estimated that the shale lands, in terms of conversion to gas, contain the equivalent of eight times world natural gas reserves.

TIMING FACTOR

So far as the impact of shale oil on Canadian oil and gas resources are concerned, it is timing that is all-important. At the present time Canadian oil and gas production is limited to the comparatively slow but steady growth of the domestic market plus whatever can be sold in the U.S. In the case of oil, Canada now supplies about 24 per cent of American requirements and the growth factor in this area is going to be fairly slow in the next few years.

If, as seems possible, Athabasca oil sands product comes on the market at around the same time as the Sohio, TOSCO, Cleveland-Cliffs shale product, there is going to be a temporary glut of oil. In fact, if all the various plans materialize, production of shale oil could reach as high as 500,000 barrels a day within just a few years.

SUPPLEMENT

Over the longer term, of course, shale oil and oil sands products will be needed to supplement conventional crude in supplying the North American demand. Within 10 years time, for instance, U.S. demand alone is expected to reach 15 million barrels a day compared with about 11.5 million barrels a day at present.

Nevertheless, initially at least, it seems logical to recognize the likelihood that shade oil could, and probably would, act as a deterrent to some growth in the export of Canadian oil as well as in the export of Canadian natural gas to a lesser extent.

REPORT DUE THIS WEEK

Reserve Forces Train Together?

Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—Savings of between $4,000,000 to $6,000,000 a year may be realized by combining the training facilities of reserve establishment of the navy, army and air force, defence spokesmen said here Tuesday.

The first report of the Suttie Commission is expected to be presented to the Commons defence committee this week. That commission has the responsibility of recommending procedures for the revision of the whole reserve system, including the militia.

The initial report is expected to contain general principles and recommendations applicable to the three forces. A second and later report will contain details and specific proposals, affecting reserve establishments in many of the major centres across the country.

The commission, headed by Brig. Earle R. Suttie, of Montreal, was set up last January. It was the first formal step in the government's plan to cut the Canadian militia from 51,000 to 30,000.

The Suttie Commission was called upon to recommend the best means of fulfilling the militia requirements of Canadian defence policy and changes deemed necessary in militia organization to carry out its functions.

The militia, in addition to providing a reserve manpower pool for the army, was given the job under the previous government, of playing a key role in civil defence or national survival operations. The Suttie Commission will likely deal with this role and how reduced militia forces might be expected to cope with that task.

Arthur Mayse

An American news-writer was complaining the other day about modern man's tendency to pass by on the other side when some fellow human is in trouble. This policy of non-interference, we were told, has now reached the point where witnesses to street violence may not even call the cops.

This is a pretty dismal state of affairs, although the reporter might have added that in some U.S. cities, the law has a cute trick of holding the citizen who alerts it as a material witness. But it doesn't necessarily follow that the Good Samaritan—who, I seem to recall, got in his licks after the robbers had departed—has vanished from our scene.

He exists among us, even though the social climate of our civilization has forced caution upon him.

A family gets burned out. While the victims are still fleeing in night attire (one of those quaint but useful cliches that help us handle news fast) the samaritans are in action. They can't do enough to help.

A fund is launched. People who never even heard of the folks who were required to scurry across the front lawn in pyjama tops or bottoms are quick with a buck.

The stricken family may even find itself better off than it was before the fire.

* * *

Professional students of human behavior, a glum crowd who would probably benefit from a forced sprint in night attire, declare the Good Samaritan's motives suspect.

It isn't kindness or an enlightened sense of responsibility that sets men beating the woods for the lost child, these have insisted. Rather it is the charge which good doing imparts to our ego.

Maybe so. Still what on earth is wrong with feeling we're pretty fine fellows in spite of all? In complex modern life, the times are precious few when man as an individual can be ingenuously pleased with himself. His prevailing color is grey. The IBM robots have filed and classified him. His lifeline traces its course between happiness and unhappiness with scarce a jog.

So, if he has given aid and succor to another needful human, why should not he boost his poor, battered ego with a shot of self-adulation?

Good deeds aplenty are done in this naughty world for no reward other than the satisfaction of helping another upon whom fortune has chosen to scowl.

Sooner or later, the Good Samaritan shows up. Once for me he was a housepainter, may his eavestroughs never blister, who towed my car five miles to the nearest gas station. Turn but a stone, the poet reminds us, and start a wing.

* * *

Even in the big, tough cities, help is by no means always denied.

In the men's washroom of a bistro where the bill is larger than the steaks, a gent there present found himself trapped by a frightfully simple but simply frightful jackpot. His zipper had run off the side and he couldn't get it back.

He worked on it, casually at first, then profanely, then—spurred no doubt by a vision of his table companion waiting in her little mink stole—frantically.

"You won't get anywhere that way," someone said. "Better take 'em off."

This the owner did. Various suggestions were offered and approaches tried. We even greased the zipper with liquid soap. No dice.

But did we strangers leave this other stranger to his predicament? In a pig's eye!

Scouts were dispatched back to their tables. They bent to whisper. Handbags were searched for safety pins. Restored, the casualty emerged, to be checked by vigilant eyes as he strolled with exaggerated nonchalance to his place.

The sparrow falls. But often enough to warrant at least minimum faith in humanity, some Good Samaritan is there to catch it.

Small Cannery Proposed For Visiting Fishermen

A small cannery for visiting anglers may be established at Brentwood.

Central Saanich council Tuesday tabled for further consideration an application for the establishment of a "custom" cannery at Creed's Landing. Applicant is Claude Creed.

Mr. Creed said the cannery would be the first of its kind in B.C., and built in accordance with specifications laid down by the Federal Fisheries Act.

"It would enable foreign sportsmen to have their fish canned at Brentwood and shipped to their homes in the United States," he said.

There are several such canneries in Washington and Oregon.

He said the cannery would not be a nuisance as all fish heads and tails would be placed in a freezer for later shipment to mink farms.

Foulis Must Stand Trial, Court Rules

Robert A. Foulis of Salt Spring Island will stand trial on seven counts of fraud involving a total of almost a quarter of a million dollars.

Magistrate William Ostler this morning rejected a motion by Foulis' lawyer to quash the charges on the grounds they did not contain sufficient facts to identify the offences of which Foulis is accused.

He remanded Foulis, who is free on bail, to June 19 for election and plea.

The magistrate said the charges "give reasonable information" to the accused of the acts of which he is accused.

PRECEDENTS CITED

Vancouver lawyer A. M. Manson, who is defending Foulis, earlier cited legal precedents in an attempt to show that the information given in the charges was insufficient.

But the magistrate said today that they do provide "adequate particularity" since each specified dates, names, amounts and the type of transaction alleged against Foulis.

Foulis is charged with fraud involving a scheme for the buying and re-selling of liquor. Although the total fraud alleged is $238,000, police said the actual money lost by investors in the scheme is less than $100,000.

55-Year Resident Mrs. E. J. Peden Dies Here at 76

A resident here for 55 years and member of a prominent Victoria family, Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Peden died here Tuesday.

Mrs. Peden, 76, wife of Thomas Peden, was born in Vancouver. Her family lived on Sea Island and owned much of the property now forming Vancouver International Airport.

She lived with her husband at Brentwood during her early years on the Island. At Brentwood, she worked in the family grocery store and took an active part in Women's Institute affairs.

Later, in Victoria, Mrs. Peden belonged to the First Baptist Church and the British Israel Association.

She is survived by the husband, four daughters, nine grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Mary Boston, of Vancouver. A son, Gordon, was killed in RCAF action in the Second World War.

Also taking part in the exercises will be the Pacific Command's submarine HMCS Grilse, which arrived in Portland today to represent the RCN at the Oregon City's Rose Festival.

Members of the ships' companies will participate in festival activities which include a parade through Vancouver June 26 and an open house weekend.

Sailing in HMCS Fraser will be Captain R. J. Pickford, recently appointed commander of the second Canadian Escort Squadron. He succeeded Capt. G. H. Hayes.

The four ships are scheduled to return to Esquimalt June 29.

Bank Holdup Suspect's Wrist Cut

A man accused of bank robbery was found with his wrist cut in the cells of the city police station this morning.

William Clarence Kraft was rushed to Royal Jubilee Hospital where he received five stitches to a superficial wound on his left wrist.

He was later returned to the cell block and was expected to be in Saanich court this afternoon for the continuance of his trial for armed robbery.

(See page 10.)

RAZOR BLADE FOUND

City police said a safety razor blade was found in Kraft's cell. A small slit was also discovered in the waistband of his trousers in which a razor blade could have been hidden.

City Police Chief J. F. Gregory said a constable discovered Kraft's bleeding wrist.

The prisoner was checked at 8 this morning and was all right at that time, the chief said. A constable looked into Kraft's cell three-quarters of an hour later and saw the prisoner still in bed.

DISCOVERED BLEEDING

The officer entered the cell, pulled back the bed clothes and found Kraft lying there bleeding.

City police applied first aid on the spot and then removed Kraft on a stretcher to the police wagon in which he was taken to hospital.

Kraft is a prisoner of Saanich police but has been held in the city cells. He is charged with the armed robbery, along with three other men, of the Bank of Montreal at Cook and Quadra April 24.

Fisherman Hits Spring Bonanza

Deep-sea fisherman Cliff Gissing, 2533 Graham, hit the salmon jackpot this week by landing nearly 2,000 pounds of springs slated for the fancy tables of New York or Europe.

Gissing thinks it was the best catch landed in Victoria area this season, although there have been far bigger ones in past seasons.

The run of spring salmon is below normal and in view of that his catch is a valuable one, worth about $1,600 on the dock, or a fraction under $200 a day for his nine days in the troller Shaula on La Perous Bank.

But in New York the succulent, silver beauties bring 15-20 cents a pound more than here.

This was a "mild cure" catch, the term applied by the trade to fish weighing 12½ pounds or over.

TREATED GENTLY

They are accorded kid glove treatment from the moment they are caught.

"We even kill them before bringing them over the side so they won't flop around in the boat and damage their scales," fisherman Gissing explained.

"Then we dress them, fill the cavity with ice, pack ice around them and between them in layers, all within two hours."

Then, landed at Ogden Point, they are put into deep freeze and readied for shipment to the cosmopolitan cities of the western world.

Shaula—named after the ancient navigator's star—made her haul about 20 miles seaward from Barkley Sound in international fishing grounds.

After a few days' rest, she sails Friday for the Queen Charlottes to try to pick up cohos when the season opens Monday. She will run down the west coast of the island for the following fortnight.

Sergeant Demoted To Corporal

A suspended Victoria police sergeant was reinstated by city police commission today but he was demoted to corporal's rank.

The commission, after a hearing in camera that stretched over several days, found that Thomas Stevenson was properly suspended without pay by Chief J. F. K. Gregory, May 20 after a fellow officer made written charges against him of breaking regulations.

ALLOWED BACK PAY

But the commission decided to allow him back pay for the period, on compassionate grounds.

The commission also said that in deciding to re-instate him, it was taking into account that he has less than seven months to go before retirement, after 35 years service.

EIGHT CHARGES

Ex-mayor Claude Harrison, QC, represented Cpl. Stevenson at the hearings in which he faced eight allegations of misconduct and dereliction of duty.

The charges included sleeping on duty, profanity, failing to enter a charge in the blotter, neglect of duty, failing to search a prisoner properly, failing to set an example, failing to use civil and orderly conduct at all times, failing to enter complaints carefully in the log.

Commission agreed with all the charges after hearing sworn evidence except sleeping on duty and failing to enter complaints carefully. However, it noted that while it accepted his testimony he was not sleeping, he did admit lying down on a bench while on duty.

Life-Saving Classes Scheduled This Month

About 65 persons Tuesday night went to St. John Ambulance headquarters to receive training in Holger-Neilson and mouth-to-mouth respiration.

Similar classes in the organization's save-a-life program will be held at 941 Pandora June 16, 23 and 30, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Faulty Door Lock Found By Police on Death Car

Jury Rules Woman Died Accidentally

The car from which a young mother tumbled to her death Saturday was unsafe to drive, a police officer testified today.

Police Constable Clifford Hanson said he attended an accident at Quadra and Market Street at about 12:50 a.m. June 6.

There, he found 27-year-old Leona Bolan of 4006 Carey, lying in the roadway with a bad gash on her head.

Her husband said she had fallen out of the car while they were travelling along Quadra.

BADLY WORN

Constable Hanson said he examined the car door and found it to be faulty. He said he had difficulty closing it, even on the safety latch, and the fittings were badly worn and loose.

He said the husband said that he had told his wife to sit close to him and not to sit with her back to the door.

The husband, Jack Bolan, said he and his wife were going home after a night out in town. His wife he said, was sitting with her back to the door, her shoes off and her feet on the seat, "when all of a sudden she fell out."

NEVER BEFORE

He said the door had never opened in this manner before and said his main trouble had been getting it to open.

Dr. Ross McNeeley said that his post mortem showed surgery would have been to no avail because of severe brain injury.

Mrs. Bolan died Monday in Royal Jubilee Hospital.

The jury returned once to say Mrs. Bolan died accidentally due to a faulty door mechanism. But Coroner Edmond Jorre de St. Jorre said the findings were contradictory and he sent the jury back for further consideration.

The final verdict was death by accident.

Spinning Wheels Add To Success of Show

The stage was set with a display of spinning wheels that would set a collector's heart fluttering when the 30th anniversary exhibition and sale of the Victoria Hand Weavers' Guild was opened by Alan MacLean in the Hudson's Bay Douglas Room, Tuesday morning.

"Star" of the display was the huge "Great Wheel" loaned by member, Miss Florence Daniels. The spinning wheel is of the early 1800 period and was brought by Miss Daniels from Kentucky.

Another, loaned by Mrs. W. C. Higgins was one used by her great-grandmother in Scotland.

Yet another was an old French-Canadian model, brought from Quebec by another member, W. C. Turner.

Theme of the exhibition which continues until 5 p.m. Saturday is "Symphony of Color". Thursday and Friday the exhibition is open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Other days the exhibition will close at 5 p.m.

In keeping with the theme, Mrs. G. L. Robertson has woven wall hangings of multi-toned ribbons that create oases of color on the room's walls.

A generous swath of upholstery fabric, woven by Mrs. A. G. Kinnis lends extra interest. Mrs. Kinnis wove the fabric used to decorate the lounge in the new wing of the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Other interesting displays include card or table weaving, samples of which were found in the tombs of Egypt and ancient Inkle loom weaving which is still being done in the Philippines.

Among organized weaving groups who will be visiting the exhibition are young patients of the cerebral palsy clinic, grade five pupils of Willows Elementary School and patients of clinic operated by the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

In addition to watching Mrs. G. Singleton, president and exhibition convener, and other members spin, they will see others weaving at table looms.

Articles displayed include gaily striped gardening aprons, vividly-toned bath mats, wool scarves in pastels and plaids, modernly designed handbags, including evening bags; place mats for everything from patio to formal dinners, soft pastel stoles and towels of every shade.

A dinner table, set with Ming gold mats in a lacey weave, is another attractive feature.

Mrs. E. Hartshorne arranged spinning wheel display. Flower arrangements are by Mrs. B. C. Ryan. Mrs. S. Pickles was refreshment convener for official opening.

DEAR ABBY . . .

Double Grief!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I read about the kind, considerate woman who was given a box of good clothing that once belonged to her dearest friend who had died. She asked you if you thought it might sadden members of her friend's family to see their mother's clothing being worn by someone else. I was pleased that you told her to go ahead and wear them as it would give them pleasure. I know. I lost a beautiful daughter in her early 20's. She had closetful of lovely clothes. After she passed away, I divided them up and gave them to her friends. I was deeply hurt when I offered a brand new evening gown to one young woman and she replied, "Thanks a lot, but I don't think I could ever put it on. It would give me the creeps."

HURT DEEPLY.

DEAR ABBY: When my father died we distributed his clothes to needy men all over town. Dad had a horse blanket type jacket he wore for fishing, which we gave to Old Rudy, the janitor who worked at our plant. One evening mother and I were walking down the street and I spied Old Rudy—who was exactly dad's size—walking toward us in that familiar fishing jacket. My heart skipped a beat, and I tried to distract mother, not knowing how she would react. She saw him, of course, and then she said to me, "Oh, look. There's Old Rudy in dad's jacket. Wouldn't dad be pleased to know that Old Rudy is getting some good out of it? Dad always thought so much of him!"

DAD'S GIRL.

DEAR ABBY: As is usually the lot of the eldest daughter, I was called upon to dispose of all my mother's usable clothing after she had passed away. My mother, in her lifetime, had always been a very generous person, and she was forever giving to those less fortunate than herself. I distributed her clothing among those who were needy. I gave a fine winter wardrobe to mamma's laundress. Several of my friends recognized my mother's good winter coat being worn by this woman. One friend said to me, "Doesn't it bother you to see your mother's clothes again?" I answered, "If I never wanted to see them again, I'd have given everything to the Salvation Army."

NOT BOTHERED.

DEAR ABBY: Our mother was as pretty as a picture and was always dressed in the height of fashion and in the most elegant taste. Her weakness was beautiful hats, and she had dozens of them. She died, at 64, two years ago. We gave each of her friends one of mother's lovely hats. Some were ten years old, but still fashionable, and all were as good as new, in their original boxes and tissue. You cannot imagine the joy it brought us when we spotted eight of mother's beautiful hats in church on Easter Sunday.

HER DAUGHTERS.

Christ Church Cathedral Scene of Recent Wedding

Spring bouquets decorated Christ Church Cathedral at recent ceremony that united Mavis Marilyn Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. F. D. Smith, 39 South Turner Street, and George Yokanovich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Yokanovich of Port Alberni.

Rev. E. W. S. Gilbert officiated and Richard Proudman was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an exquisite floor-length white gown, featuring lace top and long sleeves. A bow with lace added interest to back of the softly full skirt. Her waist-length veil was held with a single white rose. She carried red roses in her bouquet.

Turquoise blue gowns were chosen by matron of honor, Mrs. R. A. Richardson, and three bridesmaids, Misses Helen Cockrane, Eileen Casserley and Pauline Perry. White carnations sprayed to tone with their gowns formed their bouquets.

Best man was Bob Richardson, and Bronko Yokanovich, Glenn Smith and Walter Smith ushered guests to their pews.

Hubert Smith proposed the toast to the bride's happiness at reception which followed in the Ingraham Hotel. Decorations for head table were red roses and a three-tier wedding cake decorated with rosebuds and topped with miniature bride and groom.

Leaving for a honeymoon trip up-Island, the bride donned a blue three-piece suit complemented with white accessories.

On their return the newlyweds will live in 3898 Lancaster Drive.

Cupid Had To Wait

By PAT DUFOUR

Mrs. James Newton gives a little wifely adjustment to one of the rose boutonnieres which her husband loves to pick from their garden. To celebrate their coming anniversary, Mr. Newton gave her a diamond pendant, already her favorite piece of jewelry.

It was love at first sight for Mr. and Mrs. James Newton but it took him five years "to pop the question."

They met on a railroad station in Cumberland, England, 70 years ago and were married in Crown Baptist Church at Millom, Cumberland, on June 15, 1904. The five-year delay was caused by a simple matter of economics.

But although Mr. Newton freely admits that they've "never had to worry about fat bank accounts," both assert that they wouldn't change places with anyone.

Mrs. Newton is 84, and her husband, 83. He jokingly complains that "it's awful being married to an older woman," but there's a twinkle in his eyes as he says it.

They came to Canada in 1913, moving to Vancouver in 1917. They were able to return here in 1946 when Mr. Newton retired after 33 years with the Canadian National Railways.

Their home at 1312 Lang Street sparkles with cleanliness and their tiny garden is the pride of the street. They're both proud that they are "independent and look after ourselves completely."

Mr. Newton is an active member of the Lake Hill Lawn Bowling Club but tells you that his petite wife doesn't compete because "she's too light for heavy work."

Mary Newton loves to fill her few idle moments by knitting scarves for missionaries in India. Both are members of Douglas Street Baptist Church.

It is in the church's lower auditorium that they'll hold their anniversary reception next Monday from 7 to 9 p.m. Among the guests will be Mary Newton's sister, Mrs. Emma Tyson. She was bridesmaid at the wedding.

The man who took Mr. Newton's place with the CNR will also be celebrating that day. There will be a Vancouver party to mark the successor's retirement.

Says Mr. Newton, "I was invited but I had to write and tell them I had a prior engagement."

Both give their recipe for a happy marriage. "You have to work as a team. If you can't do that, you might as well stay single."

As an after-thought, Mr. Newton suggests, "You should live a clean life."

Teasingly, Mary Newton tops this with "Or have a quiet wife."

Mrs. Butt Wins Contest

At recent annual banquet of Arbutus Toastmistress Club, held in the Colonial Inn, Mrs. R. Butt, winner of club speech contest, was presented with the perpetual trophy and a silver tray by Mrs. G. Love.

On behalf of club members, Mrs. E. Mansley presented Mrs. Butt with a token of appreciation for winning the International Toastmistress Club speech contest at club level.

Guest of honor, Mrs. J. J. Wiart, president of Victoria club, was introduced by Mrs. S. McCulloch, president. Grace was given by Mrs. A. Blake. Toast, proposed by Mrs. T. F. Howe, was replied to by J. Gillis.

Topic mistress, Mrs. D. L. Campbell, conducted a table topic with six participants relating what they would expect to do and visit in a certain country. Each had previously received a flag of that country. Mrs. Campbell was introduced by Miss H. Jewell.

Mrs. J. Roberts introduced the evening's toastmistress, Miss B. Ince who used "Golden Hoard" as her theme. Speeches on "The Power of Word" and "Arbutus 64-65" were presented by Mrs. Butt and Mrs. H. Winstone, respectively.

Moderator for a debate on whether or not the districts of Victoria, Oak Bay and Esquimalt should be amalgamated for greater efficiency, was Mrs. F. Dearman. Mrs. W. Howes and Mrs. W. A. Ludlow presented arguments for the affirmative and Mrs. C. H. Dowling and Mrs. D. Pite, negative. Judges, M. F. Dearman, R. Butt and Mrs. Wiart, announced the negative team victors.

Officers installed for the coming year by Mrs. J. Gillis include president, Mrs. Butt; vice-president, Mrs. T. F. Howe; recording secretary, Mrs. W. A. Ludlow; correspondence, Mrs. H. L. Brigham; treasurer, Mrs. E. R. Ashbridge and club representatives, Mrs. D. L. Campbell and Miss H. Jewell. Each officer was presented with a colored streamer representing duties and responsibilities of her office.

Vote of thanks to out-going officers was proposed by Mrs. O. Ker.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Select Father's Day Gifts Depicting Favorite Sports

By PENNY SAVER

Say, you haven't forgotten that Father's Day is coming up soon, have you?

Even if you have, there are still several days left to shop for gifts for the man of the house.

Ideal at this time of year is something depicting his favorite sport.

And, since it looks like boating weather is here to stay, here is a suggestion for the yachtsman.

Shop I was in today has a selection of ships log and guest register books priced at $5.95.

Inside cover of this book gives a compass deviation card and first page is devoted to details of the ship including name, home port, owner and details of size.

Remainder of book provides space for ships log, radio log, expenses and guests.

Ideal for the fisherman is a floating fishing knife. Knives are priced at $1 and $2 and are designed with stainless steel blades and cork handles.

Lower priced knife comes in its own leather sheath and top edge of the blade is serrated for scaling the fish. Blade of the other style knife folds back into the cork handle for added protection against rusting.

If your father is a bit of a practical joker, here's an idea that should rate a couple of chuckles. Sunday mornings when he sits down to his first cup of coffee, serve it to him in a special English-made mug. Everything proceeds normally until he comes to his last mouthfull and finds a realistic looking frog in the bottom of the cup. Price is $2.

For name and location of shop selling these gift ideas, call Penny at 382-3131.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Those Bags Under Your Eyes Can Be Removed

Lowman

Bags or pouches under the eyes are defects which make many women unhappy. These are indeed aging and, if extreme, can be disfiguring.

The skin under the eyes is very delicate, and with time, the underlying muscles and tissues may weaken. This allows underlying fat to push through the weakened muscles thus causing the bagginess. This fat can be removed with plastic surgery. This is one of the highly successful plastic surgery operations if you have a well-qualified surgeon.

Plastic surgery is really the only answer to the problem of real bags. This tendency sometimes seems to be inherited.

Puffs under the eyes and puffy lids are another matter. If you have this problem, you should have a thorough physical examination since kidney and heart disease can cause these. Poor circulation is also sometimes the culprit.

Usually the cause will be less serious, but the above possibilities should be ruled out. Allergies are frequently the reason. Many women have allergies without realizing it. They may have sudden rashes or puffy eyes or sneezes occasionally and such situations may become chronic. If a physical check rules out disease, then see a skin specialist or an allergist for help. Perhaps only one offending item you come in contact with or eat is causing the trouble.

You might try using one of the cosmetic lines planned especially for those who are allergic to the usual kind. These have creams, lipsticks, powders, mascaras and a complete list of the usual skin and cosmetic aids. There are several splendid companies. If you would like to have the names of a few, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for them to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Eyestrain or infected eyelids can also cause puffy lids. Some actresses find that damp, warm tea bags placed over the lids help reduce the swelling.

If you would like to have my free leaflet "Puffs and Lines," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet number 60 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Victoria West annual flower show, St. Saviour's parish hall, Saturday, 2:30 to 9 p.m., to be opened by Mrs. Findlay S. McKinnon. Tea, door prize.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Susan Cautmore, age 12, of Shawnee, Okla., for her question:

How fast does Neptune go around the sun?

Astronomers first spotted the planet Neptune in 1846, and since its discovery the lazy giant has travelled less than three-quarters of the journey around its orbit. Only one planet lies beyond the orbit of Neptune, and only one planet of the solar system travels more slowly.

Little Pluto, pedaling around the outer rim of the solar system, travels a little slower than its neighbor Neptune. All the other planets are faster, and the speediest space travelers are those nearest the sun. Our planet is about 30 times closer to the sun than bulky Neptune, and our orbital speed is more than five times faster.

The earth revolves around the sun at a dizzy speed of about 18½ miles a second, which equals about 65,000 miles an hour. Neptune revolves at an average speed of 3.4 miles a second, roughly 12,240 miles an hour. If Earth traveled at Neptune's speed, a trip around the sun would equal five and one-half of the calendar years we now enjoy.

The average distance between Neptune and the sun is 2.793 billion miles, and the swing around its giant orbit is roughly 20 billion miles. It must travel more than 30 times farther than does the earth to complete each yearly run around the sun. Traveling five and one-half times slower and 30 times farther, Neptune makes one orbital trip in 164 Earth years.

Looks Like Dim Star

The big planet's orbit is an ellipse, 2.817 billion miles at aphelion and 2.769 billion miles at perihelion. An orbiting planet speeds a little faster when it swings closer to the sun at perihelion, and the distance between Neptune and the sun varies by 48 million miles. At perihelion it orbits a little faster, and farthest away at aphelion it orbits a little slower than its average speed of 3.4 miles a second.

If it were hollow, Neptune could swallow our whole world 64 times. You might expect the giant to spin more slowly on its axis, but, no, it rotates in 15 hours 48 minutes—almost 16 Earth hours. On Neptune the days are almost eight hours shorter, and there are some 90,000 days on the yearly calendar. Neptune has a slow orbital speed, but it makes up for this dawdling by spinning faster, much faster than the earth, on its axis.

Though Neptune is a giant planet, it is too remote to be seen without a telescope. It looks like a dim star of the eighth magnitude, greenish in color and blurred with hazy markings. Astronomers recently detected molecules of hydrogen in its chilly atmosphere of ammonia and methane. Two moons have been spotted, one twice as massive as our moon and closer to Neptune than the moon is to the earth.

Wading Pools are Fun —But Danger Lurks

Back-yard wading pools are lots of fun for children. A "swimming pool" in the back yard is an excuse for having all the kids in the neighborhood over for a good time. But watch those kids! It takes only a few moments for a child to drown. Constant adult supervision is required every time a child goes near the water. Too often, a telephone call or a knock at the front door takes a supervising parent away just long enough for a child to perish.

The Red Cross suggests this: If you're supervising children at play in a pool and are called away momentarily, make it a practice to clear all children out of the pool until you get back. A small whistle might help. If the phone rings, blow the whistle, ensure that all the children are out of the water and clear of the pool, then go in and answer the telephone. When you come back out, blow the whistle again to allow the children to go back to the water.

If you have a sandbox in your yard, it will keep the children occupied while you're inside the house. They'll be less likely to get into mischief in the water if they have something else with which to amuse themselves.

The week of June 7 to 13 is Red Cross Water Safety Week in Canada. The Red Cross urges you to supervise your children at all times when they're in or near the water.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—There are certain Hollywood beauties who now sleep with pistols under their pillows because of . . . uh . . . prowlers.

I would tell you their names but I could not drag them out of pretty Bethel Leslie, of the Richard Boone TV show, who is around Broadway now. They have urged her to become a pistol-packin' mama, too, because she strikes them as a girl who is likely to wake up some morning and hear a prowler prowling.

"But I spoke to the Los Angeles police about it and they took a dim view of my having a gun," Beth Leslie said. "They are afraid I would shoot myself with it."

"That is not a nice thing for them to say about you," I remarked to Miss Leslie.

"They are probably right," she said. "I am a girl a lot of things happen to.

"I told a N.Y. cab driver to take me to a restaurant and gave him the address. He said it wasn't the right address, and ordered me to get out and look it up in a phone book.

"I did, and it was the right address. I did it just because he told me to.

Miss Leslie recently fought off two young guys on W. 44th St. at 2 a.m.

"I yelled, 'Help.' That didn't attract anybody, not even two cabs that raced right past me. Then I yelled 'Fire.' I was hitting them with my purse and they were laughing at me.

"A third cab stopped, and the cab took me to my hotel where I shook for quite a while. The next day I cried."

Miss Leslie did have a prowler scare recently in Malibu, Calif. The whole thing has sort of settled her.

"I have now decided to lock my door in New York," she said.

"Is that something new with you?" I asked.

"Yes, I never in my life locked my door before."

"Why?"

"Well, if I have any door keys, I usually lock myself out, and then I have to wake somebody up at 4 a.m. to let me in or I crawl in a window. Then I get arrested for breaking into my own house. That happened to me once. I am the kind of girl who has things happen to her. Do you see?"

Beginning to.

The Sal Mineo-Jill Haworth on-again-off-again romance appears on again—they took her mother to dinner at La Fonda. . . . Sean Connery says his James Bond role is successful because "it's sadism for the whole family." . . .

Norm Crosby, a hit at the Latin ¼, says his uncle was a man of his word: "He once told a girl, 'If you don't marry me, I'll die.' She refused—and sure enough, 72 years later he died."

That's earl, brother.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

By JIMMY HATLO

DAMES GO ON CRUISES TO MEET FELLAS---BUT THEY ALWAYS TRAVEL IN PAIRS---- FOR EVERY DANCE I HAD WITH THAT LITTLE BLONDE I HAD TWO WITH HER OLD LADY----
I TRIED TO SPLIT THE SISTER ACT---BUT I WOUND UP PLAYING SHUFFLEBOARD WITH BOTH OF THEM----
AND WHEN I SIGNED UP FOR THIS PICNIC THE AGENT TOLD ME THERE'S AT LEAST FIFTY UNATTACHED GALS TO EVERY GUY----
THE TWO WIDOWS WATCH EACH OTHER SO ONE WON'T HAVE A BETTER TIME THAN THE OTHER----
AND THE GALS CAME ON THIS CRUISE IN HOPES OF MEETING AN UNATTACHED MALE--- Thanx AND A HAT TIP TO MARY MARSH, 1024 PARK AVENUE, NEW YORK 28, N.Y.

BRIDGE LESSON

By OSWALD JACOBY

This may be mistake week in this column, but you can't really charge North and South with an error in getting to the slam. As a matter of fact, 12 out of 14 pairs in a duplicate game got there and two succeeded in making it when defence slipped.

Opening lead—♦Q

The play started out the same way at both winning tables. South drew trumps, stripped the hand of hearts and diamonds and led a club toward dummy.

One West player made the mistake of playing the jack of clubs. Now all South had to do was to take dummy's ace and lead a second club from either hand.

West could either play his king and catch his partner's queen or let East make his queen, whereupon East would have to give declarer a ruff and discard.

At the other winning table, West did not make the mistake of playing the jack of clubs at his first opportunity. He played the three spot.

The ace was played from dummy and South returned to his own hand to lead another low club.

You can see that West should have played his king. West should have seen it also, but it is pretty hard for a player to realize that he should win a trick with a king when he can win it just as easily with the jack. So West played the jack. East had to overtake with the queen and lead a red card to give South that essential ruff and discard.

BITS 'N' PIECES: Six British artists have formed a production company with plans to enter production later this year. Six Star Television Company is patterned after the successful Hollywood team of Four Star. Artists involved are Richard Attenborough, Honor Blackman, Curt Jurgens, Herbert Lom, Hayley Mills and John Mills.

The artists are dickering with the three U.S. networks with a view to a co-production deal. The only facts revealed so far are that the show is hourlong, may be in color, and has a budget of just under $3,000,000. All six artists will appear in the pilot film.

A preview of the 1964 Calgary Stampede plus highlights of last year's rodeo will be shown at 5 p.m., Saturday, June 13, on Channel 5. The Seattle station tells its viewers the Stampede is ranked as one of the top rodeos on the circuit and attracts the country's top professional cowboys.

Jack Paar will fly to Brazil to film a rare glimpse of the internationally-known Mary Martin at work and play at her ranch retreat located in the heart of South America's largest country. This view of Miss Martin, ranch-wife, will be presented when the Paar show returns for its third season in September. The program will also mark her first TV appearance since Feb. 9, 1963, when she starred in Peter Pan.

The three major television networks in the U.S. are meeting to consider joint coverage of U.S. election returns this fall.

The proposal, made by Fred W. Friendly, president of CBS news, does not include the two major news gathering agencies, The Associated Press and United Press International.

CBS and ABC already have agreed to work together, but NBC previously had favored delaying pool coverage until the 1966 election.

If the networks reach an agreement, they will set up a headquarters in some large auditorium, where the vote can be posted on huge boards on which all three networks will train their cameras.

Canadians will see this coverage through CBC-TV.

Friendly, by the way, who led the mutiny against the TV Academy over the Emmy Award system, won the journalism award of Columbia University for his contribution to public information through TV documentaries. He's the first from television to win the accolade, the others being from the newspaper media.

Mickey Rooney will direct half of his 26 segment television series "Mickey." He will undoubtedly add his many talents to the making of all the segments . . . Will "Sugarfoot" Hutchins has been signed by MGM-TV for five guest roles in various television series over the next 12 months.

$69 Million Spent Yearly By Sportsmen

More than a quarter million persons in B.C. take part in sports hunting and fishing.

Each year they spend $69,000,000, Dr. James Hatter, director of the fish and game branch of the department of recreation and conservation, said Monday.

Speaking to Victoria Gyros, he said the revenue from licences alone is about $2,000,000 and increasing each year.

The annual harvest of big game in B.C. is around 100,000.

This wildlife, he said, is dependent on the land and in the last 100 years has thrived due to the changing nature of the countryside.

Logging operations have done much to clear areas, making the land accessible to moose and deer.

GAME LANDS

To further attract big game, it will be necessary to do what is being done in Europe—prepare the land specifically for the purpose of attracting game.

This will only be an economically sound proposition when the demand is much higher, said Dr. Hatter—"Wild life has to pay its way."

He added that until that day came hunters need have no worries.

"Wildlife will always be abundant in this country."

A NEWSMAN'S ASSESSMENT

The Beaver: A Mixture Of Puck and Napoleon

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Lord Beaverbrook, who died Tuesday at the age of 85, was a good friend to many newspapermen but bad medicine for those who didn't suit his fancy.

While working for The Canadian Press in London after the war, I phoned to ask him if it was true he had quarrelled with the British Conservative Party.

After a long silence he dictated this statement:

"The Conservative party is more anxious to get rid of me than I am of the Conservative party. There is one good man left in the Conservative party — Winston Churchill!"

There was a heavy pause. Then I asked: "Any more, sir?"

'I'VE EXPLODED'

"Any more?" he expostulated. "Good heavens, man, haven't you got enough? I've exploded for you, haven't I? Surely to God you can build something out of that."

I crawled out of my "bomb-proof shelter" and thanked him for his quote. It seemed I had made a very bad first impression on the Beaver, but three years later when I became editor in London of Roy (Lord) Thomson's Canada Weekly Review, he was the soul of kindness.

He phoned after the first issue appeared and offered words of encouragement and kindly criticism. Then he sent me a pass to the vast reference library of his Daily Express, knowing our own library had scarcely begun.

ADVICE FOR DOCTOR

I called on him for an interview some weeks later and he talked like the proverbial Dutch uncle. We were interrupted by a phone call and during the conversation he said:

"Now you just take two aspirins, and a good slug of hot rum and go straight to bed."

Then, hanging up the receiver, he said:

"That was my doctor—he's sick!"

Canada Weekly Review was Lord Thomson's first U.K. publication. It had a good readership but was weak on advertising revenue and I sometimes wondered about the future. Lord Beaverbrook was re assuring.

"Don't you worry," he said. "Roy knows where he's going. He'll have all kinds of papers over here before he's finished."

Too true: Roy Thomson went on to buy The Scotsman of Edinburgh, The Sunday Times in London, a chain of Midland publications and daily newspapers in many different countries.

NO BEAVERBROOK

He's still buying and now owns more newspapers than anyone in the world. But he will never be a Beaverbrook. Lord Thomson is strictly a businessman and rarely interferes with workers on the editorial side of his newspapers.

Lord Beaverbrook couldn't keep his hands off them. He was always phoning individual reporters and editors with words of alternate praise and blame. An editorial writer I knew was called at breakfast one morning. The Beaver said:

"How can a man with your intelligence write such utter balderdash as you have today?"

OFF TO FRANCE

That was the kind of thing his workers had to put up with; yet he was capable of extreme generosity and sometimes paid the debt of employees who got into financial difficulties. Once he said to an overworked editor:

"You're looking run down. Take your family to the South of France for a couple of weeks and charge it to me."

As minister of aircraft production, in Winston Churchill's cabinet during the war, he upset civil service protocol by ordering Spitfires on the phone.

"We haven't time for all this paper-work," he snorted when asked for requisition forms in triplicate.

PUCK, NAPOLEON

On his 75th birthday in 1954 I wrote of him as "a combination of Puck and Napoleon — unorthodox, dictatorial aggressive." He liked this reference so much he had it quoted in his own newspapers.

He was as mischievous as a monkey and at his 75th birthday dinner Randolph Churchill (Winston's son) was deliberately seated next to the editor of a newspaper he was suing for libel.

They nearly came to blows before the evening was out.

There'll never be another like him. The Beaver stood alone.

SURVIVAL SCHOOL in Johannesburg, South Africa, operates on motto: "If you want to survive—then be prepared to kill." Davo Davidson, 60, director of school, shows his students how to use pistols quickly and accurately on would-be attacker. (AP Wirephoto.)

Art of Killing Taught at School

By DENNIS LEE ROYLE

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — "You want to survive—then be prepared to kill." That is the maxim of one of South Africa's strangest schools. It teaches a dozen variations in the art of killing.

The combat survival school as it is called, advertises regularly in the English-language press. For a fee of $16.80 students receive a 10-lesson course.

A single-storey villa, a few miles from downtown Johannesburg, houses the students and instructors. Neighbors are getting used to the echo of revolver shots and ear-splitting battle cries.

WELL VERSED

The principal is a man well versed in the art of survival. Australian-born Davo Davidson, 60, is a former Mau Mau fighter who says he killed many terrorists during the Kenya uprising. He quit Kenya eight months ago when Mau Mau leader Jomo Kenyatta attained political power.

"Everyone — men, women and youths—should be able to protect themselves and their families, whether the threat comes from whites or blacks," he says.

"If you possess a pistol, knife, stick or even umbrella, learn to use it to its best advantage. If you are caught with nothing, learn to use your hands which can kill as efficiently as a pistol."

Among recent students are a mother and daughter team who can pump six bullets into a three-inch circle representing a man's heart on a black man-sized target.

By means of a simplified Chinese form of judo called tode, mother and daughter can floor a 140-pound man with ease, without smudging lipstick or ruffling their hair.

Students at the school include housewives, clerks, typists and government employees.

A condition of acceptance is that students must sign a form confirming that he or she is "a member of the European community (white); not a member of any anti-South African or pro-Communist group."

The current first course totals 25 students. More are being enrolled.

Davidson's school differs from the commoner weekly "pistol parties" held by thousands of South African men and women throughout the country. At these they often take coffee and sandwiches between spells of shooting practice.

UNEXPECTED

Davidson's students are trained to expect the unexpected from the moment schooling begins.

Even when school is over, complete relaxation is discouraged. Students enjoying a quiet smoke in the lounge are often confronted by gun-toting, door-kicking Davidson.

"Slow, too slow," he snarls. "Two of you died two seconds ago."

Many of South Africa's ordinary schools have introduced anti-sabotage training, unarmed combat and pistol shooting for students. Civilian home guard units train in most major cities throughout the republic.

MANY HAVE GUNS

It is officially estimated that about half of South Africa's 5,000,00 whites possess guns. Tear gas shells are available to whites over 18 years of age.

Faced with a growing Negro nationalist movement near its borders and the possible infiltration of subversive elements seeking to overthrow this country's government, many South African whites are becoming increasingly security-minded.

It is not uncommon, especially in Johannesburg, to see a pistol in a man's trouser band or a small-calibre gun nestling in a woman's handbag as she rummages for change. Some women carry pistols which fire tear gas.

Rotary Vetoes Women

TORONTO (CP) — Rotary International, an all-male organization since it was founded in 1905, voted Tuesday to continue to exclude women. The Rotarians, attending the 55th international convention here, decided, however, that membership of clergymen in the organization will be expanded.

TEXAS LAWYER with a reputation for saving clients from the electric chair, Clayton Fowler has agreed to represent Jack Ruby. President of the Dallas Criminal Bar, Fowler is the fifth in a series of lawyers to head defence team for killer of Lee Harvey Oswald.

Tory Raps 'Cleopatra Of the CBC'

OTTAWA (CP) — A Quebec Conservative member of Parliament said Monday night it is a "scandal" that the wife of Forestry Minister Sauve is employed by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

"Her presence in the corporation is a kind of blackmail to the directors of the CBC," Louis-Joseph Pigeon (PC—Joliette - l'Assomption - Montcalm) said in the Commons. "What would happen to the corporation that would dare get rid of the wife of a cabinet minister?"

He said Mr. Sauve was earning $35,000 and his wife was getting "between $15,000 and $20,000" from the CBC. How could a cabinet minister objectively discuss the CBC when his wife received a "fabulous salary" from the corporation?

'ALL FREE WORLD'

Laos Neutralist Pleads for Help

VIENTIANNE (Reuters). — Neutralist army commander Gen. Kong Le today said he wanted all countries of the free world to help Laos remain neutral by sending "troops, armaments and planes."

Kong Le told a press conference during a brief visit here he appreciated United States reconnaissance flights over Laos but added:

"We asked the prime minister (Prince Souvanna Phouma) many times for foreign troops but there was no answer," he said.

Kong Le was here on a short visit to see Souvanna but the premier flew to the royal capital of Luang Prabang earlier today.

This morning Souvanna halted U.S. military reconnaissance flights over Laos and observers feared the move might touch off another right-wing coup by army generals advocating a tougher line against the advancing Pathet Lao.

Right-wing leader Gen. Phoumi Nosavan told reporters later that the U.S. flights could perhaps not be stopped even if Souvanna wanted this, because "other people in the government" wished them to continue.

Jets Attack To Restore U.S. 'Face'

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times, quoting reliable sources in Washington, says the U.S. jets attacked a Communist gun position in Laos in retaliation for the downing of two American jets during the weekend.

The Times says President Johnson and his advisers were reported to have ordered the attack to underline U.S. determination to stand firm in Laos.

The attack also was interpreted in Washington as an effort to recoup prestige in the wake of the downing of the jets, The Times says.

The Pathet Lao charged in a Peking broadcast that six U.S. jet fighters flew over Khang Khay, the Pathet Lao headquarters in central Laos, and nearby Phong Savang Tuesday and attack Phong Savang with 12 bombs and two rockets.

Widow of MP Will Seek Seat In Saskatoon

SASKATOON (CP) — Three candidates, including the widow of the former member, filed nomination papers Monday for a June 22 federal byelection in Saskatoon.

Dr. Eloise Jones, a mother of four children, filed papers as a Progressive Conservative. She is the widow of Harry Jones, who represented the riding as a Conservative until his death March 4.

Also filing nomination papers were Liberal Sid Buckwold and Jim Harding, New Democratic Party candidate.

Mr. Jones had held the seat since the 1957 federal general election.

'DIED' EIGHT TIMES

Two Pictures a Year Sellers' Limit Now

In his first press interview since his April 6 heart attack, British actor Peter Sellers tells Bob Thomas of the Associated Press how he felt during the ordeal and how he hopes to avoid another attack.

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I felt as if I were dozing off and then waking up. But each time I thought I had slept, I had in fact died. My heart had stopped. I didn't feel as if I were dying. If that's what dying is like, then I shan't worry about it again." Movie actor Peter Sellers was talking about the heart seizure he suffered two months ago. Sitting in the den of the massive, marble home he rented from theatre magnate George Skouras, he spoke with characteristic humor, but also an underlying wonderment at what had happened to him.

"I had eight cardiac arrests," he commented. "I of course didn't know it at the time, but they had just about given up on me. By all appearances, I was a goner. And it would have been, except for the fantastic care I received."

Sellers, 38, looked wan—he had lost 10 pounds during his illness—as he prepared for his return to his native England Monday. Otherwise he seemed little different from when I last saw him, three days after the attack. He had just come from the filming in England of A Shot in the Dark and was in the midst of shooting Kiss Me, Stupid.

FELT PAINS

Late on a Sunday night, the actor began to feel pains.

"I knew I was having a heart attack. In these times, thank God, everyone has read enough articles to recognize the symptoms. I asked my wife if she would call Dr. Rex Kennamer and ask him to come over. I remember thinking, I hope I don't expire before he gets here."

Kennamer arrived in 10 minutes, and gave Sellers a sedative.

He was taken to Cedars of Lebanon Hospital in Hollywood, but he began sinking Tuesday morning and was placed in the intensive care unit. That's where the heart arrests occurred.

The electric pacemaker, which regulated his heart beat with electric impulses, succeeded in restoring the normal function of his heart. In the next two or three days he remembers little except "waking up and feeling like a collapsed puppet; I had wires and strings all over me."

RECOGNIZED WIFE

He recognized his wife and noticed the nurses "who never took their eyes off me." Soon he was joking with the hospital staff members and after a week he was removed from the intensive-care unit. In a month he was allowed to go home.

Now, in keeping with modern treatment of heart patients he is allowed some limited exercise. He admitted that his way of life has changed for all time:

"I worked entirely too hard; I became caught up in the compulsion to work and couldn't get out of it.

"Now I will be sensible about it. I'll do a film now and then—never more than two a year. Perhaps I'll produce some, perhaps direct.

"The main thing in avoiding another heart attack is to use your nut. Get some exercise, don't over-eat, have a drink before dinner perhaps, don't smoke—in other words, do everything in moderation."

Radio Stations Told To Delay 'Hot Topics'

OTTAWA (CP)—All radio stations in Canada have been directed by the Board of Broadcast Governors not to discuss on the air before 10:30 p.m. such borderline topics as prostitution, homosexuality and lesbianism.

The directive, sent May 27, resulted from listener protests to the board regarding an open-line radio program. In this program, listeners phoned the station and discussed with the moderator, or disc jockey, almost any subject that came to mind, including borderline sex topics.

The board took up the matter with the station owner and the program moderator, suggesting such phone calls be diverted to the period after 10:30 p.m., when younger children have retired. The board's proposal was accepted willingly and is reported to have been successful to date.

The directive said:

"The board therefore directs that other radio stations follow the same practice. If a telephone caller introduces such borderline topics, the moderator should interrupt and ask him or her to call back after 10:30 p.m."

Air Firm Must Pay $237,000

CALGARY (CP) — Families of three CBC employees killed in an airplane crash in January, 1963, were awarded $237,000 damages by Alberta Supreme Court today.

The award was against Viking Air Services Limited of Calgary, owners of the plane in which television producer Norman Caton, 40, assistant cameraman Len Macdonald and assistant cameraman Charles Reigler, 30, were killed. All were from Toronto.

Viking conceded liability for the accident.

The CBC employees, along with pilot Bill Prentice, 27, of Calgary, were trying to photograph an elk herd for a CBC production when the aircraft hit a hillside 70 miles southwest of here. Mr. Prentice also was killed.

Quebec Terrorist Was Teacher

Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—Jean LaSalle, 22, of Montreal, identified as one of the principal organizers of the ALQ raid on Shawinigan armories, was formerly employed at Chimo in the Ungava region of New Quebec by the Quebec government's department of natural resources, teaching Eskimos, it was learned here Tuesday.

He taught at a mission school sponsored by the Quebec government's department which is headed by Hon. Rene Levesque. He taught from September, 1962, until May, 1963, and was either removed, or left of his own volition in the spring of last year.

Shastri Takes Office

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Lal Bahadur Shastri was sworn in as independent India's second prime minister Tuesday with a cabinet selected to follow the domestic and foreign policies of the late Jawaharlal Nehru.

DOES GAGLARDI FLY THE WAY HE DRIVES?

OTTAWA (CP)—Transport Minister Pickersgill said today he has ordered an investigation into the condition of some British Columbia airports which B.C. Highways Minister Philip Gaglardi said were hazardous and unsafe.

However, he add that he hoped Mr. Gaglardi's statement were not associated with "his piloting of planes if it's like his driving of cars."

Mr. Gaglardi has a nation-wide reputation for fast driving.

H. W. Herridge (NDP-Kootenay West) had asked the transport minister whether he would look into the statements by the B.C. minister.

'Legitimate, Legal Strike' Says Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — James Byrne, parliamentary secretary to Labor Minister MacEachen, said Tuesday night the strike against the Macmillan, Bloedel, Powell River Company in B.C. is a "legitimate legal strike" and he said the federal labor department should not interfere.

Tom Barnett (NDP—Comox-Alberni) said during the Commons adjournment debate the firm was violating the International Labor Organization code by not agreeing to a union security clause. He suggested that Mr. MacEachen lend his good offices to the dispute.

Mr. Byrne replied that the department was satisfied that no convention of the ILO was being violated. It was a matter for the provincial labor department.

There are 3,000 mill workers respecting the picket lines of 60 women office workers who are striking to obtain a union security clause.

Water Check Requested

PORT ALBERNI — A B.C. fisheries department biologist has been asked to check the harbor water while the MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River operations are shut down, Mayor Les Hammer told city council.

He said the water has got clearer since the plants closed due to the office workers' strike.

"It's much clearer than the usual murky state," he said. "We can see our sewer outfall and the fish swimming around."

RETIRING SOON after 43 years of service, Mrs. Frank Milmore, the former Lillian Carter, will be honored by former students at a reception in Nanaimo Secondary School at 8 p.m. Friday. Jack Lowther, Victoria teacher, will speak on behalf of ex-students.

NEW ROAD SINKS SUBSIDY

Bamfield Ferry Service May End

PORT ALBERNI — This port may lose the service of the ferry Mv. Lady Rose operating between Port Alberni and the fishing village of Bamfield on Barkley Sound.

Chamber of Commerce president Mrs. Edna Souther told a meeting Tuesday that Alberni Marine Transportation is losing is government subsidy for the ferry on the run to Bamfield because of the newly opened road to Bamfield.

"This may cause the loss of the ship," she said. "The ferry service was a major tourist attraction."

But Harry Braf, a chamber member, felt few people will use the Bamfield road in its present state.

He said he travelled the road to Bamfield last Saturday—and its condition has deteriorated.

"I wouldn't want to travel it for $100 a trip," he said.

The road, opened May 31 with much ceremony, uses MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River logging routes over much of its distance.

Protests Block Indian Centre At Pt. Alberni

PORT ALBERNI — City council is having difficulty finding a location for an Indian Friendship Centre.

An attempt by council to rezone a lot on Kingsway to permit construction of the centre failed Monday.

A large group of residents opposed the rezoning bylaw on the grounds the location would not be in their interests or the Indians.

PROTESTS, PROTESTS

Mayor Les Hammer, who spurred the idea of a Friendship Centre, said he has met with "nothing but protests" as to location for the centre.

"Everyone agrees that one should be built, but we hear nothing but protests when we try to find a location," he said.

He said a site opposite RCMP detachment headquarters here, also brought protests from residents.

SUPERSONIC ESCORT was given Tuesday to Wing Commander Grahame Inglis when RCAF jet squadron moved to U.S. Inglis, at controls of CF-101B interceptor, led the transfer of 409 Nighthawk Squadron from Comox to Paine Field at Everett, Wash. He was met high above Canada-U.S. border by two American interceptors and escorted to Paine. Transfer will enable crews to go ahead with runway construction at Comox.

Scolds Mothers

PORT ALBERNI — Ald. Howard McLean has criticized 800 mothers for signing a petition which claims existence of "deplorable, over-crowded conditions and a shortage of nursing staff" as West Coast General Hospital here.

Ald. McLean told council Monday night that "such charges aired in public will not help the situation."

"We have always had a balanced budget at the hospital," he said. "Now people tell us if you balance the budget you don't do the job."

A spokesman for the mothers said the petitioners were alarmed over the lack of space available at the hospital, particularly in the children's ward.

New construction is not necessary, she said, but steps should be taken to open the currently unused fourth floor of the hospital.

2,000 Seamen in Canada Illegally Deserters From Foreign Vessels

VANCOUVER (CP)—An estimated 2,000 men live in Canada knowing their life as new Canadians is a gigantic masquerade.

Some live in back alleys, some in respectable suburbs. Some are criminals, some carriers of disease. Only a few with superior skills are contributing to the country they now call home.

These men have one common bond—they were absorbed into the Canadian life stream after walking off foreign ships in Canadian ports.

Last year 170 men deserted their ships in Vancouver and an estimated 900 deserters are living in British Columbia, most of them in Vancouver.

Immigration officials say the number of men entering Canada by this back-door route is increasing every year. Even with increased vigilance, there is little to stop a seaman from becoming an illegal resident.

Visiting ships draw their crew from all ports of the world. These men are granted shore leave at the discretion of the captain. If a crew member hasn't reported back to his ship when the vessel clears port he is listed as a deserter.

Frequently a deserting seaman has Canadian contacts, funds and a knowledge of French or English. He is often willing to work for marginal wages. Immigration officers say there is usually no fingerprint or photograph available of a wanted man.

The Immigration Act doesn't define a deserter as such, although he can be prosecuted for remaining in Canada unlawfully or by stealth. Conviction can mean a substantial fine or up to six months in jail or both.

When a man jumps ship the vessel's owner is required to post a $1,000 bond to defray costs of apprehension, detention and transportation back to the country of origin. However, the bond is covered by insurance and is returned if the deserter eludes authorities for three years.

Immigration files contain many individual stories. One young Greek jumped ship, got a job in a cafe at night while going to high school days. He was doing well but someone turned him in. He was sentenced to a day in jail and deported.

A second deserter was discovered involved in illicit drug trade, jailed and deported.

SHIP-JUMPER GRANTED STAY

CALGARY (CP)—A Greek sailor who married a Greek-Canadian girl after he jumped ship in Victoria appears to have won a truce in his battle to stay in Canada.

Panagiotras Giaouzis was arrested in Calgary after he got a job and a bride. The immigration department last month rejected his appeal against a deportation order.

However, lawyer N. Peter Levesque said Monday he has been advised by the immigration department that a stay of proceedings would be ordered allowing Mr. Giaouzis to remain in the country for up to 12 months.

Immigration Law Probe Demanded

* * *

Dief, NDP Join Protest

OTTAWA (CP) — Opposition Leader Diefenbaker Tuesday called for the appointment of a one-man royal commission to investigate "very serious allegations" concerning the alleged confinement of men under immigration department warrants.

Mr. Diefenbaker, David Orlikow (NDP — Winnipeg North) and New Democratic Leader Douglas all spoke in favor of an investigation.

TORONTO (CP)—John Thomadakis, 21, serving a five-month sentence for illegal entry to Canada, was released Tuesday after his lawyer filed notice of appeal and posted bail bond of $500.

In a hand-printed letter to Ontario Supreme Court Friday, Thomadakis said he was arrested here March 3. He said he was locked in jail and immigration authorities did not advise him of his rights or allow him to call a lawyer. He appeared in court April 10 and was sentenced.

Earlier Tuesday, John Weisdorf, head of Ontario's legal aid plan, asked for a royal commission to investigate Canada's "harsh and dictatorial" immigration laws.

The statement was also signed by Allan Mintz, Thomadakis's lawyer who charged Monday that 20 persons are being held in Don Jail on immigration charges without knowing they have the right to a lawyer.

DENIES CHARGE

The charge was denied Tuesday by C. N. Ibister, deputy immigration minister.

I. R. Sterling, regional administrator for the immigration department, said Tuesday 17 Greeks and one Spaniard are being held in Don Jail on immigration matters.

One of the men, Petros Vamakaris, a Greek, has not been sentenced by the court for illegal entry, Mr. Sterling said. Vamakaris has been remanded until June 12 on a charge of illegal entry.

He also denied any detainees are kept uninformed of their rights and said persons under deportation proceedings are denied release only if it is thought they might abscond.

Gov't Rejects Sunday Sport Vote In Burnaby

BURNABY (CP)—The provincial government has turned thumbs down on Burnaby's bid for a local option on Sunday sport.

Municipal Affairs Minister Campbell said in a letter read to New Westminster council Monday night: "This matter has been discussed by the cabinet and the government is not prepared to enact such legislation at this time."

New Westminster had backed Burnaby's bid to have the government amend the Municipal Act to permit Sunday sport options for municipalities which wanted them.

The decision was another blow to Burnaby's efforts to attract Stafford Smythe, president of Toronto Maple Leafs of the NHL, and his offer to build an $8,000,000 sport arena in Vancouver if the city will donate the land.

Iguanas, Rats Reign Over Devil's Island

By HUBERT WILLIAMS

DEVIL'S ISLAND (Reuters)—Rats and iguanas have taken over notorious Devil's Island, France's former penal colony in the Atlantic off French Guiana.

The rats approach boldly, unaccustomed to the ways of human beings. This reporter was with a party that made one of the few visits of human beings to the forbidding island since it was closed down as a prison in 1946.

Yet this rock, and the adjoining islands of Royal and St. Joseph, which were also used to house prisoners, would make beautiful tourist resorts. In fact, some American hotel magnates have already considered such a possibility.

France, however, appears unwilling to bring the three islands to life again. French authorities bar visitors and maintain a thick veil of secrecy about any plans for their future.

A large amount of money would be needed to clear the islands of thick undergrowth, crumbling prison cells and wild animals, including the rats and iguanas.

But there is much natural beauty to commend them, similar to that of Tobago and other Caribbean islands.

By ship, the islands lie only a few hours' voyage from the coast of French Guiana. The surrounding waters are cool, light green and no longer shark-infested.

There are good stretches of shell beach and what once was bare, wind-swept land has become romantic, palm-shaded groves. Thousands of coconut palm trees have grown up since the prisons were closed.

Nature now has covered up most of the sordid signs of the prison colony. In addition, former prisonors who now live in French Guiana say that the authorities have removed some of the torture devices.

Devil's Island actually is the smallest of the three islands and had fewer prison buildings than the other two

Aid for Skopje

BELGRADE (Reuters)—Britain formally granted Yugoslavia a 10-year loan of $2,800,000 to help rebuild the earthquake-shattered city of Skopje under an agreement concluded by an exchange of diplomatic notes here Tuesday.

Fraser Inches Higher

By The Canadian Press

Dike patrols were placed on a 24-hour on-call basis today in most areas of the lower Fraser Valley as continued warm weather pushed the Fraser River inches higher.

William Meighan of the valley diking commission said, however, there is not yet any cause for alarm.

"The situation is well in hand," he said.

A number of families left their homes when the silt-laden river flowed over unprotected land near Agassiz but in other areas the river had not yet wetted dike walls.

At Mission, about 40 miles east of Vancouver, where the dike commission level gauge is located, the Fraser had risen to 21.4 feet today compared with a level of 20.7 feet Tuesday. The danger level is considered to be 23.5 feet.

The 240 miles of dikes in the valley are holding firm in areas where the eroding water is

IWA, Firms Both Okay Woods Pact

Employers and coast woodworkers today announced their acceptance of a conciliation proposal for a new two-year contract.

Of 26,000 lumberworkers, in eight locals, 21,482 voted in a secret ballot counted Tuesday. Sixty per cent favored acceptance.

The count was:
YES—12,889.
NO—8,607.

Announcing the result, IWA regional president Jack Moore said the negotiating committee will now begin discussions with Forest Industrial Relations to draft contract clauses and sign the two-year agreement.

'COSTLY TERMS'

Shortly after the IWA announcement, Forest Industrial Relations Ltd., representing operators in the coast lumber industry, said it accepted the terms of the proposal.

However, president John Billings said the settlement is a costly one.

"In agreeing to further wage rate advances a year hence," he said, "employers are gambling on uncertain market conditions.

"They must hope the demand for products and a continuation of the existing favorable exchange rates will permit them to absorb the second as well as the immediate round of wage increases."

PROPOSALS OUTLINED

The conciliation proposal by officer E. P. Fisher, provides:

- 15 cents per hour increase June 15.
- 13 cents per hours June 15, 1965.
- An additional 15 cents June 15 for tradesmen in 27 classifications except firemen and improvers.
- Weekly sickness and accident indemnity payments worth $50 per week for 39 weeks.
- Payday every second week.

Present basic rate is $2.08 per hour, with $2.64 for tradesmen.

ENDS STRIKE THREAT

Result of the vote ends the fear of a woodworkers' strike following a heated campaign by IWA factions.

Vancouver's 7,000-man local led by Syd Thompson followed his direction and voted rejection "by several hundred," but others about-faced on their leaders' rejection recommendations.

Jack Moore claimed the proposed settlement was the best yet obtained by the IWA, and one that brought parity with the U.S. Pacific Northwest fir belt.

The IWA originally demanded 40 cents an hour increase, plus 30 cents for tradesmen.

INDIANS DROP PGE PICKETS

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Squamish Indian band have agreed to withdraw their two-day picket line from the Pacific Great Eastern Railway in North Vancouver.

The band was protesting the CNR unloading material along the right-of-way the Indians sold to the PGE in 1912. (See story Page 15.)

Albertans Returning To Flood-Hit Homes

CALGARY (CP)—Nearly 250 Indians today trekked back to their flood-hit homes along the banks of the Belly River in southwestern Alberta.

The Indians, residents of the Blood Reserve at Standoff, were forced to flee Tuesday as the Belly and Waterton Rivers burst their banks under heavy weekend rains and runoff from snow on the eastern slopes of the Rocky Mountains.

Hundreds of other persons at Waterton Lakes National Park and Cardston fled their homes as lakes, rivers and streams spilled water from a six-inch rainfall.

No injuries were reported but damage was expected to exceed $1,000,000 — most of it in the summer resort area of the national park townsite.

A colony of Hutterites a few miles north of Standoff was also threatened Tuesday and all 150 residents fled to higher ground.

About 300 sheep and lambs owned by farmers Dale Wood and Keith Olsen were reported drowned.

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP) Montana's floodwaters receded today leaving behind a vast trail of death and destruction.

At least 30 persons were dead, 38 missing and thousands homeless as the massive flood crest moved down the Missouri River over lowland areas past Great Falls, the state's largest city.

As deadly floodwaters inched downward at Great Falls, weather observers expressed concern about conditions on the Missouri 200 miles upstream from Great Falls.

Normally-shallow mountain streams still were running like rivers today on both sides of the Continental Divide, pouring thousands of cubic feet a second into upstream flood control reservoirs.

A big dam at Canyon Ferry near Helena held back the heavy upstream flow to allow downstream crests to recede. Upstream crests are not ex-

TEEN-AGE SEX—A SURVEY

If They 'Had to Marry' Couples Seldom Stay Wed

(Miss Gilroy, a member of the Times staff, is also a registered nurse, and spent six years in this profession before turning to journalism. As a nurse she has some practical knowledge of the problem on which she wrties.)

By MARGE GILROY

Illegitimate babies—teen-age marriages—divorces—they are all recorded by the Bureau of Statistics.

But it is the increase in the number of "shotgun" weddings, for which there are no official statistics, that have given cause for alarm to many community-minded citizens.

No subject is discussed more by the public than the number of pregnant young girls who "had to get married".

Today the clergy, social workers, laymen and professionals are concerned with trying to prevent teen-age marriages which have little hope of lasting.

Statistics do not show how many girls are pregnant at the altar, but they do show:

- A smaller percentage of teen-agers between the ages of 15 and 19 were married in 1961 than in 1951.

Out of Wedlock

- There were 116 more babies born out of wedlock in British Columbia in the fiscal year 1962-63 than in the previous year, but nine less than the year before.
- Of the total 2,601 illegitimate babies born, 1,254 were born to women between the ages of 20 and 29 and 781 to girls between 15 and 19.
- A home for unmarried mothers in Vancouver reported an increase of 13 per cent in the number of girls cared for last year.
- Provincial health reports point out an increase in the incidence of venereal disease.

On top of this, unofficial reports from the clergy indicate an increase in the number of pregnant girls getting married.

As for divorces, sociologists have shown that the divorce rate decreases in proportion to the ages of the couple at the time of marriage. The marriage of a 19-year-old couple has one and half times more chance of lasting than the marriage of a couple at 17.

U.S. ACHIEVES 'BREAK' IN NUCLEAR POWER

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—President Johnson said today the United States has achieved an economic breakthrough in producing power from large-scale nuclear reactors. He said this knowledge will be shared with the world.

Johnson cited advancements in power reactor technology in addressing commencement exercises at Holy Cross College.

He said the development of the large-scale reactor offers the dramatic prospect of transforming sea water into water suitable for human consumption and industrial use.

FLAG MAY BE CHANGED

Single Leaf Okay by Mike

OTTAWA (CP)—The government was reported today to be ready to accept a single maple leaf in place of the three-leaf cluster for the Canadian flag provided there is majority Commons support.

Well-informed sources said the government does not regard as essential the three-leaf cluster it originally proposed.

The New Democratic Party announced earlier in the day it will propose a single red maple leaf design.

Andrew Brewin, chairman of the NDP caucus and MP for Toronto Greenwood, announced following a meeting of NDP members that the party will take possible steps to have a single maple leaf, as a symbol of unity, substituted for the three-leaf design presented by Prime Minister Pearson.

A source close to the government said that the three-leaf cluster was included in the proposed Canadian flag design simply because it was part of the official heraldry of Canada.

CHANGE ACCEPTALBE

The source indicated that the government has not taken the position that the matter would involve confidence in the government if a majority of MPs want to alter the design.

Mr. Brewin said the NDP caucus also will urge the government to split the flag resolution so that there may be separate votes on the Canadian flag and on the Union Jack.

U.S. Moves To Prevent Cyprus War

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—The United States moved urgently today to avert the possibility of war between Greece and Turkey over Cyprus.

President Johnson ordered undersecretary of state George W. Ball to cancel plans to return to Washington from Geneva tonight and to go instead to Athens and then Ankara.

The action came as the United Nations reported the eruption of heavy new fighting between feuding Greek and Turkish Cypriots in the Kyrenia Mountains.

Over the weekend Johnson has invited Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu to Washington to discuss the dispute which has brought Turkey and Greece, both members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to the brink of war.

(Inonu did not accept or reject the invitation. He said "if it will be useful for us, then we'll go—but nothing definite has been decided yet." Turkish foreign office sources said it was unlikely Inonu would go unless the United States agreed to discuss a Turkish proposal for a Cyprus federation.)

Goldwater Votes With Southerners

(Times News Services)

WASHINGTON—The U.S. Senate gagged a southern filibuster today in a historic 71-to-29 vote that cleared the way for passage of the strongest civil rights bill in modern U.S. history.

BYRD
. . . spoke all night

The vote to invoke closure, or limitation of debate, came at a tense session which produced the rare spectacle of a full turnout.

All 100 senators were present and voting. Ailing Sen. Clair Engle (D—Calif.) came by ambulance to cast his vote —an aye for closure.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the likely GOP standard bearer against President Lyndon Johnson in November, voted with the southern segregationist bloc against the motion.

Under senate rules, closure required a two-thirds majority of those present and voting—a minimum of 67 votes with every senator on hand as today. The final margin was four votes more than required, a result that surprised even sponsors of the move.

GALLERIES PACKED

Both sides had forecast a very close vote and the galleries were packed as the drama unfolded.

The Southern filibuster against the bill had been under way for 75 days—an all-time record — when the Senate finally decided to invoke its rarely-applied closure rule which limits further debate to one hour per senator.

The vote followed an all-night session at which Senator Robert C. Byrd, West Virginia Democrat, made a marathon speech attacking the bill and urging his colleagues not to shut off the debate.

On the House side of the capitol, Speaker John W. McCormack voiced confidence the Senate will now proceed to pass the bill in a form acceptable to House members who approved their own version weeks ago.

BANS DISCRIMINATION

The bill would force whites to open restaurants, theatres, retail shops and motels to Negroes. In states which force Negroes to pass complicated educational tests before they can register to vote, the bill provides that any person with a sixth-grade education can vote in a federal election.

Strengthening the power of the U.S. attorney-general, the legislation allows him to bring court charges against states or local governments which persist in banning Negroes from parks, playgrounds, swimming pools and libraries. The attorney-

Rail Non-Ops Accept Board Wage Award

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada's non-operating railway unions today accepted a conciliation board's majority report calling for a 19.1 cent-an-hour increase for 100,000 members over a two-year contract.

The 111-member general conference committee—the policy making body of the unions—unanimously accepted the report proposed by Mr. Justice F. Craig Munroe of Vancouver, conciliation board chairman, and union nominee David Lewis.

"We feel the conciliation board recommendations are sufficiently substantial to accept," Frank Hall, chairman of the union's joint negotiating committee, told reporters following the meeting.

The railways have not yet made known their position on the report.

PEARSON GREETS ERHARD

CANADIAN ATTITUDE TO ERHARD VISIT

By DAVE McINTOSH

OTTAWA (CP)—Let's not be beastly to the Germans any longer about sums up the main attitude of the Canadian government in summit talks today between the two countries, informants said. (See story on page 3.)

One source said the talks between West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and Prime Minister Pearson and the two external affairs minister, Gerhard Schroeder and Paul Martin, present a chance for Canada to develop a new atmosphere in relations with Germany.

The source said that the talks in Canada's view have three main themes:

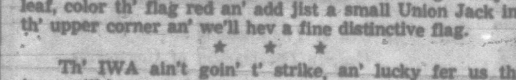
1. The need to create a modern relation between the Canadian and German economies and democratic societies.

2. Development and maintenance of good bilateral relations between the two countries as one means to strengthen the entire Atlantic partnership.

3. Improvement of relations with Russia as a means to achieve German reunification, which Canada supports — as long as it is by peaceful means.

Mr. Pearson expressed understanding and support for West Germany in every peaceful effort to reunite the German people.

He and the chancellor agreed a solution to the German problem would open up a real possibility for improvement in East-West relations.



Now substitute a coat of arms fer th' single maple leaf, color th' flag red an' add jist a small Union Jack in th' upper corner an' we'll hev a fine distinctive flag.

Th' IWA ain't goin' t' strike, an' lucky fer us th' trees will keep workin' too.

Two questions about th' summer o' '64: Hev we had it? Are we goin' t' git it?

Among senior metals prices held earlier gains. Cominco tacked on ½ to 34, Rio Algom 20 cents to $9.70 and Inco ⅛ to 82¼.

Gains of fractions to a point or so prevailed among most key stocks on Wall Street.

AT TORONTO Industrials were strong. Massey-Ferguson climbed ¾ to 29; Labatts and CPR were each ahead ⅛ to 19⅞ and 45¼ respectively. Delta Acceptance, a 2⅛ winner Tuesday, climbed 1½ to a new high of $22½. Alberta Gas, Canadian Hydrocarbons and Consolidated Paper were also impressive winners.

Western Oils began to gather momentum. Home A and B were up ⅝ to 19⅞ and 19⅝ while Pacific Petroleum and Hudson's Bay gained the same amount at 14¼ and 16¾.

Golds were steady in dull trading.

At New York cigarette stocks posted a string of gains after U.S. Surgeon-General Terry said at least 10 years will be needed to lure citizens away from cigarettes, Texas Gulf rose more than two, again pacing the list on volume.

At Montreal prices were narrowly higher today. Industrial trading was extremely active with turnover at 135,500 shares, and mines and oils were moderate on 422,400 shares.

AT LONDON dollar stocks advanced on an improved market today. Gilt-edges also were better.

Among Canadian issues, Algoma, Consolidated Paper, Aluminium Ltd., Canadian Pacific and Hiram Walker made good gains.

Most leaders were a little higher but Hudson's Bay and Rolls Razer eased. Mecca failed to hold Tuesday's late rise and rank organization also was lower. Beaverbrook Newspapers and de la Rue improved. Woolworths was unchanged.

Oils were better, plantations mixed, platinums and tins firm. Insurances and properties were better.

AT VANCOUVER trading was moderate. Ace Mines climbed to .33½ and Futurity to .58. Granduc was up at $6.30 and Western Mines at $4.85. Massey-Ferguson rose to $28⅞ and Aluminum to $32.50.

FINANCING SET FOR MAINLAND APT. PROJECT

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mayor William Rathie told city council Tuesday that financing has been arranged for the proposed $55,000,000 Webb and Knapp Coal Harbor apartment development.

The mayor's statement followed repeated demands from aldermen that the development company owed the council an "explanation on when they are going to do something."

Ted Loftus, local vice-president of the firm, said in an interview financing was arranged in Montreal, but that he could not give details.

TG Moves To Open Up Mineral Find

NEW YORK (CP)—Texas Gulf Sulphur Company of New York announced Tuesday it is interviewing contractors to select one who will begin preparations prior to removal of the huge deposits of copper, zinc and silver from the earth near Timmins, Ont.

The company also announced that contracts are being let for construction of an access road to the property, mainly in Kidd Township, 15 miles north of Timmins.

Texas Gulf announced the mineral find in April. The discovery of the ore-body—estimated at 25,000,000 tons—brought new life to Timmins and touched off a wild speculative spree in penny mining stocks with land or mineral rights around Timmins.

Tuesday's announcement, made in a statement by Claude O. Stephens, Texas Gulf president, said the chosen contractor will open the pit above the ore body and build an ore and concentrating plant.

No starting dates were mentioned in the statement.

Petrofina Plans To Extend Retail Operations West

MONTREAL (CP) — A. F. Campo, president of Canadian Petrofina Ltd., said Tuesday the company expects to extend its retail operations into Western Canada "in the near future."

Mr. Campo declined to elaborate other than to say the project wouldn't involve the construction of new refining facilities.

He said he expected Canadian Petrofina's cash flow in 1964, plus a modest increase in long-term debt through a note already privately placed, would be sufficient to provide for the capital outlays including the exploration and development programs in Western Canada.

Working capital will be maintained at approximately the same level as the $10,153,445 at Dec. 31, 1963, Mr. Campo said.

Furniture Makers In Canada Form National Council

MONTREAL (CP)—Canadian furniture manufacturers formed a Canadian Council of Furniturers at the industry's first national convention and machinery and supply show here.

John Sharp, president of Vilas Industries Ltd., Cowansville, Que., was named interim chairman.

The council represents an industry with an estimated $380,000,000 sales in 1963.

The board of directors is formed of appointees from five regional furniture groups. They include Allen Segal, Vancouver and Morley Globerman, Winnipeg.

APPROVAL IN PRINCIPLE

B.C. Bank Bill Gets 2nd Senate Reading

OTTAWA (CP) — A private bill to establish the Bank of British Columbia received second reading—approval in principle—in the Senate Tuesday after its sponsor rejected argument that the proposed institution would be unconstitutional.

The bill, sponsored by Senator J. W. de Farris (L—British Columbia) received second reading on division without a recorded vote. Senators—Liberals and Conservatives — who called on division said earlier they would approve second reading only for the purpose of getting a chance to question the sponsors of the bank before a Senate committee.

Main criticism of the bill in the Senate has been that establishment of the bank would put the B.C. Social Credit government in the banking business, an area of federal jurisdiction.

The bank, which is to have a capitalization of $100,000,000, would receive one-quarter of that amount from the B.C. government. Both Liberal and Conservative senators have said this would give Premier Bennett's government effective control of the bank.

WILLING TO APPEAR

Senator Farris said he understands that Premier Bennett is willing to appear before the Senate committee and state his case.

"I think he should come so that some of our senators, with all their ability, will be able to ask him questions and then we will get the acid test," he said.

Referring to statements that it would be unconstitutional for a bank to be controlled in part or in whole by a provincial legislature, he said: "I know of no authority to support that."

The British North America Act gave the provinces exclusive jurisdiction over property and civil rights. The federal Bank Act stated that shares in a bank were personal property.

Senator Farris said this meant that under the BNA Act and the Bank Act a province has exclusive jurisdiction over property, including shares in a bank. A provincial government had as much right as anyone else to buy shares in a bank.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Prices were generally steady to higher on the Winnipeg grain exchange today.

Aggressive buying and active trade appeared in response to the continued lack of moisture in much of the prairie grain belt and the pessimistic tone of crop reports.

Broad demand for flax was based largely on covering orders and some export support.

Feed grain trade was active. There was good demand for barley and trade reports showed shipment of 130,000 bushels of barley from the lakehead to the United States.

The oats trade was mostly domestic with narrow movement of prices.

The rye market was also firm with buying stimulated by unfavorable crop prospects.

Reports of a sale of 500 tons of Canadian rapeseed to Japan also produced an advance in rapeseed prices.

CHICAGO (AP) — Speculators traded cautiously or not at all today in the grain futures market and prices generally were only fractions either way from previous closes most of the time on the board of trade.

Soybeans derived a little speculative support on reports that there hasn't been rain in areas where it is badly needed.

Hedging pressure in wheat slackened sharply and brokers said the moderate revival of export business had encouraged scattered short covering.

VICTORIA, B.C., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 10, 1964—PAGE 21

Arthur Mayse

An American news-writer was complaining the other day about modern man's tendency to pass by on the other side when some fellow human is in trouble. This policy of non-interference, we were told, has now reached the point where witnesses to street violence may not even call the cops.

This is a pretty dismal state of affairs, although the reporter might have added that in some U.S. cities, the law has a cute trick of holding the citizen who alerts it as a material witness. But it doesn't necessarily follow that the Good Samaritan—who, I seem to recall, got in his licks after the robbers had departed—has vanished from our scene.

He exists among us, even though the social climate of our civilization has forced caution upon him.

A family gets burned out. While the victims are still fleeing in night attire (one of those quaint but useful cliches that help us handle news fast) the samaritans are in action. They can't do enough to help.

A fund is launched. People who never even heard of the folks who were required to scurry across the front lawn in pyjama tops or bottoms are quick with a buck.

The stricken family may even find itself better off than it was before the fire.

* * *

Professional students of human behavior, a glum crowd who would probably benefit from a forced sprint in night attire, declare the Good Samaritan's motives suspect.

It isn't kindness or an enlightened sense of responsibility that sets men beating the woods for the lost child, these have insisted. Rather it is the charge which good doing imparts to our ego.

Maybe so. Still what on earth is wrong with feeling we're pretty fine fellows in spite of all? In complex modern life, the times are precious few when man as an individual can be ingenuously pleased with himself. His prevailing color is grey. The IBM robots have filed and classified him. His lifeline traces its course between happiness and unhappiness with scarce a jog.

So, if he has given aid and succor to another needful human, why should not he boost his poor, battered ego with a shot of self-adulation?

Good deeds aplenty are done in this naughty world for no reward other than the satisfaction of helping another upon whom fortune has chosen to scowl.

Sooner or later, the Good Samaritan shows up. Once for me he was a housepainter, may his eavestroughs never blister, who towed my car five miles to the nearest gas station. Turn but a stone, the poet reminds us, and start a wing.

* * *

Even in the big, tough cities, help is by no means always denied.

In the men's washroom of a bistro where the bill is larger than the steaks, a gent there present found himself trapped by a frightfully simple but simply frightful jackpot. His zipper had run off the side and he couldn't get it back.

He worked on it, casually at first, then profanely, then—spurred no doubt by a vision of his table companion waiting in her little mink stole—frantically.

"You won't get anywhere that way," someone said. "Better take 'em off."

This the owner did. Various suggestions were offered and approaches tried. We even greased the zipper with liquid soap. No dice.

But did we strangers leave this other stranger to his predicament? In a pig's eye!

Scouts were dispatched back to their tables. They bent to whisper. Handbags were searched for safety pins. Restored, the casualty emerged, to be checked by vigilant eyes as he strolled with exaggerated nonchalance to his place.

The sparrow falls. But often enough to warrant at least minimum faith in humanity, some Good Samaritan is there to catch it.

Small Cannery Proposed For Visiting Fishermen

A small cannery for visiting anglers may be established at Brentwood.

Central Saanich council Tuesday tabled for further consideration an application for the establishment of a "custom" cannery at Creed's Landing. Applicant is Claude Creed.

Mr. Creed said the cannery would be the first of its kind in B.C., and built in accordance with specifications laid down by the Federal Fisheries Act.

"It would enable foreign sportsmen to have their fish canned at Brentwood and shipped to their homes in the United States," he said.

There are several such small canneries in Washington and Oregon.

He said the cannery would not be a nuisance as all fish heads and tails would be placed in a freezer for later shipment to mink farms.

Mayor Les Hammer of Port Alberni today said victims of the Easter weekend tidal flood in the Albernis would receive an additional 25 per cent depreciated assessed value of their losses Friday.

Last month the disaster committee was able to pay only 75 per cent of assessed losses due to a $250,000 grant from the federal government being below the expected grant.

Foulis Must Stand Trial, Court Rules

Robert A. Foulis of Salt Spring Island will stand trial on seven counts of fraud involving a total of almost a quarter of a million dollars.

Magistrate William Ostler this morning rejected a motion by Foulis' lawyer to quash the charges on the grounds they did not contain sufficient facts to identify the offences of which Foulis is accused.

He remanded Foulis, who is free on bail, to June 19 for election and plea.

The magistrate said the charges "give reasonable information" to the accused of the acts of which he is accused.

PRECEDENTS CITED

Vancouver lawyer A. M. Manson, who is defending Foulis, earlier cited legal precedents in an attempt to show that the information given in the charges was insufficient.

But the magistrate said today that they do provide "adequate particularity" since each specified dates, names, amounts and the type of transaction alleged against Foulis.

Foulis is charged with fraud involving a scheme for the buying and re-selling of liquor. Although the total fraud alleged is $238,000, police said the actual money lost by investors in the scheme is less than $100,000.

Faulty Door Lock Found By Police on Death Car

Jury Rules Woman Died Accidentally

The car from which a young mother tumbled to her death Saturday was unsafe to drive, a police officer testified today.

Police Constable Clifford Hanson said he attended an accident at Quadra and Market Street at about 12:50 a.m. June 6.

There, he found 27-year-old Leona Bolan of 4006 Carey, lying in the roadway with a bad gash on her head.

Her husband said she had fallen out of the car while they were travelling along Quadra.

BADLY WORN

Constable Hanson said he examined the car door and found it to be faulty. He said he had difficulty closing it, even on the safety latch, and the fittings were badly worn and loose.

He said the husband said that he had told his wife to sit close to him and not to sit with her back to the door.

The husband, Jack Bolan, said he and his wife were going home after a night out in town. His wife he said, was sitting with her back to the door, her shoes off and her feet on the seat, "when all of a sudden she fell out."

NEVER BEFORE

He said the door had never opened in this manner before and said his main trouble had been getting it to open.

Dr. Ross McNeeley said that his post mortem showed surgery would have been to no avail because of severe brain injury.

Mrs. Bolan died Monday in Royal Jubilee Hospital.

The jury returned once to say Mrs. Bolan died accidentally due to a faulty door mechanism. But Coroner Edmond Jorre de St. Jorre said the findings were contradictory and he sent the jury back for further consideration.

The final verdict was death by accident.

Bank Holdup Suspect's Wrist Cut

A man accused of bank robbery was found with his wrist cut in the cells of the city police station this morning.

William Clarence Kraft was rushed to Royal Jubilee Hospital where he received five stitches to a superficial wound on his left wrist.

He was later returned to the cell block and was expected to be in Saanich court this afternoon for the continuance of his trial for armed robbery.

(See page 10.)

RAZOR BLADE FOUND

City police said a safety razor blade was found in Kraft's cell. A small slit was also discovered in the waistband of his trousers in which a razor blade could have been hidden.

City Police Chief J. F. Gregory said a constable discovered Kraft's bleeding wrist.

The prisoner was checked at 8 this morning and was all right at that time, the chief said. A constable looked into Kraft's cell three-quarters of an hour later and saw the prisoner still in bed.

DISCOVERED BLEEDING

The officer entered the cell, pulled back the bed clothes and found Kraft lying there bleeding.

City police applied first aid on the spot and then removed Kraft on a stretcher to the police wagon in which he was taken to hospital.

Kraft is a prisoner of Saanich police but has been held in the city cells. He is charged with the armed robbery, along with three other men, of the Bank of Montreal at Cook and Quadra April 24.

Fisherman Hits Spring Bonanza

Deep-sea fisherman Cliff Gissing, 2533 Graham, hit the salmon jackpot this week by landing nearly 2,000 pounds of springs slated for the fancy tables of New York or Europe.

Gissing thinks it was the best catch landed in Victoria area this season, although there have been far bigger ones in past seasons.

The run of spring salmon is below normal and in view of that his catch is a valuable one, worth about $1,600 on the dock, or a fraction under $200 a day for his nine days in the troller Shaula on La Perous Bank.

But in New York the succulent, silver beauties bring 15-20 cents a pound more than here.

This was a "mild cure" catch, the term applied by the trade to fish weighing 12½ pounds or over.

TREATED GENTLY

They are accorded kid glove treatment from the moment they are caught.

"We even kill them before bringing them over the side so they won't flop around in the boat and damage their scales," fisherman Gissing explained.

"Then we dress them, fill the cavity with ice, pack ice around them and between them in layers, all within two hours."

Then, landed at Ogden Point, they are put into deep freeze and readied for shipment to the cosmopolitan cities of the western world.

Shaula—named after the ancient navigator's star—made her haul about 20 miles seaward from Barkley Sound in international fishing grounds.

After a few days' rest, she sails Friday for the Queen Charlottes to try to pick up cohos when the season opens Monday. She will run down the west coast of the island for the following fortnight.

Sergeant Demoted To Corporal

A suspended Victoria police sergeant was reinstated by city police commission today but he was demoted to corporal's rank.

The commission, after a hearing in camera that stretched over several days, found that Thomas Stevenson was properly suspended without pay by Chief J. F. K. Gregory, May 20 after a fellow officer made written charges against him of breaking regulations.

ALLOWED BACK PAY

But the commission decided to allow him back pay for the period, on compassionate grounds.

The commission also said that in deciding to re-instate him, it was taking into account that he has less than seven months to go before retirement, after 35 years service.

EIGHT CHARGES

Ex-mayor Claude Harrison, QC, represented Cpl. Stevenson at the hearings in which he faced eight allegations of misconduct and dereliction of duty.

The charges included sleeping on duty, profanity, failing to enter a charge in the blotter, neglect of duty, failing to search a prisoner properly, failing to set an example, failing to use civil and orderly conduct at all times, failing to enter complaints carefully in the log.

Commission agreed with all the charges after hearing sworn evidence except sleeping on duty and failing to enter complaints carefully. However, it noted that while it accepted his testimony he was not sleeping, he did admit lying down on a bench while on duty.

Fraser Inches Higher

By The Canadian Press

Dike patrols were placed on a 24-hour on-call basis today in most areas of the lower Fraser Valley as continued warm weather pushed the Fraser River inches higher.

William Meighan of the valley diking commission said, however, there is not yet any cause for alarm.

"The situation is well in hand," he said.

A number of families left their homes when the silt-laden river flowed over unprotected land near Agassiz but in other areas the river had not yet wetted dike walls.

At Mission, about 40 miles east of Vancouver, where the dike commission level gauge is located, the Fraser had risen to 21.4 feet today compared with a level of 20.7 feet Tuesday. The danger level is considered to be 23.5 feet.

The 240 miles of dikes in the valley are holding firm in areas where the eroding water is

IWA, Firms Both Okay Woods Pact

Employers and coast woodworkers today announced their acceptance of a conciliation proposal for a new two-year contract.

Of 26,000 lumberworkers, in eight locals, 21,482 voted in a secret ballot counted Tuesday. Sixty per cent favored acceptance.

The count was:

YES—12,889.

NO—8,607.

Announcing the result, IWA regional president Jack Moore said the negotiating committee will now begin discussions with Forest Industrial Relations to draft contract clauses and sign the two-year agreement.

'COSTLY TERMS'

Shortly after the IWA announcement, Forest Industrial Relations Ltd., representing operators in the coast lumber industry, said it accepted the terms of the proposal.

However, president John Billings said the settlement is a costly one.

"In agreeing to further wage rate advances a year hence," he said, "employers are gambling on uncertain market conditions.

"They must hope the demand for products and a continuation of the existing favorable exchange rates will permit them to absorb the second as well as the immediate round of wage increases."

PROPOSALS OUTLINED

The conciliation proposal by officer E. P. Fisher, provides:

● 15 cents per hour increase June 15.

● 13 cents per hours June 15, 1965.

● An additional 15 cents June 15 for tradesmen in 27 classifications except firemen and improvers.

● Weekly sickness and accident indemnity payments worth $50 per week for 39 weeks.

● Payday every second week.

Present basic rate is $2.08 per hour, with $2.64 for tradesmen.

ENDS STRIKE THREAT

Result of the vote ends the fear of a woodworkers' strike following a heated campaign by IWA factions.

Vancouver's 7,000-man local led by Syd Thompson followed his direction and voted rejection "by several hundred," but others about-faced on their leaders' rejection recommendations.

Jack Moore claimed the proposed settlement was the best yet obtained by the IWA, and one that brought parity with the U.S. Pacific Northwest fir belt.

The IWA originally demanded 40 cents an hour increase, plus 30 cents for tradesmen.

Albertans Returning To Flood-Hit Homes

CALGARY (CP)—Nearly 250 Indians today trekked back to their flood-hit homes along the banks of the Belly River in southwestern Alberta.

The Indians, residents of the Blood Reserve at Standoff, were forced to flee Tuesday as the Belly and Waterton Rivers burst their banks under heavy weekend rains and runoff from snow on the eastern slopes of the Rocky Mountains.

Hundreds of other persons at Waterton Lakes National Park and Cardston fled their homes as lakes, rivers and streams spilled water from a six-inch rainfall.

No injuries were reported but damage was expected to exceed $1,000,000—most of it in the summer resort area of the national park townsite.

A colony of Hutterites a few miles north of Standoff was also threatened Tuesday and all 150 residents fled to higher ground.

About 300 sheep and lambs owned by farmers Dale Wood and Keith Olsen were reported drowned.

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP) Montana's floodwaters receded today leaving behind a vast trail of death and destruction.

At least 30 persons were dead, 38 missing and thousands homeless as the massive flood crest moved down the Missouri River over lowland areas past Great Falls, the state's largest city.

As deadly floodwaters inched downward at Great Falls, weather observers expressed concern about conditions on the Missouri 200 miles upstream from Great Falls.

Normally-shallow mountain streams still were running like rivers today on both sides of the Continental Divide, pouring thousands of cubic feet a second into upstream flood control reservoirs.

A big dam at Canyon Ferry near Helena held back the heavy upstream flow to allow downstream crests to recede. Upstream crests are not ex-

TEEN-AGE SEX—A SURVEY

If They 'Had to Marry' Couples Seldom Stay Wed

(Miss Gilroy, a member of the Times staff, is also a registered nurse, and spent six years in this profession before turning to journalism. As a nurse she has practical knowledge of the problem on which she writes.)

By MARGE GILROY

Illegitimate babies—teen-age marriages—divorces—they are all recorded by the Bureau of Statistics.

But it is the increase in the number of "shotgun" weddings, for which there are no official statistics, that have given cause for alarm to many community-minded citizens.

No subject is discussed more by the public than the number of pregnant young girls who "had to get married".

Today the clergy, social workers, laymen and professionals are concerned with trying to prevent teen-age marriages which have little hope of lasting.

Statistics do not show how many girls are pregnant at the altar, but they do show:

● A smaller percentage of teen-agers between the ages of 15 and 19 were married in 1961 than in 1951.

Out of Wedlock

● There were 116 more babies born out of wedlock in British Columbia in the fiscal year 1962-63 than in the previous year, but nine less than the year before.

● Of the total 2,601 illegitimate babies born, 1,254 were born to women between the ages of 20 and 29 and 781 to girls between 15 and 19.

● A home for unmarried mothers in Vancouver reported an increase of 13 per cent in the number of girls cared for last year.

● Provincial health reports point out an increase in the incidence of venereal disease.

On top of this, unofficial reports from the clergy indicate an increase in the number of pregnant girls getting married.

As for divorces, sociologists have shown that the divorce rate decreases in proportion to the ages of the couple at the time of marriage. The marriage of a 19-year-old couple has one and half times more chance of lasting than the marriage of a couple at 17.

Two teen-agers, one who was unmarried and pregnant

U.S. ACHIEVES 'BREAK' IN NUCLEAR POWER

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—President Johnson said today the United States has achieved an economic breakthrough in producing power from large-scale nuclear reactors. He said this knowledge will be shared with the world.

Johnson cited advancements in power reactor technology in addressing commencement exercises at Holy Cross College.

He said the development of the large-scale reactor offers the dramatic prospect of transforming sea water into water suitable for human consumption and industrial use.

FLAG MAY BE CHANGED

Single Leaf Okay by Mike

OTTAWA (CP)—The government was reported today to be ready to accept a single maple leaf in place of the three-leaf cluster for the Canadian flag provided there is majority Commons support.

Well-informed sources said the government does not regard as essential the three-leaf cluster it originally proposed.

The New Democratic Party announced earlier in the day it will propose a single red maple leaf design.

Andrew Brewin, chairman of the NDP caucus and MP for Toronto Greenwood, announced following a meeting of NDP members that the party will take all possible steps to have a single maple leaf, as a symbol of unity, substituted for the three-leaf design presented by Prime Minister Pearson.

A source close to the government said that the three-leaf cluster was included in the proposed Canadian flag design simply because it was part of the official heraldry of Canada.

CHANGE ACCEPTABLE

The source indicated that the government has not taken the position that the matter would involve confidence in the government if a majority of MPs want to alter the design.

Mr. Brewin said the NDP caucus also will urge the government to split the flag resolution so that there may be separate votes on the Canadian flag and on the Union Jack.

U.S. Moves To Prevent Cyprus War

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—The United States moved urgently today to avert the possibility of war between Greece and Turkey over Cyprus.

President Johnson ordered undersecretary of state George W. Ball to cancel plans to return to Washington from Geneva tonight and to go instead to Athens and then Ankara.

The action came as the United Nations reported the eruption of heavy new fighting between feuding Greek and Turkish Cypriots in the Kyrenia Mountains.

Over the weekend Johnson has invited Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu to Washington to discuss the dispute which has brought Turkey and Greece, both members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to the brink of war.

(Inonu did not accept or reject the invitation. He said "if it will be useful for us, then we'll go—but nothing definite has been decided yet." Turkish foreign office sources said it was unlikely Inonu would go unless the United States agreed to discuss a Turkish proposal for a Cyprus federation.)

Goldwater Votes With Southerners

(Times News Services)

WASHINGTON—The U.S. Senate gagged a southern filibuster today in a historic 71-to-29 vote that cleared the way for passage of the strongest civil rights bill in modern U.S. history.

BYRD
. . . spoke all night

The vote to invoke closure, or limitation of debate, came at a tense session which produced the rare spectacle of a full turnout.

All 100 senators were present and voting. Ailing Sen. Clair Engle (D—Calif.) came by ambulance to cast his vote—an aye for closure.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the likely GOP standard bearer against President Lyndon Johnson in November, voted with the southern segregationist bloc against the motion.

Under senate rules, closure required a two-thirds majority of those present and voting—a minimum of 67 votes with every senator on hand as today. The final margin was four votes more than required, a result that surprised even sponsors of the move.

GALLERIES PACKED

Both sides had forecast a very close vote and the galleries were packed as the drama unfolded.

The Southern filibuster against the bill had been under way for 75 days—an all-time record—when the Senate finally decided to invoke its rarely-applied closure rule which limits further debate to one hour per senator.

The vote followed an all-night session at which Senator Robert C. Byrd, West Virginia Democrat, made a marathon speech attacking the bill and urging his colleagues not to shut off the debate.

On the House side of the capitol, Speaker John W. McCormack voiced confidence the Senate will now proceed to pass the bill in a form acceptable to House members who approved their own version weeks ago.

BANS DISCRIMINATION

The bill would force whites to open restaurants, theatres, retail shops and motels to Negroes. In states which force Negroes to pass complicated educational tests before they can register to vote, the bill provides that any person with a sixth-grade education can vote in a federal election.

Strengthening the power of the U.S. attorney-general, the legislation allows him to bring court charges against states or local governments which persist in banning Negroes from parks, playgrounds, swimming pools and libraries. The attorney-

Rail Non-Ops Accept Board Wage Award

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada's non-operating railway unions today accepted a conciliation board's majority report calling for a 19.1 cent-an-hour increase for 100,000 members over a two-year contract.

The 111-member general conference committee—the policy making body of the unions—unanimously accepted the report proposed by Mr. Justice F. Craig Munroe of Vancouver, conciliation board chairman, and union nominee David Lewis.

"We feel the conciliation board recommendations are sufficiently substantial to accept," Frank Hall, chairman of the union's joint negotiating committee, told reporters following the meeting.

The railways have not yet made known their position on the report.

CANADIAN ATTITUDE TO ERHARD VISIT

By DAVE McINTOSH

OTTAWA (CP)—Let's not be beastly to the Germans any longer about sums up the main attitude of the Canadian government in summit talks today between the two countries, informants said. (See story on page 3.)

One source said the talks between West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and Prime Minister Pearson and the two external affairs minister, Gerhard Schroeder and Paul Martin, present a chance for Canada to develop a new atmosphere in relations with Germany.

The source said that the talks in Canada's view have three main themes:

1. The need to create a modern relation between the Canadian and German economies and democratic societies.

2. Development and maintenance of good bilateral relations between the two countries as one means to strengthen the entire Atlantic partnership.

3. Improvement of relations with Russia as a means to achieve German reunification, which Canada supports—as long as it is by peaceful means.

Mr. Pearson expressed understanding and support for West Germany in every peaceful effort to reunite the German people.

He and the chancellor agreed a solution to the German problem would open up a real possibility for improvement in East-West relations.

By DAVE McINTOSH

OTTAWA (CP)—Let's not be beastly to the Germans any longer about sums up the main attitude of the Canadian government in summit talks today between the two countries, informants said. (See story on page 3.)

One source said the talks between West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and Prime Minister Pearson and the two external affairs minister, Gerhard Schroeder and Paul Martin, present a chance for Canada to develop a new atmosphere in relations with Germany.

The source said that the talks in Canada's view have three main themes:

1. The need to create a modern relation between the Canadian and German economies and democratic societies.

2. Development and maintenance of good bilateral relations between the two countries as one means to strengthen the entire Atlantic partnership.

3. Improvement of relations with Russia as a means to achieve German reunification, which Canada supports—as long as it is by peaceful means.

Mr. Pearson expressed understanding and support for West Germany in every peaceful effort to reunite the German people.

He and the chancellor agreed a solution to the German problem would open up a real possibility for improvement in East-West relations.

U.S. ACHIEVES 'BREAK' IN NUCLEAR POWER

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—President Johnson said today the United States has achieved an economic breakthrough in producing power from large-scale nuclear reactors. He said this knowledge will be shared with the world.

Johnson cited advancements in power reactor technology in addressing commencement exercises at Holy Cross College.

He said the development of the large-scale reactor offers the dramatic prospect of transforming sea water into water suitable for human consumption and industrial use.

U.S. RIGHTS BILL

Closure Halts Filibuster

(Times News Services)

WASHINGTON—The U.S. Senate gagged a southern filibuster today in a historic 71-to-29 vote that cleared the way for passage of the strongest civil rights bill in modern U.S. history.

The vote to invoke closure, or limitation of debate, came at a tense session which produced the rare spectacle of a full turnout.

All 100 senators were present and voting. Ailing Sen. Clair Engle (D—Calif.) came by ambulance to cast his vote—an aye for closure.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the likely GOP standard bearer against President Lyndon Johnson in November, voted with the southern segregationist bloc against the motion.

Under senate rules, closure required a two-thirds majority of those present and voting—a minimum of 67 votes with every senator on hand as today. The final margin was four votes more than required, a result that surprised even sponsors of the move.

Both sides had forecast a very close vote and the galleries were packed as the drama unfolded.

The Southern filibuster against the bill had been under way for 75 days—an all-time record—when the Senate finally decided to invoke its rarely-applied closure rule which limits further debate to one hour per senator.

The vote followed an all-night session at which Senator Robert C. Byrd, West Virginia Democrat, made a marathon speech attacking the bill and urging his colleagues not to shut off the debate.

On the House side of the capitol, Speaker John W. McCormack voiced confidence the Senate will now proceed to pass the bill in a form acceptable to House members who approved their own version weeks ago.

BANS DISCRIMINATION

The bill would force whites to open restaurants, theatres, retail shops and motels to Negroes. In states which force Negroes to pass complicated educational tests before they can register to vote, the bill provides that any person with a sixth-grade education can vote in a federal election.

Strengthening the power of the U.S. attorney-general, the legislation allows him to bring court charges against states or local governments which persist in banning Negroes from parks, playgrounds, swimming pools and libraries. The attorney-

Proposed Flag May be Changed

OTTAWA (CP)—The government was reported today to be ready to accept a single maple leaf in place of the three-leaf cluster for the Canadian flag provided there is majority Commons support.

Well-informed sources said the government does not regard as essential the three-leaf cluster it originally proposed.

The New Democratic Party announced earlier in the day it will propose a single red maple leaf design.

OTTAWA (CP) — The flag debate, scheduled to begin Thursday, likely will be delayed in the face of other important legislation, Prime Minister Pearson indicated today.

Andrew Brewin, chairman of the NDP caucus and MP for Toronto Greenwood, announced following a meeting of NDP members that the party will take all possible steps to have a single maple leaf, as a symbol of unity, substituted for the three-leaf design presented by Prime Minister Pearson.

A source close to the government said that the three-leaf cluster was included in the proposed Canadian flag design simply because it was part of the official heraldry of Canada.

CHANGE ACCEPTABLE

The source indicated that the government has not taken the position that the matter would involve confidence in the government if a majority of MPs want to alter the design.

Mr. Brewin said the NDP caucus also will urge the government to split the flag resolution so that there may be separate votes on the Canadian flag and on the Union Jack.

Rail Non-Ops Accept Board Wage Award

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada's non-operating railway unions today accepted a conciliation board's majority report calling for a 19.1 cent-an-hour increase for 100,000 members over a two-year contract.

The 111-member general conference committee—the policy making body of the unions—unanimously accepted the report proposed by Mr. Justice F. Craig Munroe of Vancouver, conciliation board chairman, and union nominee David Lewis.

"We feel the conciliation board recommendations are sufficiently substantial to accept," Frank Hall, chairman of the union's joint negotiating committee, told reporters following the meeting.

The railways have not yet made known their position on the report.

Firms Accept 2-Year Contract

Employers and coast woodworkers today announced their acceptance of a conciliation proposal for a new two-year contract.

Of 26,000 lumberworkers, in eight locals, 21,482 voted in a secret ballot counted Tuesday. Sixty per cent favored acceptance.

The count was:

YES—12,889.

NO—8,607.

Announcing the result, IWA regional president Jack Moore said the negotiating committee will now begin discussions with Forest Industrial Relations to draft contract clauses and sign the two-year agreement.

'COSTLY TERMS'

Shortly after the IWA announcement, Forest Industrial Relations Ltd., representing operators in the coast lumber industry, said it accepted the terms of the proposal.

However, president John Billings said the settlement is a costly one.

"In agreeing to further wage rate advances a year hence," he said, "employers are gambling on uncertain market conditions.

"They must hope the demand for products and a continuation of the existing favorable exchange rates will permit them to absorb the second as well as the immediate round of wage increases."

PROPOSALS OUTLINED

The conciliation proposal by officer E. P. Fisher, provides:

- 15 cents per hour increase June 15.
- 13 cents per hours June 15, 1965.
- An additional 15 cents June 15 for tradesmen in 27 classifications except firemen and improvers.
- Weekly sickness and accident indemnity payments worth $50 per week for 39 weeks.
- Payday every second week.

Present basic rate is $2.08 per hour, with $2.64 for tradesmen.

ENDS STRIKE THREAT

Result of the vote ends the fear of a woodworkers' strike following a heated campaign by IWA factions.

Vancouver's 7,000-man local led by Syd Thompson followed his direction and voted rejection "by several hundred," but others about-faced on their leaders' rejection recommendations.

Jack Moore claimed the proposed settlement was the best yet obtained by the IWA, and one that brought parity with the U.S. Pacific Northwest fir belt.

The IWA originally demanded 40 cents an hour increase, plus 30 cents for tradesmen.

INDIANS DROP PGE PICKETS

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Squamish Indian band have agreed to withdraw their two-day picket line from the Pacific Great Eastern Railway in North Vancouver.

The band was protesting the CNR unloading material along the right-of-way the Indians sold to the PGE in 1912. (See story Page 15.)

Fraser Inches Higher

By The Canadian Press

Dike patrols were placed on a 24-hour on-call basis today in most areas of the lower Fraser Valley as continued warm weather pushed the Fraser River inches higher.

William Meighan of the valley diking commission said, however, there is not yet any cause for alarm.

"The situation is well in hand," he said.

A number of families left their homes when the silt-laden river flowed over unprotected land near Agassiz but in other areas the river had not yet wetted dike walls.

At Mission, about 40 miles east of Vancouver, where the dike commission level gauge is located, the Fraser had risen to 21.4 feet today compared with a level of 20.7 feet Tuesday. The danger level is considered to be 23.5 feet.

The 240 miles of dikes in the valley are holding firm in areas where the eroding water is

TEEN-AGE SEX—A SURVEY

If They 'Had to Marry' Couples Seldom Stay Wed

(Miss Gilroy, a member of the Times staff, is also a registered nurse, and spent six years in this profession before turning to journalism. As a nurse she has practical knowledge of the problem on which she writes.)

By MARGE GILROY

Illegitimate babies—teen-age marriages—divorces—they are all recorded by the Bureau of Statistics.

But it is the increase in the number of "shotgun" weddings, for which there are no official statistics, that have given cause for alarm to many community-minded citizens.

No subject is discussed more by the public than the number of pregnant young girls who "had to get married".

Today the clergy, social workers, laymen and professionals are concerned with trying to prevent teen-age marriages which have little hope of lasting.

Statistics do not show how many girls are pregnant at the altar, but they do show:

- A smaller percentage of teen-agers between the ages of 15 and 19 were married in 1961 than in 1951.

Out of Wedlock

- There were 116 more babies born out of wedlock in British Columbia in the fiscal year 1962-63 than in the previous year, but nine less than the year before.
- Of the total 2,601 illegitimate babies born, 1,254 were born to women between the ages of 20 and 29 and 781 to girls between 15 and 19.
- A home for unmarried mothers in Vancouver reported an increase of 13 per cent in the number of girls cared for last year.
- Provincial health reports point out an increase in the incidence of venereal disease.

On top of this, unofficial reports from the clergy indicate an increase in the number of pregnant girls getting married.

As for divorces, sociologists have shown that the divorce rate decreases in proportion to the ages of the couple at the time of marriage. The marriage of a 19-year-old couple has one and half times more chance of lasting than the marriage of a couple at 17.

U.S. Moves To Prevent Cyprus War

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—The United States moved urgently today to avert the possibility of war between Greece and Turkey over Cyprus.

President Johnson ordered undersecretary of state George W. Ball to cancel plans to return to Washington from Geneva tonight and to go instead to Athens and then Ankara.

The action came as the United Nations reported the eruption of heavy new fighting between feuding Greek and Turkish Cypriots in the Kyrenia Mountains.

Over the weekend Johnson has invited Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu to Washington to discuss the dispute which has brought Turkey and Greece, both members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to the brink of war.

(Inonu did not accept or reject the invitation. He said "if it will be useful for us, then we'll go—but nothing definite has been decided yet." Turkish foreign office sources said it was unlikely Inonu would go unless the United States agreed to discuss a Turkish proposal for a Cyprus federation.)

NEW ROAD SINKS SUBSIDY

Bamfield Ferry Service May End

PORT ALBERNI — This port may lose the service of the ferry Mv. Lady Rose operating between Port Alberni and the fishing village of Bamfield on Barkley Sound.

Chamber of Commerce president Mrs. Edna Souther told a meeting Tuesday that Alberni Marine Transportation is losing is government subsidy for the ferry on the run to Bamfield because of the newly opened road to Bamfield.

"This may cause the loss of the ship," she said. "The ferry service was a major tourist attraction."

But Harry Braf, a chamber member, felt few people will use the Bamfield road in its present state.

He said he travelled the road to Bamfield last Saturday—and its condition has deteriorated.

"I wouldn't want to travel it for $100 a trip," he said.

Protests Block Indian Centre At Pt. Alberni

PORT ALBERNI — City council is having difficulty finding a location for an Indian Friendship Centre.

An attempt by council to rezone a lot on Kingsway to permit construction of the centre failed Monday.

A large group of residents opposed the rezoning bylaw on the grounds the location would not be in their interests or the Indians.

PROTESTS, PROTESTS

Mayor Les Hammer, who spurred the idea of a Friendship Centre, said he has met with "nothing but protests" as to location for the centre.

"Everyone agrees that one should be built, but we hear nothing but protests when we try to find a location," he said.

He said a site opposite RCMP detachment headquarters here, also brought protests from residents.

He was met high above Canada-U.S. border by two American interceptors and escorted to Paine. Transfer will enable crews to go ahead with runway construction at Comox.

Scolds Mothers

PORT ALBERNI — Ald. Howard McLean has criticized 800 mothers for signing a petition which claims existence of "deplorable, over-crowded conditions and a shortage of nursing staff" as West Coast General Hospital here.

Ald. McLean told council Monday night that "such charges aired in public will not help the situation."

"We have always had a balanced budget at the hospital," he said. "Now people tell us if you balance the budget you don't do the job."

A spokesman for the mothers said the petitioners were alarmed over the lack of space available at the hospital, particularly in the children's ward.

New construction is not necessary, she said, but steps should be taken to open the currently unused fourth floor of the hospital.
